GOV. M'CRAY CONVICTED

Jury Is Out Only 15 Minutes

Executive is Found Guilty of Using Mails in Fraud Scheme to Await Sentence Today After Scathing Attack by Judge

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

INDIANAPOLIS, April 28.—Warren T. McCray, found guilty late today of using the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud by a jury in Federal Court after less than fifteen minutes' deliberation, was placed in the Marion County Jail here tonight to await sentence at 9 a.m. Wednesday by United States District Judge A. B. Anderson.

"I am sorry," repeated time and again, was the only comment of the Governor as he left the courtroom, accompanied by United States Marshal Meredith.

Unless McCray tenders his resignation as Governor of Indiana, he will continue in office until impeachment proceedings are brought against him in the General Assembly of Indiana.

APPEAL UNDECIDED

Whether an appeal would be taken of the case had not been decided definitely tonight.

The trial moved speedily to a close this afternoon. Gov. McCray, the only witness for the defense, left the witness stand at 3 p.m. The government used one witness, Kiser, Indianapolis banker, in rebuttal.

The case was given to the jury at 4:10 p.m. Fifteen minutes later the verdict was read in court.

In denying bond to the Governor and ordering him taken to jail, Judge Anderson declared he "had never seen so many felonies committed by one individual."

CITES FELONIES

"Here is a man," continued Judge Anderson, "who devised a scheme to defraud and carried it on almost entirely by use of the mails. He has testified he wrote the letters and if so, he is guilty of violating the statutes 2500 times. He is guilty of forging hundreds of fraudulent notes. He is guilty of obtaining money under false pretenses. He has violated not only the written laws, but the laws of his own conscience as well. I shall order him to jail."

Thomas Hamilton, superintendent of the Gary Street Railway Company, foreman of the jury, read the verdict. Judge Anderson said:

"No honest man you could come to any other verdict. There is no doubt in my mind as to whether or not to order the defendant to jail."

Time Sought for Negotiations

President Said to Have Plan to Bar Japanese Without Causing Offense

Numerous Conferences Over Alternatives Conducted at White House

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Coolidge is continuing his conference with members of Congress in an effort to find some way to smooth out the international difficulties presented by the Asiatic exclusion provisions of the immigration bill.

One of the plans under consideration by the President is understood to be a proposal to postpone the effective date of the Japanese exclusion provision with the intent of working out in diplomatic exchanges some arrangement which would satisfy the majority sentiment in Congress and at the same time be acceptable to Japan.

Indications today, however, were that a postponement proposal would have hard sledding at least in the conference committee which is adjusting the differences between the two houses of Congress. What other plans are under consideration has not been disclosed but it is known that alternatives are being examined.

Immigration conferences today at the White House brought Chairman Johnson of the House committee, Chairman Lodge of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Secretary Hughes and Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, head of the Senate conferees, to the executive offices. Later, after Senator Reed had conferred with party leaders in the Senate he returned to the White House for further consultation.

DETAILS WITHHELD

Both at the White House and the Capitol details of the President's position were held in strictest confidence. Members of the conference committee were bound to secrecy before a meeting they held today adjourned after a session which lasted scarcely an hour. It was stated, however, that the Japanese question was not taken up.

The opinion was unanimous among parliamentarians that the conferees were without authority to alter the exclusion section itself and that any attempt to do so could be blocked on the floor of either house by a point of order. An amendment by the Senate, providing that this section become operative immediately on passage of the act, was seen by some observers, however, as offering a "point

GOAT-GLAND DEATH TALE IS DOUBTED

Coroner to Investigate Further Story of Fatal Injection

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN RAFAEL, April 28.—Further investigation into the death of John E. Merton, said to have died from self-administration of a goat secretion, was ordered tonight by Coroner J. Ray Keaton, following an autopsy.

The stomach of the dead man was turned over to Dr. J. H. Kuser for chemical analysis. Evidence that Merton and his associates were drinking on the day of the goat sacrifice led the Coroner to believe that alcoholism might have been the cause of death, the officials said.

The story of the injection of the goat glands was told by Merton before he died to Dr. R. G. Duffey of San Rafael.

According to Merton's account, he and a brother, his stepfather, John Waldo, and a step-brother, James Stephenson, all residents of El Verano, on Easter Sunday sacrificed a goat, quartered a glandular secretion they obtained from it and injected the secretion into their own abdomens, endeavoring to follow a method of which they had read.

Merton, who already had consulted a physician because, as he said, he felt "jumpy," went to a hospital at Ross yesterday, where, it is said, he was found to be blind. He died this morning. At an autopsy set for late today Coroner J. R. Keaton said he would seek to determine the cause of the death.

Unexpected Oil Strike Is Made in New Mexico

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FARMINGTON (N. M.) April 28.—The Midwest Refining Company, drilling well No. 8 on Hogback Dome, struck oil unexpectedly Saturday, according to reports reaching town today. Oil has heretofore been encountered on the Hogback Dome by passing through a dry sand and, below this, shale.

The dry sand was encountered in this well as usual and at about the same depth. The drill was moved down carefully, the drillers expecting to encounter the shale on which the casing would be set, when suddenly they found the oil.

Drillers have moved up a mud pump and are trying to shut off the oil by pumping in mud. If this is successful they will set the casing and again drill in the well and make a test of the flow.

A water line is being laid to the site of well No. 3 on the Rattlesnake structure and the Standard rig of the Producers' and Refiners' Corporation will be moved in at once.

ANOTHER SENATE QUIZ

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Public investigation of the Texas Senatorial election of November, 1922, will be started May 5 by the Senate elections subcommittee, under a decision reached today after preliminary arguments had been made by counsel for Senator Mayfield, Democrat, Texas, and George E. B. Peddy, the contestant.

FRANCO-BELGIAN UNITY ON REPARATIONS IS REACHED

Dawes Plan Given Great Impetus; MacDonald in Ringing Plea for Idea Asks Help of Paris

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PARIS, April 28.—France and Belgium today reached a complete accord on the course to be taken by the two governments a stheir part in putting the reparation experts' recommendations into effect. The conference developed into a highly important consultation on the whole subject of the pledges to be demanded of Germany and the conditions under which the Ruhr may be evacuated when the experts' plan goes into effect.

The next stride in the move to a general settlement will be taken next Friday when Premier Theunis and M. Hymans will go to London to confer with Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain.

The exchange of views preliminary to the general conference are expected to continue until a common meeting is arranged, probably after the French elections.

AGREEMENT SEEN

The French government, it is understood, will communicate the results of today's conference to Mr. Macdonald through the Count de Saint Aulaire, French ambassor to Great Britain, so that discussions may go on between London and Paris, pending the visit of the Belgians to Chequers Court.

When the conference broke up shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon, M. Hymans expressed the sentiment that showed itself in the countenances of all those who had participated:

"Everything is going well toward a full agreement on the reparation question."

M. Barthou, president of the Reparation commission when questioned, replied:

"Look at the smile on Marshal Foch's face and you can guess it all."

SEEK QUICK TRIAL OF PLAN

American Experts on Arrival in New York Declare Speed is Vital if Europe is to be Saved

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Charles G. Dawes of Chicago, Owen D. Young of New York, and Henry M. Robinson of Los Angeles, authors of the Reparations Commissiop's latest plan for the restabilization of Europe, arrived on the Leviathan today, convinced that early adoption of their program is imperative.

Mr. Dawes and Mr. Robinson declined to discuss any subject which bore, however remotely, on the reparations plan.

Mr. Young declared the plan will be "a very large issue" in the impending German and French elections, but hesitated to discuss the prospect that the plan may fail of general adoption.

BERLIN IN DILEMMA

"It is hard to know what might be the alternative to adoption," he said. He likened the situation to one that arose during the sale of a cow from his dairy farm upstate. The prospective purchaser — a farmer neighbor—wanted the cow but hesitated at the price.

"She's most too dear to take and most too dear to leave," was the way he expressed the dilemma. That, said Mr. Young, illustrates Germany's position with regard to the plan.

But the plan's solution, if accepted at all, must be accepted quickly, he declared, because economic conditions change so rapidly in Europe that the grounds upon which the plan was constructed are constantly shifting.

"Suppose that while acceptance was delayed the renten mark should break. Germany would go into chaos and our plan would be valueless. Acceptance of the plan and flotation of the loan would assure the stability of the renten mark and a corresponding stability of all European financial and economic life."

To the reported criticism from France that the Dawes plan failed to provide guarantees for its fulfillment, or punitive measures for its abrogation, Mr. Young said those who adopted the plan would be bound by "an interest which would lead to common action which would be just as effective, in case of a default, as punitive measures framed in advance."

As to the German objection to French occupation of her coal and iron district:

BESIDE QUESTION

"I know of no reason," said Mr. Young, "why a garrison of French soldiers in the Ruhr, if it doesn't interfere with economic facilities should be anymore harmful than a garrison of native soldiers—providing they stick to their soldiering."

Mr. Young understood that the committee had been criticised for not having determined the total amount Germany would be willing to pay. But that, he said, was beside the question. In determining a fixed annual charge upon the government toward reparations, the way had been opened for Germany to rebuild her business and demonstrate what she could pay and—directly—to increase her exports, upon which, said Mr. Young, would depend the later settlement of the question of inter-Allied debt payments.

Mr. Dawes took occasion to announce, referring to reports that he was mentioned as a possible candidate for the Republican nomination for Vice-President:

"I'm not in politics and I'm not going to get in."

PRESIDENT NAILS LIE

Explodes Story of Ford Deal

Coolidge Reiterates Stand on Muscle Shoals Stated in Annual Message

Says Question of Disposal of Project Must be Decided on Its Merits Only

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—A telegram quoting President Coolidge as saying he was "trying to deliver" Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford was introduced at today's Muscle Shoals hearing of the Senate Agricultural Committee, and soon afterward a flat denial that the President had made any such statement, was made at the White House.

The message was sent from Washington on October 12, 1923, by James Martin Miller, former Washington newspaper correspondent, and was addressed to "William J. Cameron or Ernest Liebold" care Deaborn Independent, Dearborn, Mich. It follows:

"In private interview had with President Coolidge this morning he said incidentally: 'I am friendly to Mr. Ford, but wish someone would convey to him that it is my hope that Mr. Ford will not do or say anything that will make it difficult for me to deliver Muscle Shoals to him which I am trying to do.'"

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT

President Coolidge's statement said:

"My position on Muscle Shoals is fully stated in my message to the Congress delivered December 6, where I said:

"'The government is undertaking to develop a great water power project known as Muscle Shoals, on which it has expended many millions of dollars. The work is still going on. Subject to the right to retake in time of war, I recommend that this property, with a location for auxiliary steam plant and rights of way, be sold. This would end the present burden and expense and should return to the Treasury the largest price possible to secure.

"'While the price is an important element, there is another consideration even more compelling. The agriculture of the nation needs a greater supply and lower cost of fertilizer. This is now imported in large quantities. The best information I can secure indicates that present methods of power production would not be able profitably to meet the price at whcih these imports can be sold. To obtain a supply from this waterpower would require long and costly experimentation to perfect a process for cheap production. Otherwise our purpose would fail completely.

ADEQUATE GUARANTEE

"'It seems desirable, therefore, in order to protect and promote the public welfare, to have adequate covenants that such experimentation be made and carried on to success. The great advantage of low-priced nitrates must be secured for the direct benefit of the farmers and the indirect benefit of the public in time of peace, and of the government in time of war. If this main object be accomplished the amount of money received for the property is not a primary or major consideration.

"'Such a solution will involve complicated negotiations, and there is no authority for that purpose. I, therefore, recommend that the Congress appoint a small joint committee to consider offers, conduct negotiations and report definite recommendations.'

"From the position of this message I have never departed. I have never said I was trying to deliver Muscle Shoals to Mr. Ford or to anyone else. I do not think his favor is for sale. I wanted him to have his proposal fairly considered, just as I wanted any other proposals fairly considered. My mind was made up when Mr. Ford called on me on December 3, and at that time my message was already written, printed and had been sent to the press for five days. My message went out November 28, five days before Mr. Ford came to see me. I expected there would be other bids and wanted all of them considered on their merits.

DECIDE ON MERITS

"This question ought to be decided on its merits. I have no other method of dealing with it. The Congress should have none."

An executive of the Dearborn Independent, Ford's weekly newspaper, issued a statement in Detroit declaring Miller had "never been on any Ford pay rolls and never was authorized to act as Mr. Ford's agent in any matter."

Secretary Weeks was on the stand when the telegram was read to the Senate committee by Chairman Norris.

Secretary Weeks said, "I don't believe that the President at that time or any other time stated that

HOPE FADES FOR 114 MEN TRAPPED IN MINE BLAST

Fourteen Bodies Found by Rescue Crews in Frantic Search of Ruins After Explosion

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WHEELING (W. Va.) April 28.—Fourteen bodies had been recovered tonight from the Benwood mine of the Wheeling Steel Corporation where 114 miners were entombd today by an explosion. Eleven of the bodies were found by rescue workers in the Browns Run airshaft, while the other three were located in the main passageway.

One of the dead miners was identified as George Holliday, Jr., son of the superintendent of the mine. Supt. Holliday declared that a check disclosed 114 miners were in the mine when the explosion occurred. One hundred remain unaccounted for, and hope that any may be found alive has been practically abandoned.

I. M. Scott, president of the Wheeling Steel Corporation, declared that while the mine was an old working, no evidence of gas had been found until two months ago. A small explosion occurred then, he said, but an airshaft was sunk immediately and work had progressed without difficulty for sixty days. Mr. Scott was unable to assign any cause for the explosion.

SLIGHT HOPE REMAINS

If any of the entombed miners escaped being killed outright and had time to barricade themselves in rooms filled with fresh air, some of the trapped miners may be found alive, officials of the mine rescue car Holmes declared. Upon that possibility rescue crews in short shifts worked frantically throughout the day and night, but had not reached the scene of the explosion tonight.

One of the victims, whose body has been identified, was that of J. T. Poyle, the fire boss. His bulletin board at the mouth of the mine indicated he had inspected the mine and pronounced it safe before the daylight shift went to work.

The explosion occurred a short time after the day shift entered the mine.

A temporary morgue has been established at the mouth of the mine at Benwood to care for the bodies when they are brought to the surface. Physicians and nurses stand ready to render assistance to any who are alive.

DAY OF TRAGEDY

It was a tragic day for Benwood, and the surrounding mining region.

The day force had been in the mine only fifteen minutes when those on the surface were startled by a violent quake and a distant rumble. All knew what had happened, and men, women and children, taking no heed of a drizzling rain, dashed to the mine mouth.

They found the entry blocked by a cave-in and through this mass of rock and earth drifted smoke and gases.

The man power of the region was massed at the mine while awaiting the arrival of the mine rescue car. Volunteer crews dug frantically at the blocked entries, while others rushed to the air shafts, through which the first rescuers were let down.

Most of the bodies recovered were found two and one-half miles from the mouth of the mine. Two miners had been cut off when they were within a few hundred feet of the mouth. They died before their rescuers reached the open air.

FLAMES IN TAFT TANKS SPREADING

Bakersfield Sends Aid as Fire Perils Reservoirs of General Petroleum

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BAKERSFIELD, April 28.—Following an explosion caused by an acetylene torch igniting gases at the General Petroleum Company's oil plant at Taft today, fire is sweeping the mammoth tanks of the company and a call for assistance has been sent to this city. All men available are being hurried to the scene to fight the flames which are reported as spreading rapidly.

Tanks containing fuel valued at $300,000 are in flames and three tanks each containing 140,000 barrels of oil are directly in the path of the flames.

Later explosions tonight have spread burning oil in all directions and men endeavoring to throw up levees to prevent the spread of the burning fluid are working under great difficulties.

CALIFORNIA DEATH RATE DATA GIVEN

Vital Figures for 1923 Shows Unusually High Ratio Per Thousand

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, April 28.—While the average Californian may expect to live to the age of 54½ years, according to State tables for last year, this is essentially a young man's State. According to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics the average age of persons in California at the close of 1923 was slightly in excess of 30 years.

Excepting 1918 when there was an epidemic of influenza, the death rate in 1923 was the highest ever recorded in California.

During the twelve months 54,416 inhabitants of the State died, or 14.3 per 1000. No explanation for the unusually high rate last year was given by the bureau.

LAST TRIBUTE PAID MURPHY

Thousands Attend Funeral of Tammany Chieftain; Impressive Hush Major Note

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, April 28.—One hundred thousand persons, high and low, rich and poor, today paid their final tribute of respect to Charles F. Murphy, for two decades chieftain of Tammany Hall. Not in many years has the metropolis witnessed a funeral of such magnitude. The impressive silence of the throng was a dominant note.

Early in the morning such a crowd had gathered in front of his modest old-fashioned home in East Seventeenth street that a hundred policemen were necessary. For hours there was a steady stream of men, women and children—the majority from the Lower East Side—into the parlor where the body lay. Laborers, with lunch boxes under their arms, shopgirls, silk-hatted dignitaries and women in costly gowns knelt for a moment of silent prayer before the coffin.

PEOPLE PACK STREETS

When the body was taken to stately St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth avenue the cortege passed through streets packed with people, with heads bared.

More than 8000 persons were in the cathedral, where Bishop John J. Dunn celebrated the impressive solemn high mass of requiem. Outside the edifice were 5000 persons.

When the services were concluded and the cortege started for Calvary Cemetery in Queens, where burial was made, fully 50,000 persons were packed along Fifth avenue. A thousand blue-boats lined the route to the cemetery.

The widow, who for two days had been in bed prostrated, bore the ordeal bravely. Several times her feet faltered, but relatives assisted her.

NOTABLES AT SERVICES

Gov. Alfred E. Smith, an old-time friend of the dead leader, headed the honorary pallbearers. The Governor plainly showed his grief. He was flanked by Mayor John F. Hylan.

Among others who attended the services were Joseph P. Tumulty, former secretary to Woodrow Wilson; United States Senator Harrison of Mississippi; Edward Hurley, former head of the Shipping Board; George F. Mara, vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee; John R. Voorhis, 94 years of age, grand sachem of Tammany; State Senator James J. Walker, John W. Davis, former Ambassador to Great Britain; members of the Democratic executive committees from all the boroughs; a delegation of the National Democratic Club, members of the Knights of Columbus and the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

INDICT CHEMIST FOR GERM PLOT

Jurors Charge Attempt to Kill by Disease

Bought Cultures Under False Name, Say Witnesses

Vial of Bacilli Seized at White Plains Home

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, April 28.—After listening to astounding allegations of how, for more than three months, Clarence O. Baring, wealthy White Plains chemist, put arsenic and contagious disease germs in the food of his wife, the Westchester county grand jury sitting in White Plains today indicted Baring on three counts—attempted murder, first degree; poisoning food intended for his wife, and technical assault. There was a separate indictment for each count.

When the grand jury adjourned for lunch witnesses who had appeared before it pieced together details of the astounding tale which had been told. The story begins back in early January and continues until about two weeks ago. Through it all Baring was asserted to have been active in an endeavor to poison his wife. It was testified before the grand jury that Baring had obtained vials of typhoid, pneumonia and diphtheria germs at the Willard Parker Hospital in New York, using the assumed name of "C. Barnes."

NAME ASSUMED

The defendant's wife was among the witnesses who appeared before the grand jury this morning. Others included Miss Lucille Hummell, a trained nurse who attended Mrs. Baring, and Miss Alice Mann, an analyst for the State Health Department assigned to the Willard Parker Hospital.

State police seized a vial at the Baring home, when they arrested Baring, on the label of which was written "C. Barnes." The hospital records show that "Barnes" has been obtaining the germs since November 16 and that he was vouched for there by a laboratory director at Columbia University.

TERMED NEUROTIC

Friends of Baring have ridiculed the idea that he wanted to get rid of his wife for her money or for a younger woman, as has been reported. They say he loved his wife deeply. Mrs. Baring's suspicions are said by them to have led, two years ago, to a breach between the Barings which was healed later and sealed with a "second honeymoon" trip to Europe.

Both Baring and his wife are said to be in a neurotic condition. Mrs. Baring, friends of the couple asserted, created the impression a few weeks ago that she is to become a mother. That was denied today. Despite this, Baring, pacing his cell early today, frequently asked: "Has the baby come yet?"

Picture School Men Free; Case to be Revived

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, April 28.—Charges of operating a confidence game made against L. F. Callahan and William Bauer, officials of the Popular Motion Pictures Production Company were dismissed by the State today, upon recommendation of the court. The defendants had previously pleaded guilty.

They were not sentenced after pleading guilty, because the judge before whom they entered pleas received a letter to the effect that Callahan had said the case was "fixed." The judge said he would transfer the case to another court rather than have it said he was unfair.

The State charged that the company had taken money from students who wished to learn how to act in films and had given no returns. The defense produced forty witnesses, mostly students, today, who said they were satisfied with the results they obtained from the company.

M'ADOO HOPS TO THICK OF FIGHT

Presidential Aspirant to be Leader of Battle

And if He's Not Nominated, He'll Decide Who Is

Hearst "Uninstructed" Plea Arouses Suspicion

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—William G. McAdoo is coming to New York from his Los Angeles home and will take personal charge of his own fight for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency. In spite of all the pressure against such an unheard-of program, McAdoo has told all his managers that he will take personal charge of the fight when the national gathering of Democrats is called at Madison Square Garden on June 4 and that he intends to inject enough energy and fight spirit into his forces to gain the coveted nomination.

He has told his followers that his boom was killed once by the revelations of the Doheny retainer of McAdoo and that he only kept in the race by taking personal charge and as a result has had a rejuvenation with many new delegates added to his forces.

FORCES IN LINE

McAdoo further has confided to his close friends and advisers that even if he fails to win the nomination he will be on hand in person to keep all his forces lined up to make the best political deal possible and determine in large part who shall be named. He says that it would be impossible to align his forces and vote them for an agreed candidate in a block if he were clear across the continent or out of touch with his leaders and advisers.

He has told his intimates that he believes by these methods that he can get the nomination and if this is impossible he can at least be the biggest man in the party and collect as a great political asset the credit for naming the candidate who finally is chosen to lead the hosts of Democracy.

Mr. McAdoo has taken a reservation for his own quarters and for his assistants which will insure plenty of help at the critical time and has made all preparations for a fight to the finish.

HEARST'S HAND SEEN

Underneath the apparent struggle between McAdoo and Al Smith there come to Washington statements that William Randolph Hearst has been secretly gunning for uninstructed delegates in every State in the Union and that he has spent thousands of dollars to be in a position in the convention to take the uninstructed delegates as a flying wedge after the deadlock and gather enough momentum to secure the nomination.

Washington has been wondering all along why there were so many uninstructed Democratic delegates and this much-circulated and well-authenticated statement is now taken as the real reason for so many unpledged and uninstructed delegates to the New York gathering.

Ex-Cabinet Members Went to War Bureau for Clients, Says Secretary

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Three former Cabinet members and four former Senators, all Democrats, were listed by Secretary Weeks in a report to the Senate today as having appeared either in person or through their law firms in cases before the War Department within two years after their retirement from office and since January 1, 1918.

The Cabinet members named were William G. McAdoo, A. Mitchell Palmer and Thomas W. Gregory, and the Senators were J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois; Hoke Smith of Georgia; Christie Benet of South Carolina, and Willard Saulsbury of Delaware.

The secretary also listed the following former members of the House:

WANDA STOPA'S TRAGIC STORY

Schoolmate Tells of Fight for Education

Inherited Temperament is Seen as Downfall

Funeral of Girl Slayer and Suicide Today

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, April 28.—Because she was so young, heart-hungry and so lonely, Wanda Stopa, slayer of another and herself, drifted into a mode of life whose havoc neither temperament nor will could withstand.

This is the entire solution of the double tragic affairs given by Marie O. Andresen, an assistant State's Attorney who was a student in law school with Wanda.

"She was brimming over with life and gayety," said Miss Andresen. "She was misunderstood, misjudged. Because of the small wages paid by lawyers for the class of work that Wanda performed she often went hungry and her clothes were shabby. The reason she sought company in Bohemia was because she had an artistic temperament inherited from her father, a noted sculptor who died while Wanda was a child.

EASY PREY TO DRUGS

"Wanda loved beauty, good books, painting and sculpture. She desired to forget her heart-breaking struggles to gain an education. This made her an easy prey to the drug habit."

While the relatives of Wanda were grieving today over her body in the darkened little home in Augusta street, relatives of another girl in Detroit were making charges against "Count Vladislaw Glascow," who married Wanda in Detroit three years ago. According to the records in the Michigan city a "Theodore G. Glascow" married Edna M. Turner in Detroit, January 2, 1924. Edna had a $5000 estate, her relatives say, but now is working for her living in Chicago. Glascow won the Detroit girl with his good looks and his claims to nobility. Immediately after the marriage he persuaded her to dismiss her sister and brother-in-law as guardians so he could get control of her estate. The Detroit people say the Glascow who married Edna and dissipated her estate is identical with the undivorced husband of Wanda. If it is the same person he is guilty of bigamy, but no warrant has yet been issued for his arrest on this charge.

BURIAL TODAY

Wanda's body will be buried at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. There will be no church service, nor will a priest attend, since she took her own life. A minister of a Bohemian or Polish church will conduct simple services at the home of her mother and burial will be in the Bohemian National Cemetery.

Guards were posted around the house today at the request of the family to prevent the entrance of the habitues of "Bohemia," the people who "understood" Wanda, from entering or having any part in the funeral.

The room in which the body of Wanda lies is filled with flowers sent in by friends of the brilliant girl. There were no offerings from either Y. Kenley Smith or Ted Glascow, husband of the girl. Relatives said none would be accepted if they should be sent.

The body of Henry Manning, the aged caretaker whom Wanda killed, was cremated at Oakwood Cemetery today, Kenley Smith paying the expenses. Efforts to get in touch with Manning's relatives in Massachusetts, whom he deserted seventeen years ago, were unavailing.

Capital Invaded as Peace Nears in Latin Revolt

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Honduras revolutionists fought their way today into Tegucigalpa, the capital, just as the State Department has been advised that the last of the Central American republics had accepted the invitation to participate in a five-power mediation conference at Amapala designed to restore order and to bring about a constitutional government.

Nothing tonight at the department indicated whether occupation of the capital by the combined revolutionary forces which have held it under siege for more than a month would change materially the conference situation. It appeared possible that the development might insure a cessation of hostilities.

Officials here expect no new danger to American lives or interests.

PROGRESS OF FRUIT MARKETING OUTLINED

GROWER'S ASSOCIATION ELECTS EARLY OF REDLANDS VICE-PRESIDENT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, April 28.—Progress in co-operative marketing of fruit and vegetables in thirty-nine States was outlined today in the annual report of the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers for 1923, the first year of its operation.

Citing a volume of 33,510 cars of produce from thirty-nine States marketed in seventy-seven cities and towns, the report, which is indorsed by the American Farm Bureau Federation, also points to an indicated increase in tonnage for 1924 of approximately 30 per cent.

H. W. Jeffers, president of the Garden State Potato Exchange, New Jersey, was elected president.

C. P. Early, general manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors, Redlands, Cal., was elected first vice-president. The experience of the first year has "shown conclusively the wisdom of associating commodity groups in a unified sales organization," the report said. The sales volume was divided into 30 per cent potatoes, 28 per cent apples, 25 per cent deciduous fruits, and 17 per cent other fruits and vegetables.

MAY POSTPONE EXCLUSION ACT

of departure" to the conferees. This amendment is not contained in any form in the bill passed by the House and in reaching an agreement, it was suggested, the conferees might find it necessary to postpone materially the effective date of the exclusion provision, thus providing on interval in which the State Department might perfect an understanding or agreement with Japan regarding exclusion.

SHORTRIDGE MILITANT

Senator Reed refused to state today whether the President had requested action along this line or, in fact, in any specific way. That a conference report looking to delay in enforcement of exclusion would be opposed was stated flatly by Senator Shortridge, Republican, California, one of the most active workers for the provision.

Declaring he would raise a point of order against any report which encompassed provisions already agreed upon, Senator Shortridge said the exclusion section was definitely outside the scope of the conference. His view was supported by a majority of the conferees, according to an individual poll of them today.

"This is a Democratic question," the California Senator contended, "and as such under the Constitution is to be handled by Congress. It has been disposed of by that agency and its handling cannot be delegated now to the treaty-making power of the government, as some seem to desire."

URGES APPROVAL

Senator Shortridge in a letter to President Coolidge today urged that the bill be signed in its present form as carrying a great benefit to the American people. The measure proposed the enactment of an immigration law, he said, in line with the national naturalization policy which has been followed since 1790, and its approval by the President would be potent for peace.

"I conceive my duty," said the letter, "to address to you a few earnest words concerning the pending immigration bill, which as to certain provisions is now in conference.

"The two houses having agreed to provisions in the bill which exclude from our country aliens ineligible to citizenship, with certain specified exceptions, these provisions are now in conference.

"The exclusion clause of the bill under immediate consideration applies to more than 850,000,000 members of the human family, all of whom are denied United States citizenship. Such has been our national policy for more than 134 years, or since the act of 1790.

"Of the more than 850,000,000 oriental or Asiatic people affected by this bill, Japan, which contains but 7 per cent of the vast number, alone affects to see in our legislation some intended insult. Of course no insult is intended. Upon a little calm reflection Japanese statesmen will perceive that in shaping our immigration policy we are not giving just cause for offense, for they will observe that we are exercising an acknowledged right, even as Japan is exercising the same right."

DISCLAIMS HOSTILITY

If his remarks in the Senate debate to this effect have failed to reach "the ear of Japan," Senator Shortridge continued, "you, Mr. President, can wtih perfect propriety and in better phrase utter the same sentiments and your authoritative words will be potent for good."

"You can make known to Japan," the letter went on, "and to all the world, that we are legislating not in hostility to any nation, but with proper and first regard for the economic, racial and political welfare of our own. And no just or peaceful nation can find cause for offense with us for safeguarding the present and the future of America.

"In urging your approval of the action of the Senate and the House as it relates to the exclusion of aliens ineligible to citizenship, I am moved by no other motive than to serve our common country."

ANTIEXCLUSION AGITATION SPREADING

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

TOKIO, April 28.—Although agitation over American legislation is on the wane in Tokio, reaction is spreading to the provinces. Mass meetings of protest against exclusion have been held in Nagoya, Osaka, Kobe, Okayama and other cities in Western Honshu, Shikoku and Kyushu. Word was received that the Japanese community of Tsing-tao, China, has adopted a protest of resolution.

The national convention of the Suiheisha, or organization of the Eta, composed of some 1,500,000 Japanese of the social outcast class, passed an antiexclusion resolution, copies of which were sent to the Swarjists of India, the Pan-Asiatic Association of Shanghai and a similar organization of Korea. The Suiheisha urged these bodies to unite against American "exclusion and racial discrimination."

Former Caruso Wife Separated From Her Mate

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Mrs. E. A. Ingram, formerly Mrs. Enrico Caruso, through her attorney today confirmed reports that she and her husband, Capt. Ingram, an Englishman, had separated. She declared, however, that she would bring neither divorce nor separation suit.

Her attorney, speaking for her, explained the domestic rift was caused by "little irritations," one of which was Capt. Ingram's dislike of the United States. He sailed for England the first week of March.

MacDONALD URGES ALL JOIN TO AID PLAN

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PORT TALBOT (Wales) April 28.—Prime Minister MacDonald, speaking here this evening to the electors who sent him to Parliament, declared he is not going to lose a single chance of putting the report of the reparation experts into operation.

"And I want France to be with me. Let there be no doubt about it," he said.

Mr. MacDonald began his discussion of foreign affairs with an expression of his hopes of helping put Europe on its feet.

"If I can do anything before I leave this office," he said, "to remove some of the difficulties that have been in the way of an European settlement, if I can do anything to bring my country and France into closer friendship, if I can do anything to enable Central Europe to finds its legs, not with hate and revenge in its heart but with a new revelation of international co-operation, then I shall have felt I have done my day's work and regard it as a pretty satisfactory one at that.

"The other day I spoke at York. Over part of my speech as reported in France there was some misunderstanding as to what I said.

"Let there be no doubt about it, I regard these experts' reports as being an opportunity for peace, for settlement, for agreement, which if not taken by European statesmen, will be one of the most God-sent opportunities ever neglected and lost.

"As far as I am concerned I am not going to lose one single chance of putting these reports into operation if I can help it, and I want France to be with us.

"Some of our papers are talking about France being isolated. That is the very last thing I want. I do not want France to be isolated. I want to stand side by side with France. I want M. Poincare to know that France, so far as her security is concerned, has no better friend than this country.

FRIENDLY METHOD

"If we disagree as to the angle from which we look upon these things it is not that we do not want security, that we do not want friendship. I am profoundly convinced that these experts' reports, joined together with the experience of the last four years, ought to make both France and ourselves see that by our common friendship and by that alone working with Italy, working with Belgium, working with the small nationalities and offering Germany a real chance to fulfill its word, a real chance to make a pledge and keep it, in that way, in that friendly way, in that allied way we can open anew the doors to peace, happiness and international co-operation.

"That is my policy and that is the policy that my friends and I will do our best to carry out, steadily and patiently but without any humbug and cheating at all—straight, honest, open diplomacy.

"When we disagree let us say that we disagree and when we agree, unite the agreement with the firm handclasp of friendship and fellowship. In that way our country will again take its proper place in the councils of the world."

CHANGE IN STAND DENIED BY ITALIANS

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Italian Foreign Office, through its Embassy here, officially denied today rumors of a change in its policy toward the Ruhr, due to reported agreements between French and Italian industrial interests.

Host to Hungry Tells Police He Is Out Clothing

"There they are," said B. D. Hildebrand of 710 West California street, to Detectives Finn and Lopez last night at Fifth and Hill streets. Two men he indicated with his accusing finger were taken into custody.

Then Hildebrand told of the disillusionment of a Good Samaritan. He said he was accosted by the two men yesterday in Pershing Square. They said they were hungry. Hildebrand took them to his room, where he was host at a feast of ham and eggs.

Called out of his room for a moment, he told the men to "make themselves at home." They took him rather literally, he said. When he returned, not only his guests but also his clothing was gone.

One of the suspects was wearing a shirt Hildebrand identified as his. The prisoner was allowed to wear the shirt in his cell temporarily last night while the detectives searched for the remainder of the property. The prisoners were booked for suspicion of petty larceny under the names of John Cramp and William Brown.

Great Hospital Planned to Aid War Sufferers

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The National Memorial Hospital Association was organized at a meeting here today of representatives of more than twenty veterans' organizations and patriotic societies, called to further plans for the building of a national war mothers' memorial hospital.

The hospital would be used for the treatment of tuberculosis sufferers among former service men of all wars as well as their dependent and descendants. Plans call for the raising of a $10,000,000 construction fund and a $25,000,000 endowment fund.

NEW CARDINAL GETS NEW YORK WELCOME

PICTURES TAKEN OF SHELL FLIGHT

Standards Bureau Camera Enables New Study

Blast Attending Missile Subject of Research

Several Thousand Shots Per Second Possible

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Moving pictures of projectiles in flight can be taken with a camera developed at the Bureau of Standards. It has been used for studying the effect of the explosion on the flight of projectiles and has been found very useful for that purpose, the bureau states. The blast is formed by the gases in the gun which are ejected with great velocity as soon as the projectile leaves the muzzle. It completely surrounds the projectile the first few feet of its flight. Photography has been found to be the only available method of finding out anything about it.

The camera is capable of making 250 pictures per second, but it is believed that several thousand pictures per second can be taken by increasing the number of lenses.

Many other applications of the camera are believed to be possible. For example, it is believed that it will prove useful for determining the velocity of a projectile after it has passed through armor plate. Ordinary methods cannot be used for this purpose because of the flying particles of armor, but the camera can be placed in a position of safety.

GOV. M'CRAY IS FOUND GUILTY

panied by Marshal Meredith, returned to the Marshal's office where, surrounded by a number of friends he remained until he was taken to the jail after a conference of his attorneys. He gave no indication of what his next move would be.

The penalty provided by statute may be a fine of not to exceed $1000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, within the discretion of the court.

Gov. McCray's trial started in United States District Court before Judge Albert B. Anderson Monday, April 21. The jury was obtained within a few hours and after opening statements by both sides the taking of evidence was started in the afternoon of the first day.

Approximately 150 witnesses, most of them bankers, and McCray employees and business associates were called by the government. They identified a mass of correspondence with the Governor regarding notes, "cattle paper" and financial statements sent to the banks through the mails.

GOVERNOR'S DEFENSE

Attorneys for the Governor based their defense on lack of intent to defraud. Gov. McCray, testifying in his own behalf, admitted signing the names of others to notes, but contended his signature as indorser established his responsibility and he believed himself able financially to meet all of his obligations. He disclaimed any intention of attempting to defraud bankers to whom he sold the notes.

An indictment against McCray charging violation of the national banking laws and conspiracy to violate the national banking laws, is still pending in the Federal court. Amos D. Morris, former cashier of the Discount and Deposit State Bank of Kentland, of which McCray was president until his financial collapse, was named jointly with the Governor on the conspiracy charge and pleaded guilty. He has not been sentenced.

The report of a Federal master in chancery, who conducted a hearing on the petition of three Fort Wayne banks to have the Governor adjudged a bankrupt, is still in the hands of Judge Anderson.

Besides the Federal indictments, McCray was named in fifteen true bills returned by the Marion county grand jury. The Governor's trial on the first of these resulted recently in a disagreement of the jury.

While McCray was waiting in the marshal's office, word came from Knightstown, the home of Raymond C. Morgan, speaker of the Indiana House of Representatives, that Morgan would be in Indianapolis tomorrow to confer with Republican leaders regarding the situation.

SURPRISE TO McCRAY

Newspaper men were barred from Marshal Meredith's office, but the Governor's chauffeur was seen to enter and leave the room several times. Action of the court in ordering the Governor to jail came as a complete surprise to McCray who, during the short recess before the jury reported, telephoned his office in the State house, and asked that his home be called and notified that he would be late getting home for supper.

McCray strove while in the court room to keep a brave face, but when some particular friend clasped his hand, the other hand invariably went to his eye to brush away a tear.

Some local attorneys are of the opinion that McCray while in jail, ceases to be Governor. The office of governor thus devolves on Lieut. Gov. Emmett F. Branch of Martinsville, they say. Attorneys here differ as to McCray's present status and also in their interpretation of the Constitution which says in one place that the only method for calling special session of the Legislature is by proclamation of the Governor, and in another that "inability of the Governor to discharge the duties of the office the same shall devolve on the Lieutenant Governor."

NEW GLOBE FLIGHT DELAY

Maj. Martin Again Held Back from Command by Repairs; Three Weeks Behind Schedule

BY EVAN J. DAVID

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1924, in United States, Canada and Great Britain, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

ON BOARD U. S. COAST GUARD CUTTER ALGONQUIN, CHIGNIK (Alaska) April 28.—Repairs being made on Maj. Frederick L. Martin's flagplane, Seattle, which arrived here Saturday from Kanatak, will probably cause another delay for the commander of the around the world flight in his desperate attempt to catch up with his command at Unalaska. The metal tips on the propeller are badly frayed and the carburetor of the new motor needs adjusting.

Maj. Martin is particularly anxious to join the other three flyers under Lieut. Lowell Smith, who are waiting patiently for their leader, and continue on to Nazan, the next stop in the Aleutian Islands, as the flight is now nearly three weeks behind schedule. Moreover, the rapid progress of Maj. Maclaren, the British round-the-world flyer, now in India, has made it a race between American and British aviators for the honor of being the first to cross the Pacific.

HEAVY ADVANTAGE

The American flyers here in Alaska are following the progress of Maj. Maclaren with keen interest. The latter, flying East, has a considerable advantage for he is traveling with the prevailing winds and twenty or twenty-five miles an hour added to his normal flying speed makes a very considerable difference in flying 26,000 miles around the world.

Maj. Maclaren has another great asset in flying from England as a starting point, as he will not have to cross the foggy Atlantic until late in the summer, when weather conditions are favorable. He will likewise have the advantage of getting through Siam and Indo-China before a rainy season sets in, during the latter part of June.

RACE WITH RAINS

Our boys, too, will have to be through the Malay Peninsula before those tropical rains begin to fall. They will undoubtedly pass through the Straits Settlements before the end of May, unless they meet such unexpected weather as they have encountered here in Alaska. After the Americans reach the British airways, which extend from Calcutta to the northernmost end of the British Isles, they progress with wheels instead of pontoons.

From Calcutta to Kirkwall, Scotland, ought to be very rapid. From there to Iceland, to Greenland and across the 850 miles of Atlantic Ocean to Labrador with pontoons will be another bad stretch against prevailing winds.

FRENCHMAN IN PERSIA

PARIS, April 28.—Lieut. Pelletier Doisy, whose air flight in the Far East is being watched with great interest, particularly because of other long distance flights which are in progress, reached Bender Abbas on the Persian gulf about noon today.

A message received from him at 12:55 p.m., by the French air service says:

"Arrived Bender Abbas in very hot weather; landing ground very bad. Passed the Portuguese aviators at Bagdad."

The Portuguese aviators alluded to are Brito Maes and Sarmento Beiros, who are making a flying trip to Macao on the Canton River.

AMERICANS TO FLOAT LOAN TO NETHERLANDS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Flotation of a $40,000,000 loan to the Kingdom of The Ntherlands has been arranged by an American banking syndicate, it was learned today. Offering of the bonds which will bear 6 per cent interest is expected tomorrow.

STORY OF FORD DEAL EXPLODED

he was anxious to turn over the Muscle Shoals property to Mr. Ford or to anybody else. I think he expressed his opinion in his address to Congress on December 6. He certainly never has expressed any such opinion to me, and he has never intimated any such thing to me.

OPPOSES FORD OFFER

"Personally I am in favor of turning over the property to the man or corporation, if it is to be turned over, that will make the largest return to the government, and I don't think Mr. Ford's offer is the best offer, and therefore I am personally not in favor of it."

When the War Secretary took the stand the first request put to him by Chairman Norris was for an explanation of "why Ford got over his anger toward President Coolidge and the administration after an interview at the White House."

"That is evidence that he is a sensible man," Mr. Weeks replied.

"That is also evidence that he had some reason for changing," Chairman Norris retorted.

The War Secretary said he conferred with the President before he issued a statement replying to an attack by Ford several months ago.

"Before Ford interviewed the President," he said, "he called at my office with his secretary and said he had come to pay his respects and did not at that time talk business in connection with Muscle Shoals."

Secretary Weeks said Ford's anger was aimed at him and not at the President because of the sale of the Gorgas power plant, a unit of the Muscle Shoals project, to the Alabama Power Company. He added that he took full responsibility for the statement made in reply to Ford.

NOT BEST OFFER

"I am interested in Muscle Shoals," he said, "only from the standpoint of my official capacity," adding that he opposed the Ford bid because he did not believe it was the best offer.

"Naturally," he said, "I felt grieved that any insinuations had been made that I was interested because of special interests."

In reply to a question by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, Mr. Weeks said he had studied the Hooker-White-Atterbury proposal in a general way and that he would be glad to have the chief of engineers study it and make recommendations.

"I think the government can dispose of Muscle Shoals under better terms than any of the present contracts," he added. "I am opposed to government operation and think we could enter into a limited partnership with some private enterprise."

The witness said he doubted the wisdom of entering any binding contract for fifty years.

SENDER OF WIRE REPEATS ASSERTION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, April 28.—James Martin Miller, whose telegram to the Dearborn Independent quoting President Coolidge ase saying he would try to deliver Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford was repudiated by the President today, asserted tonight his telegram was correct.

"A man cannot afford to have a controversy with the President of the United States," Mr. Miller said, "but I want to say that I quoted the President correctly in my telegram. Perhaps, however, Mr. Coolidge has fergotten, because in the thousands of duties that demand his attention it may be difficult for him to recall one of many conversations."

FUNDS IN STOCK FIGHT ADVANCED

Money Lent by Banks Will Indemnify Owners

No Inconvenience Results in Yuma Disinfection

Five More Outbreaks Found in County Herds

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, April 28.—A check for $250,000, representing the first installment of a loan which will total $2,000,000 if necessary, to indemnify owners of live stock slaughtered in the campaign to eradicate the foot-and-mouth disease in California, was received today by G. H. Hecke, director of the State Department of Agriculture, from H. C. Carr, president of the California Bankers' Association. The check was delivered to Hecke by J. E. Huntoon, president of the executive council of the California Bankers' Association and president of the People's Bank of Sacramento.

Payments to the owners of the 68,000 head of live stock which have been slaughtered to date will be begun in a few days, according to Director Hecke. The money received from the Bankers' Association is the first that has been advanced by private interests to date. It came as a result of Gov. Richardson's recent declaration of an emergency and his creation of an emergency deficiency fund. Thus far no payments have been made by the State to owners of slaughtered live stock.

TROOPS ARE ASKED

Other developments today in the campaign being waged for the eradication of the foot-and-mouth disease and for the modification of the embargoes of western States against shipments of farm products from California, included an appeal to Adjutant-General of California for troops with which to patrol quarantined areas in Madera county, the arrival in Sacramento of a delegation from Arizona, and a representative from Nevada to study conditions at first hand and reports of a small number of new outbreaks of the disease in counties already infected.

The appeal for troops was sent to Adjt.-Gen. Mittelstaedt by Sheriff John Burnett of Madera county. It said:

"All county funds are exhausted and if the disease is to be crushed we must have organized aid in patrol duty. The present outbreak is among 6000 head at the edge of the foothills and endangers the entire valley, including the forest reserves. Please do all you can to aid. This appeal is made after weeks of deliberation and labor with the limited means at hand."

Gen. Mittlestaedt replied that he had no authority to order out troops and that he had refered the telegram to the Governor's office.

Gov. Richardson is out of town and no statement was made at his office as to what action might be taken with regard to the telegram. In official circles it was announced Dr. Houck, chief of the eradication campaign, does not believe troops are needed.

NO INCONVENIENCE IN YUMA DISINFECTION

YUMA (Ariz.) April 29.—One man was highly disgruntled and several score others happily surprised by Arizona's disinfection of railroad passengers which went into effect here today. The disgruntled person was a soppingly drunk individual who arrived on train No. 14 and insisted on going through the disinfection process twice. He then became highly incensed because the authorities refused to permit him to go through again.

Outside of this exception, everyone arriving here was delighted with the ease and convenience with which the required disinfection was done. Yuma citizens are divided as to the necessity and practicability of the disinfection but there can be no doubt of the efficiency with which it is being handled, whether necessary or not.

Large iron trays greeted the descending passengers. In the first was an ordinary door mat saturated with formaldehyde on which the passengers stood. Next came another tray with a shallow solution of formaldehyde and then a long trough of formaldehyde saturated sawdust. After the passengers had quickly walked through these they stepped up to a long table, their baggage was quickly examined and stamped with an inspection label, and the proceedure was over.

TRAINS NOT DELAYED

In some cases baggage that appeared suspicious was retained by the examiners and placed in a fumigator over night. In the morning the passenger called and claimed his baggage. In the great majority of cases, however, baggage was not held up, about the only articles held being bed rolls, knapsacks and other possessions of itinerant cotton field workers.

Through passengers and travelers going from California through Arizona to points outside the latter State are not disturbed in any way.

Baggage other than hand baggage is strictly taboo and cannot be shipped to points in Arizona. As in the case of passengers through baggage is not disturbed.

No delay whatever was occasioned to trains. Twenty passengers can easily be passed through in five minutes. Women attendants examine the baggage of feminine passengers. Although the officials have been working twelve and sixteen-hour shifts, everyone and everything is good natured and the entire affair was passed of amid much joking and good humor.

NO INCONVENIENCE

The administration of the disinfection is being hampered by lack of funds, the amount the local authorities are authorized to spend being inadequate to enable the employment of sufficient help. Volunteers have pitched in to help out until money matters are arranged. Dr. R. R. Knotts, Deputy State Health Inspector in charge here, closed up his office and brought his assistant along. Maj. Frank Ming helped direct the crowd through the disinfection line and other citizens contributed their efforts in other ways.

No one planning to visit Arizona points by train need worry in the least over the required disinfection, as it stands at present, and passengers can assure themselves that the disinfection is nothing more than a humorous and entertaining break in a long ride over the desert.

FIVE MORE HERDS IN COUNTY INFECTED

Though five more infected herds of cattle in Los Angeles county were reported during the past twenty-four hours, the foot-and-mouth disease is still confined within previously infected territory. Among those reported as being infected yesterday were one herd of nineteen animals at Workman Station, a herd of seventy-five animals at Lankershim, and three herds in the Lamanda Park section, aggregating a total of 124 animals.

The total of all animals condemned and destroyed in California up to April 26 is reported at 68,744 head. Figures given out by the State Department of Agriculture disclose a total of 442 herds numbering 68,744 as being infected in the entire State since the first outbreak was reported in the north. This report shows the condemnation of 30,314 cattle, 19,616 sheep, 18,402 hogs and 412 goats.

This is a very small percentage of the live stock of California, for the live-stock census of the State on January 1, last, which figures were compiled in the California Crop Report and issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, shows there were at that time 5,489,000 head of cattle, hogs, sheep and goats.

MORE INSPECTORS

Ten additional Federal inspectors will be assigned to the work of inspecting the large numbers of live stock which are now moving or are ready to move from their home ranches to ranges on the national forest reserves in Northern California.

Dr. U. G. Houck, who, as the personal representative of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, is directing the eradication fight in California, has expressed himself as greatly pleased at the willingness of county authorities to co-operate with him in facilitating the movement of stock between counties and on to the summer ranges. Only ten of the fifty-eight counties of the State are under full quarantine, while six more are under provisional quarantine. In the quarantined counties a comparatively small portion of the total acreage is occupied by infected herds.

Protest by the City Park Commission was filed with the amalgamated Federal and State quarantine authorities yesterday against the closing of the municipal golf course at Griffith Park last week, while private club courses have been allowed to remain open. The commission said that, in its opinion, such regulations were discriminatory and would be resented by thousands of citizens.

AL JOLSON IS SUED BY HORSEMAN

Comedian Thinks Action Must be Over Bangtail He Gave Away

Al Jolson, blackface comedian, who opened at the Mason Operahouse last night in "Bombo," was served with a summons in an action for $1050.80 shortly before he retired backstage to don the burnt cork for his local premiere in the latest Jolsonian vehicle.

And, while the summons was more or less ambiguous as to the specific items upon which the action is based, as near as the famous comedian can figure it out he's being sued because he gave a horse away some two years ago.

Al has had a lot of trouble with horses off and on in his career. Al has never been kicked by a horse and, so far as is known, has never done a Prince of Wales, but he has, nevertheless, suffered consistently and acutely through horses.

"A horse again," exploded the comedian when he was handed the document. "I haven't seen a 'bangtail' for weeks and yet—"

Overcome with emotion, he subsided into a chair.

Later he recovered sufficiently to give this version of the affair:

"A couple of years ago this man Edward Colton, who has brought this action, persuaded me to buy a horse. His mother was suffering from cancer—was in bad shape—and he was 'broke.'

"'If I had a horse, Al, I could pull through,' he told me at the Bowie race track.

"I bought the horse and gave it to him; further, I sent his mother to the Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore and I advanced him several hundred dollars. The mother died, I believe, and I haven't heard of the man or the horse until John Law popped in just now.

"What he's suing me for I don't know—it doesn't say in here, does it?

"Dawgone horses!"

The Bittleson Collection Agency instituted the action against Jolson on behalf of Colton, who is said to now be at the Tanforan track near San Francisco.

The matter has been turned over to Jolson's attorney.

What is behind your phonograph?

Ask yourself these questions when buying a phonograph:

1. Is this an old, established house?
2. Has it the confidence of the people?
3. Is everything exactly as represented in its advertising and salesmen's "talks?"
4. Is its stock complete and varied?
5. Can I depend upon them to show me what I want, instead of what they want to dispose of?
6. Are its terms fair and liberal—without any "camouflaged catches?"
7. Does it stand back of and unconditionally guarantee every article it sells?
8. Will it "stay interested" in my phonograph after it has been delivered?

Shift of Wind Saves City in Path of Fire

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BAY CITY (Or.) April 28.—Only a slight shifting of the wind saved Bay City from destruction when flames completely wiped out the Oregon Silver Spruce Company mill on the water front here today. Sparks were carried into the timber northeast of the town, setting numerous brush fires. Fire apparatus was brought from Tillamook and Garibaldi to fight the flames. Many residents moved out their belongings. One dwelling was burned and another damaged.

Total loss is estimated between $75,000 and $100,000. The fire was started by a hot journal in the cut-off saw.

METHODIST MINISTERS OPPOSE WAR SYSTEM

DECLINE TO GO ON RECORD, HOWEVER, AS UNWILLING TO ENGAGE IN FIGHT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, April 28.—Methodist Episcopal ministers of Chicago at a meeting today passed a resolution "opposing the whole war system," but rejecting the suggestion made at a previous meeting that Methodist ministers go on record as unwilling to engage in any war. According to the resolution, the body stated it "would not participate in any such movements as history has conclusively shown lead to war."

Spokesmen for the ministers explained that the resolution is not a plea for "pacifism or nonresistance but for peace." The resolution is to be presented to the general Methodist conference at Springfield, Mass. The first resolution, which was rejected, branded all war as "unchristian."

The conference also was asked to create a commission to study the causes of war and to recommend ways and means of securing peace.

VOTES REPEAL OF WIRE TAXES

Senate Also Modifies Levy on Corporations

Contests on Both Sections Expected Later

Action on Proposed Income Rates to be Delayed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Modification of the corporation tax and repeal of the tax on telegraph and telephone messages was voted today by the Senate in advancing consideration of the revenue bill. Notice was given, however, that contests would be made later on both of these levies.

The corporation tax was increased from 12 1-2 to 14 per cent with the understanding that the capital stock tax would be eliminated. This latter amendment is yet to be acted upon.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the Finance Committee, announced that minority members were drafting a substitute amendment proposing to replace the present corporation tax with one carrying a graduated scale.

Pending the writing of this amendment, Senator Simmons said he would ask for postponement of consideration of income-tax rate sections over which the main contest will center. These rates were reported today but were passed over at the request of the North Carolina Senator.

In voting for the repeal of the tax on telegraph and telephone messages, the Senate rejected the recommendation of the Finance Committee. Repeal of this tax had been suggested by Secretary Mellon and was voted by the House. Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee announced he would ask for a record vote on it later.

Senator Smoot explained the tax involved revenue amounting to $34,000,000 annually and it had been restored to the bill by the committee because it was found necessary to raise more revenue than would be forthcoming under the measure as framed by the House.

He was supported by Senator King of Utah, a Democratic member of the committee, while Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, and McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, urged elimination of the tax.

Little opposition was voiced to the proposed change in the corporation tax, but discussion of the subject stirred up considerable debate with Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, arguing against the general principle on which the tax is levied and in favor of a graduated scale tax.

Mr. Jones was joined by Senators Norris, Republican, Nebraska, and Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, in his contention that the present flat tax paves the way for evasion.

WORK ASKS ARIZONA TO HELP INDIAN

Secretary of Interior at Phoenix Asserts Red Men Should be an Asset

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, April 28.—Secretary Hubert Work of the Interior Department and Commissioner Charles H. Burke of the Indian Bureau were guests today of the Valley Luncheon Club. They spoke of the necessity of local co-operation with the Indian Bureau in the task of making the Indian an asset rather than a liability, and of the efforts now being put forth to establish better sanitation on the reservations.

Secretary Work declared that he had been acting as involuntary receiver for the Reclamation Service and, assisted by Gov. Campbell, had been trying to put it on a business basis. He said he expected success would be attained fi the recommendation of the Fact Finding Commission be adopted.

As it is, only a tenth of the money expected has been turned in by the twenty-four projects. The two officials have been visiting the Navajo, White Mountain Apache, San Carlos Apache and Pima Indian reservations, and in Phoenix inspected the Indian Industrial School.

They are leaving this evening for Denver, going on farther west.

J. P. MORGAN IN ENGLAND ABOUT LOAN

Banker Wants London to Take Part of Germany's New Debt, Say Friends

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, April 28.—J. P. Morgan took up residence at his London home today after his conference with the members of the Reparations Commission in Paris at the end of last week. Both the banker and his secretary refused to make a statement on his plans or his views of the present state of the reparations problem.

Mr. Morgan's home in Grosvenor Square was closed to all comers today and a steady flow of visitors was turned away. It is persistently reported that the purpose of the banker's visit is to confer with English interests which will make up the balance of the German loan after the house of Morgan has assumed its share.

This is considered practically certain in informed circles, but direct confirmation is not yet obtainable.

Stability of Pomona Valley business is indicated by the fact that the growth in clearings has not been spasmodic or fluctuating, but has proceeded at a fairly even pace.

ANOTHER FOREIGN FISTIC KING

Since Luis Angel Firpo, the wild Argentine battler, picked up several hundred thousand smacks in a few bouts here, other foreign fighters have started for this fair country. One of the first to arrive was Senor Andrew Balsa of Barcelona, Spain. Andrew, who weighs 195 pounds, F.O.B., is said to pack a punch like a Missouri mule. He wants to fight Dempsey and unless the S.P.C.A. can do something quick they may let him. [Keystone Photo]

A FAITH WELL FOUNDED

IT IS not alone the beauty, nor yet the smartness, of Rolls-Royce that has endeared this unusual car to women. It is the deeper faith in the structural and mechanical superiorities of Rolls-Royce . . . the feeling that the car may be trusted under any condition, because of something the makers have builded into it in their painstaking, unhurried way. A faith well founded! For the beauty of Rolls-Royce is but the outward sign of an inward perfection admitting no slight of the veriest detail.

Local Officials Fear Prep Classic Will Not be Held Because of Epidemic

Possibility that the California interscholastic track and field meet might not be staged this year was expressed yesterday by local officials. The meet is scheduled to be held at Taft on May 10 but, due to the foot-and-mouth quarantine, may be called off.

Should the epidemic necessitate the cancellation of the big affair, it will probably not be staged at all, according to E. W. Oliver of the Los Angeles High School. Mr. Oliver believes, however, that conditions will make it possible to hold the meet at Taft.

Inasmuch as there was some doubt about staging the meet as scheduled local officials hoped to get the events shifted to the Coliseum, but that does not seem likely now.

Postpone Golf Tournament on Midwick Links

The annual invitation golf tournament of the Midwick Country Club, scheduled to open Saturday with the qualifying rounds, has been indefinitely postponed, according to notices sent out by the tournament committee yesterday. Numerous improvements on the first nine holes have been planned, and work will commence immediately, necessitating the closing of several greens.

Although the tournament will not be held now, Midwick has not given up the annual event, which will probably be held during the summer. Three invitational tournaments have been postponed this season, Brentwood and Red Hill having deferred their annual events in addition to Midwick.

Yachts Will Poke Noses in Rough Waters

A seventy-six-mile rough water schooner race will be run around Catalina Island Saturday morning, marking the official opening of the 1924 yachting season of the California Yacht Club, it was announced yesterday by Commodore Herbert L. Cornish.

Entries for this event include: The Henrietta by Morgan Adams; Pasqualito by Francis Graves; Aafje, Millsat and the Martha by Lane.

Official speed trials for motor boats will be held Sunday at Long Beach with the Lucky Strike I and the Lucky Strike II entered by Al Frank; Mystery by Frank E. and Frank A. Garbutt; Defiance by C. E. De Mille; Two Fellows by Joe Fellows, and the White Star by Gar Holmes.

Golf Links at Griffith Park Quarantined

Due to the prevalence of the hoof-and-mouth disease, the municipal golf links at Griffith Park have been put under quarantine by government officials, and no playing will be allowed on the course until further notice.

The quarantine will serve as a blessing in disguise, as a rest will do the greens and fairways no harm. The hundreds of players who use the course daily keep the turf from being in the best of condition, and an opportunity for the links to improve considerably will be offered by the quarantine.

YOUNG BEGINS WORK FOR HACKLEY BATTLE

After a brief rest Billy Young, classy 128-pounder, has started active training for his bout with Jimmy Hackley at the C.P.O. Club Thursday night. In their last go Young decisively trounsed Hackley.

Young Maxwell, who fought the best lightweights some ten years ago, has taken charge of Young's training and is teaching the Vancouver lad the ABC's of the "Give and take game." Maxwell is a past master of the fistic art and Young he believes is the brightest featherweight prospect developed in many years.

Greb Signs Up for Ring Date With Delaney

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Harry Greb, holder of the middleweight championship of the world, and Jack Delaney of Connecticut, who stopped Paul Berlenbach recently, are going to have a fifteen-round engagement at the Yankee Stadium on June 27, for the benefit of the Milk Fund. The scuffle calls for a titular affair in which Greb is risking his championship. Delaney signed the papers today, while Greb had affixed his signature several days ago.

In addition to Greb and Delaney, other topliners include Young Stribling and Paul Berlenbach for a six-round affair.

SPRINT CHAMP HITS SEATTLE

Charles Paddock Ready for Washington Relays

Injury to Leg at Des Moines is Not Serious

Coming Home for Olympic Tryouts on May 24

Charles Paddock, whose return to active competition in the Drake relays last Friday and Saturday resulted in one world's record being smashed to smithereens, is now in Seattle, where on Saturday, he will compete in the annual University of Washington relays. The great Pasadena sprinter went from Des Moines to Portland, Or., with the Oregon Aggies, who had a capable relay team in the Drake events.

Reports from Des Moines concerning a slight injury to one of the champion's legs had his local supporters a bit worried yesterday but a telegram to his father, C. H. Paddock, set all doubts as to the seriousness of the hurt at rest last night. Charley stepped into a mud puddle on the tricky track and suffered a slight sprain, which is practically O.K. by now, the telegram said.

Following his races at the University of Washington meet Paddock will return here to go into training for the Southern California, Arizona and New Mexico Olympic Games try-outs to be staged at the Coliseum on May 24. His performances at Drake prove beyond a doubt that he has lost none of his old-time speed and his races here will more than likely be productive of at least one record-breaking event.

Jefferson Is Dented Hard by Oxy Frosh

The Occidental Frosh had little trouble in submerging the Jefferson baseball nine yesterday at Jefferson when they won, 9 to 2. This is the second time that the Frosh have defeated the Jefferson nine this season. There is only one trouble with the Tiger babes, they have played most of the good city prep teams and defeated them and now they have almost run out of good competition.

Teachout was the star of the fray. Besides whiffing out eleven men he smashed the ball for four hits in four times at bats, three of them doubles. Grossman was the star on the prep nine, gathering a homer in the first inning and a double in the seventh for the only two hits Jefferson gathered. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Occidental Frosh	9	10	1
Jefferson High School..	2	2	4

Batteries—Teachout and Condie; Granfield, Phillips and Brayton.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER, W.M.H.

Hon. Paul Lowry, who pilots the automobile section of this newspaper and claims to have been an athletee at Occidental College and the University of California at Berkeley, motored north to see the two big dual meets in which Stanford took part against the All-Conference squad and against the Bears. Bro. Lowry first of all joins in the general cheering for Dink Templeton's cohorts, saying that they are the finest dual-meet team in the country and likely to capture the I.C.A.A.A.A. at Cambridge.

Having said nothing startling when he admitted that fact, he then remarked that the Stanford-All-Conference meet made the Stanford-California meet look like a thin dime, not only as to competition, but as to performances. He calls attention to the following comparison of performances in the two meets.

Stanford-California		Stanford-Conference
10.0 secs.	100	9.9
22.3	220	22.1
49.5	440	49.6
1.55.8	880	1.58
4.26.8	mile	4.24.4
9.55.5	2-mile	9.59
15.5	H.H.	15.3
25.1	L.H.	24.2
3.26.3	relay	3.24.7
49.8½	shot	50.11½
145.11¼	discus	148
190	javelin	173
12.3	pole	12.9
6	H.J.	6.1
23.2¼	B.J.	22.8¾

He notes that the All-Conference aggregation meet had better performances in the 100, 220, mile, high hurdles, low hurdles, relay, shot, discus, high jump and pole vault, while the big meet performances were only better in the 440, 880, two-mile, javelin and broad jump.

With all the excitement over the numerous big track meets on Saturday a lot of people doubtless overlooked the performances registered by the U.S.C. varsity athletes in their workout on Bovard Field in the morning. The efforts were extremely important in view of the forthcoming trip of the Trojans to the I.C.A.A.A.A. and the Olympic tryout at the Coliseum the week preceding their eastern invasion.

For one thing, the performance of Yale Martz in galloping a 660 in 1m. 23s. and a fraction is indicative of that young man's ability to get well under the 50s. mark in the quarter. Then, when Keith Lloyd shaved a fraction of a second from Charley Paddock's mark for one lap, approximately 311 yards, he demonstrated that he is more than a short-dash man. Bud Houser's put of well over 47ft. in the shot indicates that he is returning to his old-time form and will be among those present at the I.C.A.A.A.A. meet. He ought to get third easily, and might possibly nose out Ralph Hills of Princton for second.

The Trojans ought to pick up quite a few points at the big eastern meet, more than people thought at the first of the year. Dye and Stever seem certain to score in the high hurdles and Grumbles and Otto Anderson in the lows. Martz seems pretty certain of a place in the 440, with a possibility of a clean win. That ought to give U.S.C. about ten or twelve points on the track.

In the weights Houser and Anderson ought to score six or seven points, Wilson and Otto Anderson ought to score in the broad jump and if Cory or Emmons, or both, should be pronounced eligible there ought to be a few more Trojan points in the high jump and pole vault. Dean Cromwell's men ought to pick up in the neighborhood of twenty points in the big meet, with a possibility of scoring even more than that.

Stanford certainly looks like a winner in the I.C.A.A.A.A at this distance. With Hale and Campbell in the sprints, Miller and Storie in the quarter, Richardson and McIntosh in the half and Kerr and Smith in the mile, not to mention Leistner in both hurdles, the Cards ought to score heavily on the track, possibly as much as twenty points.

Hartranft ought to get eight points in the weights, possibly ten, and one or two other Card demons might easily walk into the points, so that it would not be surprising to see Templeton's crew make over thirty points in the big meet. California will be lucky to score at all on the track and, aside from Boren in the broad jump and the Bear weight tossers, won't make so many in the field. The Trojans are very likely to beat them in the big meet.

FROSH NINE STILL HAS CLEAN SLATE

The justly celebrated Occidental College freshman baseball team continues to knock over the various ball clubs of the vicinity. The latest victim of the Tiger Cubs was the Southern Branch freshman team which succumbed by a large score last week. The Tiger peagreeners are very much agitated over the fact that in an article published recently L. A. High was credited with a victory over them. This was not the case as L. A. High and the Oxy Frosh have not met this year. Pitchers Teachout and Hitch have pitched a dozen shutouts so far.

HAUGDAHL MAY RACE DE PALMA

Norwegian's Friends Say He Wants Another Chance

Triumph Sweepstakes Will be Feature at Ascot

Italian Dare-Devil to Drive in Star Event Sunday

The "Triumph Sweepstakes" will be the feature of a ten-event card at Ascot Speedway next Sunday. The race will be for a distance of fifteen laps, open to any car under 300 cubic inches, with a purse divided into six monies, and the Cecil De Mille gold and silver trophy which will go to the winner. Ralph DePalma, noted Italian, whose decisive victory over Sig Haugdahl on Sunday proved so sensational, filed his entry last night for the "Triumph" race and the Italian Victory Crown, the possession of which he won for a week on last Sunday.

The field in the De Mille cup event will be limited to the eight fastest cars, selection of which will be by qualifying time trials. Only six starters will be permitted in the Victory Crown race.

ENTRY UP IN THE AIR

Whether Sig Haugdahl will enter either race is problematical. The Norwegian is still in the city and is not scheduled to race in the Middle West until May 11. Sig is a good loser and has not done much soap-box orating over the raw deal he got from Duray and Davidson in the Bozzani race at Ascot on Sunday. But those close to the game little fellow believe that he is anxious to get another crack at De Palma if he is allowed to protect himself in the clinches. No one has intimated that De Palma was involved in any way with the "run around" stuff handed Haugdahl by the other drivers. In fact, De Palma is most regretful that anything happened on which Haugdahl can hang an alibi for not being closer to Ralph at the finish of the fifteen-lap race.

Referee Charlie Keppen has wired a report of the Art Davidson case to the contest committee of the International Motor Contest Association. He made a recommendation that Davidson be set down for at least a week. In the event the Indianapolis youngster is disciplined his fast car will be turned over to Jack Petticord, Canadian national champion, consistent winner of the invitational race for the past two weeks. De Palma, who lost several spokes from a front wheel through Davidson's alleged rough riding, accepted Art's apology and explanation that the accident was not intentional. "It's all in the game," was De Palma's laconic reply.

SEEKS FILIPINO'S SCALP

Teddy Silva Out to Whip Nationalista in Main Event at Vernon Arena Tonight

A boxer can have a winning streak but when he has half a dozen straight wins to his credit the fans want to see him beaten. Young Nationalista, who hasn't lost lost a bout since he arrived in this country from Manila, gave the fans some great bouts and won half a dozen decisions. Then the fans wanted to see him in a bout that he figured to lose. As a result Matchmaker Wadhams of the Vernon club has matched the little Filipino with Teddy Silva for the main event at Doyle's tonight.

Silva is the matchmaker's last bet to trim the little fellow from the islands, and if the opinions of the fans are a criterion, Teddy's hand will be raised at the conclusion of four torrid rounds.

Silva has given away weight in most of his bouts, but has been a consistent winner. He is the Filipino's superior in every department of the game except aggressiveness. He is a faster and better boxer, a cleaner and harder puncher, and wiser in the tricks of the ring.

Nationalista is always aggressive but in meeting Silva he tackles a boy who can hit hard while going away. If Teddy is forced to break ground he will still prove dangerous every inch of the way.

Larry Murphy and Bert Lamar, hard-hitting and aggressive 130-pounders, will box the semi-wind-up. Murphy is an aggressive slugger and Lamar has been coming along rapidly. He can box a bit, and is a heavy hitter.

The biggest pair on the card are Happy Howard and Kid Mexico, who box the feature preliminary. They are big middleweights. Howard has boxed many of the best 160-pounders in the country, and came here recommended by Leach Cross, former twenty-round star. Mexico is a local trial horse, and if Howard gets by him he may be groomed for a match with Bert Colima.

DIAZ MEETS VILLA

Benny Diaz and Pedro Villa, a pair of speedy 112-pounders, are fourth on the card and Lefty Cooper is matched with Young Terry at 145 pounds. Cooper is a southpaw who looked good on his first start at Vernon. Toby Montoya will meet Jack Sherman at 125 pounds, and Roy Moore will help Herb Ryan raise the curtain. They are welterweights.

Joe Pipal Visits Yale to Get Dope on New Gymnasium for School

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Ten bronzed athletes who have made the name of Occidental College famous throughout the country through their sensational showing at the Kansas and Penn relays spent seven hours here today touring around and rubbering at the Capitol, the Senate and all the other sights. They are en route back to Los Angeles in charge of Trainer Pete Poole.

According to Poole the boys are all in great shape except Buckman and Nash, who were both spiked and bruised in a collision last Friday at the Penn relays while running in the 440-yards relay. This was the only event out of seven at Kansas and six at Penn in which Occidental athletes were entered in which they failed to place.

Coach Joseph A. Pipal, who headed the team on its successful Eastern invasion, is remaining in the East for several weeks to make a tour of the big athletic plants at the eastern universities starting at Yale University. On his return to Southern California Occidental is to build a huge gymnasium and swimming pool to round out its fine athletic field.

Games Saturday

Pomona at Oxy.
Grizzlies at Redlands.
Whittier at Caltech.

With all but two of the teams having played three full games it begins to appear as if this year's Southern California Intercollegiate Conference baseball race had settled down to a three-cornered fight between the local University of California, Whittier and Caltech nines. Pomona and Redlands are a game behind the other teams, but by virtue of losing their first two contests are practically out of running for the championship.

Right now the Grizzlies look like the best bet of the three first teams, not only because they invaded both Pasadena and Whittier and won their games, but also because in Al Montgomery they possess a pitcher who appears to be too good for the conference hitters. He and Fred Groat, along with Walter Jessup of Whittier, are easily the cream of the heavers in the loop and any college coach in the country would probably welcome any of them in his staff.

Both the Engineers and Poets will give the Grizzlies a merry battle of it when they clash in the second round. The former team meets the local nine first, the game taking place on the Vermont-avenue field on May 10. Whittier comes here the following week. These tilts will prove beyond a doubt which of the three teams is the best in the league.

Pomona's showing to date has been a disappointment to the Sagehen backers, who are accustomed to having their nine right up in front at all times. Last year's champs have yet to show enough to give them an edge on either of the first three teams. Lack of steady pitching and good fielding has cost the Pomonans their two games. Coach Carl Schott lost five lettermen last year and is finding it difficult to replace some of them, principally Paul Walker, pitcher.

WESBROOK LIKELY TO PLAY IN EAST

Walter Wesbrook's chances of going east for the national tennis championships this summer took another move forward Sunday, when he held Harvey Snodgrass even in a bitterly fought four-set exhibition match at the Midwick Country Club. Wesbrook captured the first set, 7-5, Snodgrass the next two, at 9-7, 7-5, and Wesbrook the last, 6-2, whereas the match was called because of a pain in Harvey Snodgrass's side. Snodgrass and Wesbrook seem almost certain to figure well in both singles and doubles in the East this summer.

ROOSEVELT SCHOOL SHOWS MONOGRAMS

The athletic commission of Roosevelt High School has placed on exhibition in the main hall a set of the official monograms for that institution. They will be presented at an assembly in the near future to the deserving athletes.

An eight-inch gold felt letter, trimmed with cardinal will constitute the track and baseball varsity letter and a four-inch monogram of similar composition will serve as the featherweight and lightweight letter.

PENTATHLON FOR PREPS AT POMONA

Fifty High-School Teams in Annual Event on Sagehen Oval May 10

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CLAREMONT, April 28.—Fifty Southern California high schools have been invited to enter teams and seventy men have already been entered in what promises to become one of the biggest post-season track events in the Southland, the annual high school pentathlon, to be held at Pomona College, Saturday, May, 10.

Men from all over Southern California will be entertained that day when Pomona College men play the part of hosts to their visitors. Five events are scheduled, including the 100-yard dash, 120-yard low hurdles, high jump, broad jump and shot put, in which each high school is allowed to enter ten men. The meet has been fully indorsed by the C. I. F. and keen competition looms between many of the leading Southern California high schools. Long Beach, winner of last year's penthathlon, has again entered a team along with entries from Santa Ana, Lincoln, Huntington Park, El Monte and Anaheim. A large loving cup is awarded the winning team of ten men.

Plans are also being arranged for an exhibition tennis match between the Sagehen varsity racketers and the Southern Branch quartet of tennis stars who recently captured the conference championship. Immediately following the pentathlon, to be held at 1 o'clock, the visiting high school men will witness the varsity baseball game betweeen Coach Schott's Pomona stickmen and the University of Redlands.

DE MILLE PUTS UP CUP IN AUTO RACE

Cecile B. De Mille director-general of the Paramount, has donated an elaborate and costly silver cup to be contested for in the special Triumph Sweepstakes at Ascot on Sunday next. Incidently this marks the first occasion that De Mille has consented to actively participate in the event and what will be of unusual added interest will be the presence in boxes on Sunday next of practically the entire cast of "Triumph" as well as several other De Mille stars of fame.

Rod La Rocque positively agreed to be on hand as well as Victor Varconi, Julia Faye, Theodore Kosloff and others of the cast and additional stars who will be present include Agnes Ayres, a confirmed devotee of sports of all kinds, Estelle Taylor, and a group of Paramount beauties including Helen Lynch, Alma Bennett, Zasu Pitts and in every way the delegation present will be a replica of that on opening nights of big pictures locally.

TWO BISBEE HURLERS BACKED BY CITIZENS

The business men of Bisbee, Ariz., believe that they have discovered two young pitchers that will develop into National League players. So strong is their conviction that they have wired President Harry Williams of the Coast League to send them an experienced catcher to tutor the hurlers. Incidentally the catcher will manage their ball club.

ROOSEVELT TEAM BEATS MONTEBELLO

Roosevelt High School defeated Montebello High yesterday in a practice baseball game by a score of 16 to 12.

Bushner, Gordinier and Silvas, Robinson and Huntman were the batteries for Roosevelt and Montebello, respectively.

Balter of the winners was the star batter of the game. He made three hits out of five times at bat.

BY FEG MURRAY

A hole in one is something for a golfer to talk about, but when two golfers make two aces in succession in a four-ball match and their partners get threes, thus halving the hole in one, why it's something to broadcast with the loudest of loud speakers. Jesse Baugh and Earl Aldridge did this on the 137-yard fifth hole at Fort Worth, Tex.

Probably the most famous single hole in one was Jock Hutchison's in the 1921 British open at St. Andrews. He got his ace at the eighth hole, when he needed it badly, and almost got another on the 270-yard ninth hole. This enabled him to tie with Roger Wethered and then beat him on the play-off.

Ask the veteran Harry Vardon if he has ever made a hole in one. "Yes," he'll tell you, "just once, years ago." Then ask another veteran, Sandy Herd, the same question. "Yes," he'll tell you, "I've made seventeen!" Funny things, these holes in one.

MODERATION

Article LXXXXIV

This is an age of strife, when people go at headlong pace for a while, then put on the reverse clutch suddenly, and often skid to a danger point—sometimes land in a ditch—send for the emergency wagon to pull them out—give a sigh, and remark that they had a narrow escape, and let it go at that.

People of this type are the same with everything they do. They stuff themselves with food until they are sick, then go on a fast. Go for months without any exercise, then go at it so strenuously for a day or so until they become sore from head to foot, then condemn the exercise and quit.

The average person when you look at them from all appearances seem to be sane and intelligent, yet from their everyday actions we sometimes wonder if they really are, from the foolish things they do.

LESS SICKNESS

When the human race learns to do everything in moderation, there will be less sickness in the world, and more happiness in the homes.

Business men very often confine themselves to the office from early morn until late at night for years with the idea of making a success. Later, when they feel that the business will run along smoothly without them, they spend many hours on the outside trying to make up for lost time. They succeed in one and fail in the other. Every day is a life unit in itself, and what you fail to accomplish on that particular day is lost, whether it is business or recreation you neglect, and both should be indulged in in moderation as you go along, in the place of neglecting one or the other, then going to the extreme trying to regain what you lost in years gone by.

The person who lives a life of moderation, and by that I mean applying it to everything he does, may not accumulate as much money as the person who keeps his nose to the grindstone for years, but will gain greater wealth in the way of happiness and health, and get more genuine pleasure out of life and live longer.

INDIGESTION

If more persons were moderate in their eating, there would be less fat people waddling along the street, or snoring at the moving-picture shows. And these same people would learn to enjoy food for the sake of food, instead of simply satisfying a gluttonous appetite, and would not be compelled to carry around a lot of excess weight.

Indigestion seldom pays a visit to the person who eats moderately, but to the person who overloads his stomach three times a day, indigestion and constipation become star boarders, and interfere with every plan in the human household.

The Creator placed sixteen elements in the human body, not because He had nothing else to do, but because it was one of the great universal laws, but in this age of intellectual progress people seem to thing the Creator did not know His business, so they satisfy themselves by supplying the body with about half the elements because they are too busy to bother about the rest. Then all of a sudden something happens, they are losing their pep, don't sleep like they used to, have headaches, brain does not act quickly, it is harder to concentrate. Then they come to the conclusion that they are working too hard, smoking too much, drinking too much coffee. They guess at everything but the right one.

OBSERVE LAWS

There is little harm in any of these things if they are used in moderation, and as far as work is concerned, it would never break one down if one would live according to the laws of nature. Work, play, eat, exercise in moderation before the breakdown comes, not wait until you are all in, then expect to regain your health by taking week-end vacations, or by playing a few games of golf. I thing golf is a very fine game for anyone who has the time to play it; yet it must be played in moderation by the average person if the real results are to be expected. The best rule to follow is, never do anything to excess, but everything you do, do it in moderation, and your health will be improved, and your life prolonged.

ANGLERS RESORT TO DEEP-SEA SPORT

Another bunch of local sportsmen has hit out for the deep-sea fishing stuff, according to Les McMurray of the B. H. Dyas Company. A few days ago H. J. Mallen and Capt. W. O. Clover, with Mack Sennett, Bill Williams, John J. McGann, Claude Wickman, Larry Rellera and J. A. Olsen as guests sailed aboard Mallen's yacht for Mexican waters.

The sportsmen will engage in hunting and fishing and will carry on their sport at Gaudaloupe, Cedros Island, Turtle Bay and Mazatlan Island.

CASEYS TO PLAY BASEBALL GAMES

The Hollywood and Glendale Knights of Columbus baseball teams will play for the State convention championship at Tournament Park, Pasadena, Sunday. The local teams have been playing a number of elimination games lately and the cream of the league will battle for the honors.

This game is to be one of the features scheduled during the Caseys State convention that is to be held in Pasadena at this time.

FRANK TABERSKI IS WINNER WITH CUE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

DETROIT, April 28.—Frank Taberski, representing Detroit, won the opening match of the national championship pocket billiard tournament here today, defeating Andrew St. Jean of Minneapolis, 125 to 106. Taberski had a high run of forty-one and St. Jean, twenty-nine. The game went thirty-four innings.

TODAY IN COAST LEAGUE CIRCLES

1923—Collecting eighteen hits in the first game and twenty bingles in the second, San Francisco hitters made life anything but happy for Seattle pitchers. The Seals won, 8 to 2, and 18 to 2. Ten Seals crossed the plate in one inning in the second game and every man hit safely. Paul Waner secured four hits in each game.

1923—Frank Wetzel, now with Portland, broke a leg in a fall while chasing a fly for Oakland against Salt Lake. Umpire Bill Byron narrowly missed accompanying Wetzel to the hospital, His Honor being the target of a pop-bottle barrage laid down by Oak fans. Walter Mails was fined $50 and suspended three days for his part in the disturbance.

1923—Frank Shellenback of Vernon held Sacramento to four hits, winning, 2 to 1.

1922—Jimmy O'Connell of San Francisco hit a home run in the ninth inning, tying up the game with Salt Lake. In the eleventh the Seals won on Valla's safe bunt and Kamm's triple.

1922—Jake May of Vernon, aided by luck, won a twelve-inning pitchers' duel from Jimmy Middleton of Portland, 1 to 0. Each hurler allowed four hits. In the twelfth Hawks walked, Middleton fell in fielding Hyatt's grounder and Sawyer's hit scored Hawks.

1921—Sam Agnew of San Francisco hit safely in four times at bat and stole three bases on Oscar Stanage of Los Angeles.

1920—Five double plays were made in Sacramento-Oakland game, three being executed by Senators.

1920—Salt Lake overwhelmed Vernon, 15 to 8, making thirteen hits off Dell, Ross, Schneider and Cooper.

1908—Oakland made fifteen hits and nine runs off Pitchers Koestner and Thorsen of Los Angeles.

1903—Two games went sixteen innings. Tacoma defeating Seattle, 1 to 0, and San Francisco winning from Oakland, 6 to 4.

PREPS SHOW UP STRONG

High School Athletes Likely to Give Varsity Men Close Competition in Olympic Trials

Not all of the star performers at the Southern California, Arizona and New Mexico tryouts for the Olympic Games, scheduled for May 24 at the Coliseum, will be from the surrounding colleges and universities. Last Saturday's high-school meet at the local oval went to prove that at least five prep athletes will be very much in the running when the events are staged.

Hank Coggeshall, Poly high jumper, cleared 6ft. 2 1-6-in., which should be just about good enough to win that event in the tryouts. Coggeshall will probably be up against Oliver Cory, U.S.C. star, and the two should have a merry battle of it.

SURE TO PLACE

Ralph Smith and Lee Barnes both sailed over the bar at 12ft. 3in. in the pole vault, and if they don't at least place in the big meet their supporters will be very much surprised.

Ross Nichols, perhaps the best high-school hurdler in the country today, ran his event in 15.4s., thus equalling the present prep record. Nichols is even faster than this, and when he gets up against such men as Daggs and Maxwell in the tryouts should register close to 15s. flat.

KLEIN SECOND CHOICE

Vic Klein, capable Hollywood sprinter, seems likely to take second to Charles Paddock in the 220-yard dash. Klein's time for this distance Saturday was 21.7s., the fastest recorded here this year. He looks mighty good at this writing.

Tickets for the tryouts are on sale at all of the leading sporting-goods houses and at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Seats are $1, $2 and $3, plus tax.

for the next six months Goto will be relieved of his position as court jester at Ascot. With Fred Horey on his way to Chicago the "razzers" will be given a holiday. With Goto back to the soil the kidding colony will have to adopt a new mascot.

Babe Stapp's leg, which was injured in the Goto ambuscade, will be all right in a few days. He will pilot No. 99 in next Sunday's events.

STRIBLING TO FACE CONLEY NEXT MONTH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) April 28. Billy Conley, Spokane light-heavyweight, has been selected as opponent for Young Stribling, Georgia middleweight, in a twelve-round bout here May 8.

Trojan Track Athletes Bust Pair of Marks

Beginning where the other runners left off Saturday afternoon, Carl Plate and Les Heilman stepped out at Bovard Field and cracked a couple of perfectly good marks for the Methodist track yesterday. Heilman apparently has no respect for Mike Elwood, who set a new Bovard record of 10m., 15s., in the two-mile Saturday, for yesterday he did the distance in 10m., 13 4-5s., Mike thus held the mark over the week-end, which is a rather short time to be a record-holder.

Plate ran the three-quarter mile race in 3m., 18 4-5s., thus clipping several seconds off the old mark of 3m., 22s., made by Gwynn Wilson in 1920.

These records will stand for all time as workmen are now covering Bovard Field with dirt in order to make a gridiron out of it.

BOWLERS TO PLAY GAME BY TELEGRAPH

A telegraphic tournament is scheduled for tonight at the Angelus Academy, when the local telephone company team rolls against other phone teams of the Pacific Coast. The other teams will include San Francisco, Seattle, Oakland, Sacramento and Portland. The winning club will play the Chicago phone team.

E. H. Cleckner, manager of the Angelus announces that no date has been set for the play-off for the Southern California doubles championship and the B. H. Dyas Company gold medals. It was billed a week ago but postponed when Ona Greeg, one of the players, was taken ill with pneumonia.

RICKARD TO STAGE BIG TENNIS TOURNEY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, April 28.—As an outgrowth of the sensational controversy aroused over the prospective disbarment from amateur tennis ranks of William T. Tilden, the national champion, and other player-writers, professional competition among a group of stars, possibly headed by Tilden, may be developed in 1925.

This prospect took somewhat definite form today when it was learned that Tex Rickard, noted promoter, has under consideration a plan to stage professional play next year, when the new player-writer rule of the United States Lawn Tennis Association goes into effect and seek the services of Tilden and other stars, including Vincent Richards, young Davis Cup player.

BASEBALL LEAGUE TO HOLD MEETING

Another meeting of the newly organized Independent Baseball League is to be held tomorrow night at the Rosslyn Hotel, it was announced last night by Secretary W. J. "Pep" Kerwin. Judge E. P. Woods will preside.

Final touching up of the season's schedule and the posting of forfeit money will be a part of the evening's business. The league is composed of ten clubs, all fast and well-balanced nines. Opening games of the schedule are set for next Sunday on local and suburban diamonds.

O'DONNELL BATTLES WELLS AT VERNON

Johnny O'Donnell, who is perhaps the best bet on the Coast, was signed to box Billy Wells on May 5 at Doyle's Vernon Arena. O'Donnell has beaten every lightweight on the Coast but Benjamin, and he has lost and won one against him. A little trouble was experienced over Wells's weight, but it was finally agreed that he would make 142 pounds the afternoon of the fight.

BECKER ELECTED CAPTAIN OF TEAM

BERKELEY, April 28. — A. G. (Bud) Becker, star hurdler at the University of California, has been elected captain of the varsity track team for 1925. Becker runs in the low and high-hurdle races. This year's captain is William Neufeldt, the hurler of weights.

CATCHER CALLS FOR WASTE BALL-
WHEN THIS MAY RESULT

When should a catcher signal for a "waste ball"?

Answered by

RAY SCHALK

Catcher, Chicago White Sox; One of the greatest backstops of all time. Has caught in 100 or more games per season for the past twelve years.

A catcher should at all times follow the plays in the field so that he can anticipate what is coming and, when the occasion arises, signal his pitcher for a waste ball. If the catcher is watching the field and sees that a runner is about to steal, or a hit and run play has been called, he flashes the signal for a waste ball. The result, if the catcher is a man of good judgment and brains, is a man thrown out on bases.

Wrestling Fans Await Revival of Mat Sport

Local wrestling fans who have been longing for a good peek at professional mat stars are to have their appetites satiated tomorrow night when Yussif Hussane and Jim Londos, two of the biggest men in the game, clash at the Philharmonic Auditorium in the first of a series of weekly programs to be staged by Sanders Wilson, local promoter.

Londos arrived here yesterday from Memphis, Tenn., where he took a decision from Ivan Linow, the Russian Cossack. Londos is the Greek heavyweight champion and always makes a big hit because of the speed with which he works.

Bull Montana will have to show a lot of stuff to defeat Prof. Mulligan, Y. M. C. A. instructor and former heavyweight champion of the Pacific Fleet. This should be a corking good bout.

Hiko Shoji, Japanese jiu-jitsu shark, and Jack Viley, the Rochester butcher boy, are also on the evening's program.

PREDICTS END OF CASH DEALS

Day of Big Money Deals Gone, Says Giant Boss

Public's Support Precludes Purchase Possibilities

Claims It's Up to Managers to Develop Stars

BY JOHN J. McGRAW,
Manager New York Giants
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, April 28.—The first ten days of the championship season have shown pretty clearly that baseball has entered a brand-new phase of development; one that will add more and more to its traditions as the national sport. The managers and owners, I am proud to see, have been quick to grasp it.

In two or three years from now, I predict, such a thing as one major league club buying a star from another for cash will be unheard of. There will be trades, of course, but the day of the big money deal is gone. Mark my words.

The eagerness of the public to support the pastime has made it practically impossible for any club to be in dire need of funds. That sort of prosperity automatically precludes the possibility of purchase. Teams need players, not money. Even in the minors they want talent. Already it is getting next to impossible to buy a player outright even from them. It is certainly a wholesome situation.

From now on the managers must show their ability in development of stars. They can no longer depend upon a big bank roll to pull them out of a hole. Teams must be built rather than assembled by buying the various parts here and there.

A striking evidence of how the managers have grasped this idea of the unusual and unexpected use of new players in the early games. Practically every club in both major leagues has shoved in youngsters right off the reel, and taken a a chance. It is the only way to see what we have on hand. And these many youngsters, feeling the test put up to them, have come through with colors flying. The fans have something new to think about every day. There is, in consequence, a freshness to the sport we haven't seen for many years. In a few seasons none of the great grand stands will be large enough. The Polo Grounds, for instance, were constructed to seat a gathering of from 50,000 to 60,000. In a short while we will exceed that. This spring the opening day turned out 50,000, and that on a chilly afternoon.

In a way we are getting back to the early principles of the game when it was a rivalry between the clubs as to who could develop the best talent to start off a season. In those days a young fellow was discovered, engaged and immediately exhibited to the fans. That element of sport is returning.

YOUNGSTERS LOOK GOOD

On my own club I have fourteen pitchers. Many of the youngsters look like coming stars. We suffered for the lack of pitchers the last two years, but now we have them in abundance. There was nothing left but to shove the new ones in and take a chance on their making good. To my delight, two of them, Wayland Dean and Walter Huntzinger, the Pennsylvania college boy, stepped right in and scored. Already they are favorites with the fans. Also they won games for us which count just as heavily now as they do in the fall.

In the past my system was to let these youngsters sit on the bench and gradually absorb the big league atmosphere until they felt at home. Then they could start without nervousness on their part or on mine or the other players. This year, though, we've got to take the risk and give them their chance. The veteran players have rallied behind these youngsters wonderfully.

This same situation has confronted the managers of all the major-league clubs. They are solving it in the same way. And the interst in the experiments is intense among the fans, who are, after all, the real spirit behind baseball. There is a new zest in the game. We are in the beginning of the greatest era baseball ever has enjoyed. Any old timer in the game can feel it.

After watching these young pitchers get away to a flying start the other day, Jack Bentley caused a smile on our bench.

"Say, fellows," he remarked dryly, "where do you get that idea about us being shy on pitchers? From now on I can see that a fellow has got to make a reservation two weeks in advance to even get in that box."

There is a whole lot in that. If you want a good idea of how this tendency toward youth has suddenly gripped all baseball just run down the list of box scores any day and observe the strange names of the pitchers. You'll see a youngster almost as often as you will the names that you have recognized for years.

TO CLASSIFY STARS

In two more weeks we will be able to classify these new stars and get a line on just who are the best. So far they all have been so uniformly successful that it is impossible to weed them out. I have several new ones to spring yet. Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker are taking chances on new ones and so are the Cubs, the Browns and others.

The quick start of Detroit, by the way, shows that they have confidence in being able to give the Yanks quite a fight. The early fight of the Cubs in the National is much the same. They got a way to a winning start and are keeping it up The strong Cincinnati club, playing the wonderful ball that it is, has had about all on its hands that it could handle.

The Boston Braves gave us a terrific fight. We were fortunate enough to get away with the close ones, but that club is going to cut a big figure this year. Bancroft's gang certainly has the spirit. The western clubs will not have such easy sailing when they come east this spring.

The Boston Red Sox, the Senators and the Athletics are also going to make it tough for the American League contenders when they go west.

NEW ERA DAWNS

The big thing this spring, though, is the dawning of that new era in baseball where ability to select and develop youngsters will count more heavily in the game than money. Nothing could have been better for real sport.

The one regret is the continual illness of Frank Chance, which necessitated his retirement for the year. Johnny Evers will prove a great substitute until Chance is well again. Men like Chance, Evers and Sisler are great for baseball.

GRID GAMES HALTED BY CATTLE DISEASE

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, April 28.—Twice a football match at Leighton Buzzards was held up owing to the foot-and-mouth disease. The teams played on a meadow adjoining an infected area and when the wind swept the ball into the forbidden territory the game was stopped.

The player who went in search of the ball had to dip his boots in a pail of disinfectant before he was permitted to ramble around the germ area. The match was allowed only on this regulation being carried out.

Spain is to buy ten more airplanes.

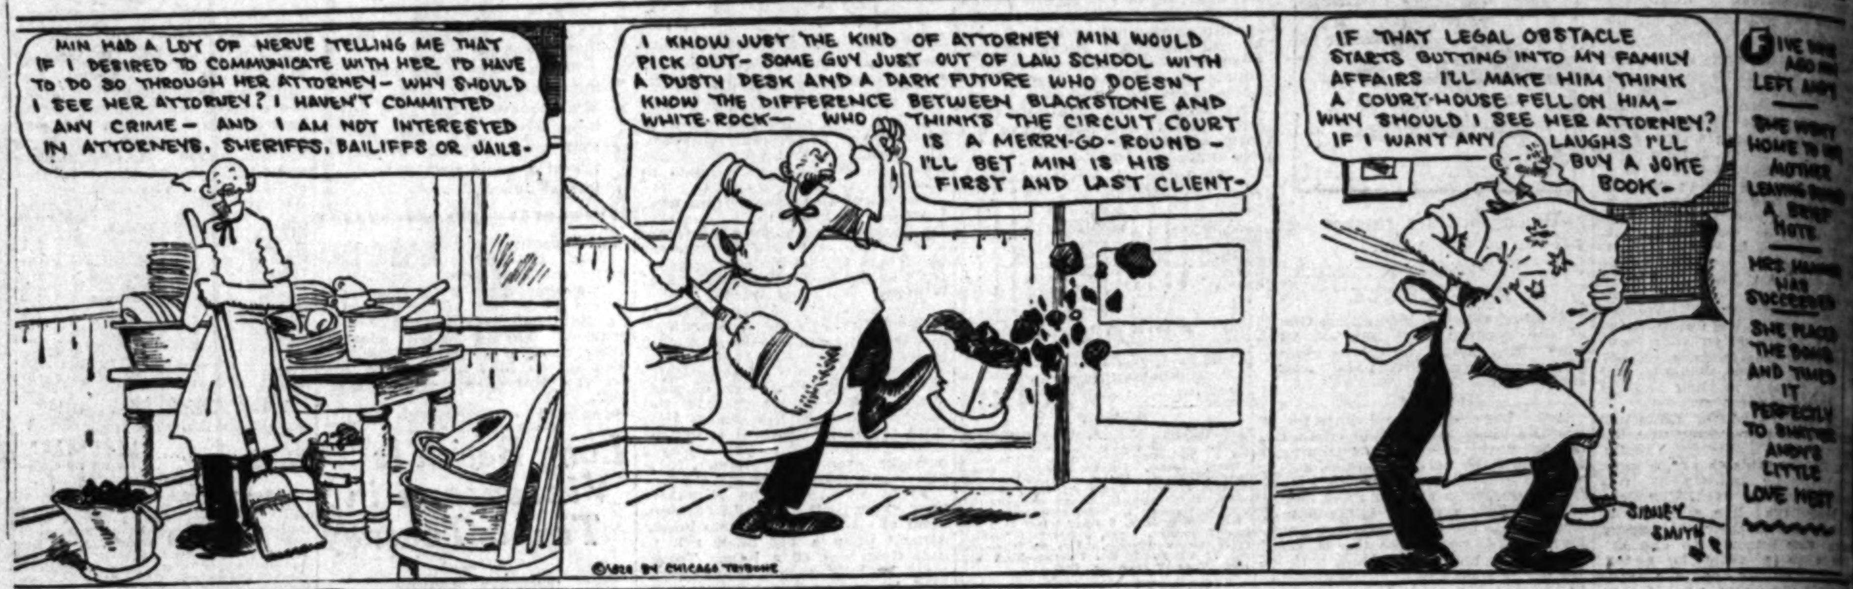
THE GUMPS—WITHOUT THE LAW



MIN HAD A LOT OF NERVE TELLING ME THAT IF I DESIRED TO COMMUNICATE WITH HER I'D HAVE TO DO SO THROUGH HER ATTORNEY— WHY SHOULD I SEE HER ATTORNEY? I HAVEN'T COMMITTED ANY CRIME— AND I AM NOT INTERESTED IN ATTORNEYS, SHERIFFS, BAILIFFS OR JAILS-
I KNOW JUST THE KIND OF ATTORNEY MIN WOULD PICK OUT— SOME GUY JUST OUT OF LAW SCHOOL WITH A DUSTY DESK AND A DARK FUTURE WHO DOESN'T KNOW THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN BLACKSTONE AND WHITE ROCK— WHO THINKS THE CIRCUIT COURT IS A MERRY-GO-ROUND— I'LL BET MIN IS HIS FIRST AND LAST CLIENT-
IF THAT LEGAL OBSTACLE STARTS BUTTING INTO MY FAMILY AFFAIRS I'LL MAKE HIM THINK A COURT-HOUSE FELL ON HIM— WHY SHOULD I SEE HER ATTORNEY? IF I WANT ANY LAUGHS I'LL BUY A JOKE BOOK-

ARIZONA GIVES COOLIDGE NINE

Convention Sends Instructed Delegation

Ex-Gov. Campbell Elected Committeeman

Cameron Strength Not Much in Evidence

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, April 28.—The Arizona Republican State convention today decided to send an instructed Coolidge delegation to Cleveland.

Its nine representatives will be H. R. Daggs, Mrs. J. L. B. Alexander and J. C. Adams of Phoenix; H. DeWitt Smith of Jerome, H. S. Corbet of Tucson, J. P. Boyle of Douglas, R. B. Walton of Winslow, Dell Potter of Clifton and T. H. O'Brien of Miami. The alternates are F. A. Nathan of Tucson, Mrs. J. F. Lewis of Phoenix, S. F. William of Osborn, F. A. Woodward of Globe, George Jay of Bisbee, Mrs. C. E. Greer of Apache county, George A. Staiger of Pinal county, Mrs. Andrew Miller of Coconino and H. R. Sisk of Nogales.

CAMPBELL ON COMMITTEE

Former Gov. Thomas E. Campbell, returned only two days from about a year's absence, was elected member of the national committee, and Mrs. Barnette Marks of Phoenix, appointed last year to the position, was retained as associate member of the committee, no opposition appearing on the floor to either.

Resolutions passed were of the briefest, as presented by Judge J. H. Campbell of Tucson. They deplored the loss of Harding and recounted with pride of the achievements of the Republican national administration, and praise the President, with instructions to the Arizona delegation to use all efforts toward his nomination. Then followed a sentence of appreciation of the national administration's good work in pushing reclamation and the share in it taken by Senator Ralph H. Cameron. The resolutions were passed without debate, though President P. H. Hayes of the Arizona Coolidge Club, secured attention for the reading of a letter from Cameron in which the Senator extended greetings to the convention and urged harmony in its actions. Prophesying victory for the national ticket, he wired: "Let's put on our old-time war paint."

CAMERON STRENGTH

Beyond the mention in the resolutions and the reading of the telegram, there was no evidence of the Cameron strength in the convention, estimated at about a third of the membership, or about fifty individuals. Yavapai county had adopted the unit rule at the instance of his supporters, but this was the only delegation so organized. Despite the apparent unanimity of action in the convention, there had been a struggle that ended early this morning in an apparent compromise between the two factions, yet small allowance was made by the victorious Baumbert element. There was flat refusal to name Cameron on the delegation.

Selection of the resolutions committee and of the committee for ostensible selection of the delegates offered the only chances for the minority to show strength, and these were not taken. Former Territorial Governor R. E. Sloan served as chairman of the convention. The keynote speech was made by former Gov. William L. Harding of Iowa, who urged harmony, securing prolonged applause when he declared there can be no room for two parties within the Republican party.

Addresses also were given by Secretary Work of the Interior Department, Indian Commissioner Charles H. Burke, former Gov. Thomas E. Campbell and Mrs. Louise M. Dodson, representing the national committee.

Names of Many Found in Book of Dope King

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, April 28.—Names of persons in a number of Southern California cities are said by Federal authorities here to have been found in a red-covered book seized when Mexican officials arrested Alejandro Wong, reputed "king" of dope peddlers in Lower California, and seized a quantity of illicit drugs.

Names of these persons were written in English, it was said, and certain notations after their names have been translated into such words as "addict" "dealer" and "distributor."

Much importance is attached to the book as Federal authorities believe it will give them worth-while leads into the underworld. Wong was arrested Saturday night at Tia Juana. He is said to have formerly operated in Mexicali.

Bids Opened for Rincon Seawall; $516,780 Low

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, April 28.—Bids for the construction of the Rincon causeway, a seawall on the Coast Highway between Ventura and Santa Barbara, were opened today by the State Highway Commission and taken under consideration.

Plans call for construction of a 6400-foot seawall. The low bidder was F. Rolandi of San Francisco, whose bid was $516,780. The engineer's estimate was $448,967.

PASADENA OIL MAN SENTENCED IN EAST

OFFICIALS OF OIL COMPANY CONVICTED OF FRAUD AT MILWAUKEE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) April 28.—Edwin C. Kingsbury, Forth Worth (Tex.) attorney; Charles H. Kreigh, Pasadena, and Isaac C. Howard, Des Moines, oil-stock promoters and officers of the Consolidated Producers' Refining Company, were sentenced to two years and six months in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., by Judge F. A. Geiger in the United States District Court here today on charges of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud.

In addition each defendant was fined $5000. Pleas of guilty were entered to two counts of the thirteen incorporated in the indictment returned several months ago in United States District Court, but the court ordered that they run concurrently.

The indictments charged conspiracy to use the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of stock in the company. Kingsbury was president of the concern, Kreigh, vice-president, and Howard, trustee.

TRIES TO END STRIKE; FILIPINO NEAR DEATH

MOB ABOUT TO KILL VICTIM WHEN EX-POLICEMAN SAVES HIM

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

HONOLULU, April 28.—Efforts of Eusebio Flores, a Filipino, to induce several hundred striking countrymen to return to work on the sugar plantations resulted today in a riot at Watertown, the strikers' camp, and almost cost Flores his life.

When George Keola, a Hawaiian, formerly on the police force, arrived at the scene the strikers had tied a rope around Flores's neck and were fastening the other end to an automobile, intending to draw Flores over the rocky road. Keola held the mob back with a revolver.

The planters say that some of the strikers have returned to work. The strikers number 600, the planters say.

GOV. HUNT FUMIGATED? HASN'T LEFT ARIZONA

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, April 28.—Gov. Hunt today was interested in an interview in a Los Angeles paper, one that indicated that he had been interviewed while on an automobile tour up the California coast on the way to Sacramento, how he had been fumigated and how he had invited the reporter to smell his clothing. Even his California itinerary was indicated. It happens that the Governor hasn't been out of Arizona at all for a fortnight or more past and doesn't even contemplate a California trip.

Appointment of Robert L. Leach, superintendent of the State Banking Department, as receiver of the defunct Wiota Savings Bank, is asked in a petition filed in the Cass County District Court by Atty.-Gen. Gibson. The Wiota bank was closed after a quiet "run" had depleted the reserve fund.

Mrs. Charles Smith of West Branch is slowly recovering from a peculiar accident. During a recent electrical storm the electric and telephone wires become crossed causing the phone to ring. Mrs. Smith attempted to answer and was knocked unconscious for some time.

Word from Atlantic says Dist. Judge Whitmore has signed a decree granting judgment in favor of the Marne Savings Bank, a defunct institution, against its former president, John T. Clasen and his wife, Mrs. N. L. Clasen, for $6600 and $200 respectively.

INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, April 28.—The population of Indianapolis by July 1 will have passed the 350,000 mark, reaching an estimated total of 350,425, according to the 1924 estimate of the Census Bureau. This is an increase of 7707 over the 1923 estimate and an increase of 36,231 over the official count of 1920.

Mrs. Rose Lanam, wife of S. O. Lanam of Columbus, Ind., has filed cross complaint in Circuit Court here in her husband's divorce suit, alleging the plaintiff is worth $100,000, and demands $30,000 alimony.

News of the award of a bronze Carnegie hero medal, with a monthly allowance of $30 for herself and her son 2 years old, came as a complete surprise to Mrs. Carrie Judy of Anderson yesterday. Her husband, George Franklin Judy, lost his life at Lawrenceville, Ill., in saving the life of a fellow-employee of the Indian Oil and Refining Company.

KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, April 28.—Dr. Patrick Francis Lyons, 63 years of age, died in St. Joseph Hospital yesterday. He was a practicing physician here twenty-five years and retired five years ago on account of failing health. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Margaret Lyons.

J. Carroll Walzer, 24 years of age, formerly cashier of the defunct Bank of Puxico, was arrested last night on an indictment of the Stoddard county grand jury charging embezzlement, grand larceny and receiving of deposits while the institution was insolvent. The bank's shortage is estimated at $400,000.

Word from Topeka says labor's annual spring opening now is in full sway with a big demand for workers in all lines of industry, according to the weekly report of the labor division of the Kansas Industrial Court. The 946 men applying in the week at the seven free employment stations throughout the State constitute the largest number since last summer, and the demand for laborers, especially those not skilled, exceeds any week in the last four months.

ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—Friends of Joseph M. Ebeling, attorney and real estate dealer and formerly a member of the old City Council, have learned he was married on September 25 last in Germany to Mrs. Bertha Moerschel, widow of a wealthy brewer of Jefferson City, Mo., who died about six years ago.

A City Dancing Commissioner, to maintain order and good morals in public dance halls, is provided for in an ordinance introduced in the Board of Aldermen. With it was submitted a petition signed by forty-four individuals, many of them prominent citizens, and the St. Louis Dancing Teachers' Association.

LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, April 28.—Louisville increased its population 10,592 in the last year and now is 310,788, according to the new City Directory.

Sale of the G. Lee Redmon Company, including the White Mills distillery and whisky made by the distillery in storage in the warehouse covering the block bounded by Eighteenth, Twentieth and Howard streets and Garland avenue, at a price reported to be $1250 a share, or a profit of $200,000 to Owsley Brown, last night was admitted to be pending.

The will of the late John T. Botts of Mt. Sterling, who died ten days ago, was probated yesterday. The property consisted of 600 acres of blue grass land and other holdings and is valued at $100,000. One-third of the real estate and one-half of the personality was left to the widow, Mrs. Mary Botts. The balance is left to William Botts, son, but if he dies before reaching his majority the inheritance will go to the mother.

OMAHA

OMAHA, April 28.—The First National Bank of Schuyler, Neb., which was closed last week after a heavy run caused by untrue rumors regarding the bank's condition, will be reorganized and reopened soon under a State charter.

Death of Bertram G. Goodhue, designer of the new State Capitol, who died suddenly after a heart attack in New York, is not expected to complicate completion of the building, Gov. Bryan said at Lincoln. Work on the structure has progressed sufficiently that Mr. Goodhue's ideas can be continued satisfactorily, it was stated.

Peter E. Nelson, former president of the closed Thedford Bank, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of making a false statement of the condition of the bank to the State Department of Trade and Commerce and was sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary.

Major J. W. Cress, 87 years of age, Civil War veteran, died at his home following ill health of more than eight months. He was adjutant of Phil Kearney Post No. 2, G.A.R., and a resident of Omaha since 1886. Maj. Cress and Mrs. Cress heard Abraham Lincoln's famous address at Gettysburg.

AKRON

AKRON, April 28.—The will of the late George T. Allen, who died recently in Florida, bequeaths an estate estimated at $250,000. Aside from a small bequest to various relatives, the estate is left in trust for the two sons of the deceased, Don O. and Ben H. Allen, each of whom will receive their shares in three installments, the last to be paid when they reach 55 years of age.

An unprecedented building boom in Akron's suburban cities is becoming more noticeable daily. And home building is leading the construction program. Cuyahoga Falls, in particular, and Kenmore and Barberton report the biggest home-building activity in many years. In Cuyahoga Falls nearly 100 homes, which will cost approximately $500,000, are under construction.

City officials have signed a State lease for Summit Lake and have sent the contract back to Columbus for the signature of Gov. Donahey. The State property bordering the water is to be made into a park. The waters are to be cleaned and a municipal bathing beach will be created.

D., and Minneapolis, left an estate of more than $150,000, with bequests of $5000 for the Sheltering Arms Orphanage, Minneapolis; $2500 for a summer outing fund for the poor in Minneapolis and $1000 each to the Minneapolis and Grand Forks Y.W.C.A., according to a petition for administration filed here in County Probate Court. Twenty-six head of cows and two horses perished in the fire which destroyed all the buildings on the Wallace Bray farm, two miles east of Elkhorn, with a loss of more than $10,000. Four horses were saved. The large barn, granary, tool shed and chicken house were burned. The fire started by the backfire of a gasoline engine.

ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, April 28.—A total of twenty-seven deaths as a result of "black" smallpox were reported in the State since the early part of January, Dr. A. J. Chesley, executive secretary State Board of Health, announced. The most recent deaths were reported as follows: St. Louis county, 2; Carlton county, 2, and Aitken county 2. Although these deaths were reported there is no indication that the disease is spreading and the threatened epidemic is on the wane, Dr. Chesley said.

Many residents at Albert Lea were startled last night when a large meteor fell north of the city. The meteor traveled low and the despite the fact that it was still daylight the ball of fire illuminated the country for miles. Frank M. Ferguson, secretary to Chief of Police Cole at Flint, has disappeared suddenly with his bride of three weeks. Chief Cole claims that more than $1500 in city funds also is gone. Ferguson, divorced two years ago, maintained a high-powered car, belonged to several clubs, lived far beyond his means, members of the police force and friends said, after the Chief's secretary left.

POET LAUREATE HIT DUE TO EXPOSITION

ENGLAND WANTS TO KNOW WHY FETE HAS NOT INSPIRED POEM

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, April 28.—The British empire exhibition has demonstrated anew that the most-presistently abused man in England is shy old Dr. Colbert Bridges, the venerable poet laureate, who has not strummed his lyre to a patriotic tune for many years.

The public always emphasizes this whenever a big national event comes and goes with Bridges's lyre still mute. "It is a curious thing that a theme such as the opening of the empire exhibition does not seem to have inspired a single poet of quality to sing its meaning, and its glory," observes Reynolds's Weekly, adding:

"Any man who cannot conjure up the gift of song on such occasions ought never to have been appointed poet laureate. Perhaps the mistake was made when the butt of Canary wine, which used to go with the salary, was commuted for money. Poets laureate ought to drink this wine to inspire them to lift up their stories in song on suitable occasions."

Coronation Chair of English Kings Beauty Restored

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, April 28.—There is a highly skilled old craftsman at Westminster Abbey who, year after year, devotes his time exclusively to bringing to light hidden beauties dating back to the medieval age—some of them forgotten for centuries. His name is R. J. Quennell and he regards his calling almost as a sacred one. He has devoted the last month to restoring the famous Coronation Chair, in which has been crowned every English monarch from the time of William the Conqueror—except Edward V, the boy King, smothered in the Tower at the instigation of the usurper who became Richard III.

This is the chair which contains the famous stone of destiny—the Stone of Scone—brought from Scotland by Edward I and said to be one on which Jacob rested his head at Bethel.

In Edward I's day a "Master Walter" painted patterns of birds, foliage and animals on this chair. Upon the back was painted the figure of the King, either Edward the Confessor or Edward I, his feet resting on a lion. Now, exactly 630 years after Master Walter finished his work, Mr. Quennell has found all that Father Time has left of the faded paint.

He has been able to bring back a lion's paw and some of the birds and foliage. They are faint, but they may be seen just as Master Walter painted them nearly seven centuries ago. The Coronation Chair finished, Quennell will go into the Record Chamber, where his care will be lavished on a newly discovered painting of the arms of Richard II.

OFFICERS NAMED BY PASTOR IN BOMBING

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, April 28.—Implicating county and Federal enforcement officials in the bombing of his home early today, Rev. Elmer L. Williams, the "fighting parson" and terror of bootleggers and beer-runners, retaliated with a promise of "such a drive against viciousness and booze and beer as Chicago never has seen." No one in the house was injured. Dr. Williams set up a sign in his front yard announcing that the bombing was "a plea for light wines and beer."

HEARING OF TOWNLEY REOPENS AT FARGO

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FARGO (N. D.) April 28.—The hearing of Arthur C. Townley, former head of the Nonpartisan League, and J. J. Hastings, charged with embezzlement of funds of the United States Consumers Stores, reopened here today. The charges are preferred by J. W. Brinton, former secretary of Townley, who charges that the defendants embezzled $72,000 of the store's funds.

Mother and Son Are Found With Throats Slashed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 28.—The bodies of Mrs. May Post, 67 years of age, and her son, George S. Post, 33, were found with their throats slashed by razors, in their home early today. Police believe mother and son entered a suicide pact.

Two other sons, returning from Oregon City, found the bodies, the mother's in an upstairs hallway and the son's in the bathroom. Each body had a razor beside it.

Two notes, asking that one of the surviving sons exchange postal certificates at a bank, were found in the house. The police were informed that the mother had been despondent since the death of her husband.

REVIEW IS REFUSED IN SUIT ON PATENTS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Supreme Court refused today to review a suit against the Radio Corporation of America and the De Forest Radio Telephone and Telegraph Company, brought by Ralph Emerson and others, involving whether the American Telephone and Telegram Company could by contract authorize the Radio Corporation to sue for infringement of patents on inventions relating to radio.

Thousands use it first for clearing away the most serious skin affections

A STUBBORN rash, annoying irritation or eczema, perhaps some really serious skin disorder! In thousands of homes Resinol has today become the first remedy applied to any sort of skin affection.

A formula developed thirty years ago by a well-known physician in his practice, and at first distributed only through doctors' prescriptions, Resinol, through its healing, soothing qualities, has won the confidence of users everywhere.

Its action in many cases is almost immediate. Itching is relieved at once, and often in a few days the most serious skin disorders disappear.

Thousands who have used it ask: "What makes it do its work so quickly?" Physicians say: "Because Resinol sinks deep into the pores, attacks the root of the disorder, and starts the skin again acting normally."

If you have been troubled with any spot, rash or irritation on your skin, try Resinol Ointment. Get a jar at your druggist or send for a free trial sample to Dept. 6, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. It is absolutely harmless—will not irritate the delicate texture of an infant's skin, or even raw exposed flesh.

HUSBAND SHOT BY GIRL BANDIT

Gun Goes Off Accidentally During Hold-up

Plot to Rob Taxi Driver is Revealed

Couple Confess, One in Jail, Other in Hospital

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DENVER, April 28.—Clifford L. Waters, 27-year-old Oklahoman, is in the Littleton County Hospital with a bullet in his left arm, while his girl wife, Nellie Waters, sits in a cell in the Arapahoe County Jail. Both, in their own way, are musing on the ironies of fate.

They started out to be desperadoes. They held up a taxi driver, but when he reached for a hip pocket, the girl fired a shot which hit her husband. Frightened, they walked to a farmhouse, called the police and admitted their attempt at crime.

The girl, bobbed hair awry and face swollen from a night of weeping, gazed dully through jail bars to say:

"We had to do it. I didn't want to be a robber."

PLANS MAPPED OUT

The man, from his cot in the hospital, cursed the weakness which prompted him to the "easy way." He, more than the girl, sensed the grim humor of a fate which tempted him to crime, directed the bullet meant for another into his own body, and which may put both him and wife in the penitentiary until the best of their youth is spent.

The pair left their home early in the evening, their plans mapped out. They walked to the taxi stand of Nick Ranker and ordered him to drive them to Petersburg.

When close to the town they ordered Ranker to stop and turn out the lights. He said he turned around to ask why they wanted the lights off and both of them covered him with a gun and ordered him to "stick 'em up." Ranker charged they took $4.75 from his pockets and then demanded that he "come through with the remainder of it."

DRIVER FLEES

"There's more in my hip pocket," Ranker replied and started to reach for his pocket. He struck the woman's right arm and her pistol was discharged at almost the same moment. Waters also fired. Ranker unhurt, rolled out of the machine and ran to a farmhouse. He returned a short time later and found his passengers had disappeared. He then drove back to Denver.

Waters and his wife made their way to the nearest house. They rang the bell, and a woman came to the door. Waters told her he was hurt, and they gained entrance to the house. They then told the surprised woman to telephone for the police.

Chief Tucker of Englewood and deputies hurried to the house. Waters told them the whole story.

POLITICIANS URGED TO ACT IN SPANISH CRISIS

NEWSPAPERS SAY TIME HAS ARRIVED FOR LEADERS TO BREAK SILENCE

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

PORT VENDRES (Franco-Spanish Frontier) April 28.—In line with the recent agitation for the abolition of the Spanish military directory, the Madrid newspapers, almost without exception, are beginning to comment on the silence of politicians, declaring that the time has arrived for them to display activity.

El Solu say that Count Romanes, former president of the Senate, who was removed by royal decree in November, 1923, is becoming impatient and that the reformists are preparing to change their attitude of nonparticipation while the Socialists are organizing for action.

CHANCE TO LEARN LINOTYPE TRADE

Linotpying is one of the best-paid trades. It is easily learned by the average man or woman. There is a great scarcity of linotypers throughout the United States. For price of tuition and other information, inquire at 419 Wilcox Building or telephone 835-287.

DAUGHERTY PLAYS HOST TO DEPUTY

Brother of ex-Attorney-General Gives Dinner to Man Arresting Him

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CINCINNATI (O.) April 28.—Mal S. Daugherty played host at a dinner tonight to John McGrain, Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms of the United States Senate, following Daugherty's arrest by McGrain earlier in the day, on a warrant signed by Senator Albert B. Cummins.

Federal Judge Smith Hickenlooper released Daugherty on a writ of habeas corpus and set May 10 as the date for the hearing.

A. Lee Beatty, Assistant United States District Attorney, represented the Senate at a secret hearing at which the writ was granted. Daugherty signed his own bond for $5000. The writ was almost invalidated by failure to put up the $50 fee required in District Court, but Daugherty paid it in bills at the last minute.

MOONSHINE DRINKER DIVES TO HIS DEATH

FIREMAN TELLS OF HIS COMPANION DECIDING FOR SWIM

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, April 28.—While under the influence of moonshine, Patrick McGovern, a fireman employed at the Armour elevator on the south bank of the river, two blocks east of the boulevard link bridge, leaped into the water last night and was drowned. Terrence Boyle told the police he and McGovern had been drinking in the boiler room all afternoon.

"Suddenly Pat says to me: 'Let's take a dive,'" Boyle told the police. "I says: 'You're crazy. It's too cold. You can do the swimmin' and I'll stick by the bottle.' He rushed upstairs and when he didn't come back I went up to see him swimmin'. He was nowhere about and his hat was floatin'."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

HUNTERS VIOLATE LAW

BISMARCK (N. D.) April 28.—The first day's shoot of the national crow hunt in this vicinity brought in its wake many protests, to the effect that prairie chickens, North Dakota's most prized game birds, were destroyed by hunters, who took advantage of the crow hunt to violate the game laws with impunity.

MILKING CONTEST ARRANGED

RED WING (Minn.) April 28.—The local American Legion post is seeking the loan of cows to be used in a milking contest to be put on at its spring carnival in May. The contest is to be open to milkers from Minnesota and adjoining States.

TRIANGLE WATER HEATER AUTOMATIC

Heat units passing up the chimney cost money and benefit no one but the gas companies. Energy should not be wasted. Every foot of gas burned by the Triangle Water Heater heats water, even the pilot (a Bunsen burner) works. Hair felt insulation retains the heat, keeps the room cool and the water hot. The operation cost is very low, gas bills go 'way down, satisfaction goes 'way up.

You'll have more hot water than you can use. No waiting—it's ready before you need it, stored up for you and kept hot.

Appearance? White enameled jacket, nickel trimmed, a finer looking water heater you never saw.

Ask your plumber about the Triangle—he will tell you how it works and why it more than pleases.

KILLS DAD TO PROTECT MOTHER

Boy is Held on Charge of Murder

[P. & A. Photo]

Mrs. Charles Galluzzo and Her Son

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, April 28.—A boy's mother is his best friend. Dominick Galluzzo, 16 years of age, believed that. It used to break his heart when his father came home drunk and beat his mother brutally for slight provocation.

One night last week, Charles Galluzzo, 39, the father, staggered home again and quarreled with his wife while Dominick and his brother crouched in a corner and looked on. But this time, when Galluzzo struck his wife, the boy was driven to interfere. He ran to a drawer and got a revolver, firing it at the ceiling to frighten his father.

The man turned on his son and attacked him. During the struggle the revolver was discharged and the father fell dead to the floor, slain by his son. When the police came, Dominick's young brother attempted to shield him by saying that the father had committed suicide. But at the police station Dominick told what had happened and was held on a charge of murder.

DENIED WINE, BISHOP QUITS

Action of Denver Church Head Taken as Protest to Volstead Act Enforcement

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DENVER, April 28.—Announcing that a bishop these days has no more pleasures or privileges than an ordinary layman in the matter of getting around the Volstead Act, Bishop Frank Rice of the Liberal Church, resigned, effective immediately, after John F. Vivian had informed him that his request for four gallons of nose paint was refused.

"I am resigning as spiritual head of the Liberal Church," announced Rice, "after making a desperate battle for wine for sacramental purposes. That battle, I regret to say, has ended disastrously for me. I am through. Mr. Vivian, Federal prohibition director, informed me that I could not have two gallons of claret and two gallons of port wines for sacramental purposes, thus crushing the hopes of myself and congregation and leaving nothing for me to do but resign in protest."

The resignation will be acted on by the church board of directors and Rice declared he would insist that it be accepted forthwith.

"What's the use of being a bishop if you aren't to dabble in sacraments and sacramental wines?" asked Rice.

PRIEST BELIEVED DROWNED

Mayor Rolph, Relative, Thinks Prelate Was Victim of Rip Tide; Discounts Suicide Theory

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, April 28.—If Rev. William Nicol, Australian priest, missing from his room at Hotel Schuyler here since last Monday, was drowned in the ocean, his death was accidental. This was the statement today of Mayor George M. Rolph of San Francisco, second cousin of the Roman Catholic prelate, made during a long-distance telephone conversation between the San Francisco Mayor and Long Beach detectives.

Mayor Rolph declared that there can be no possible motive for suicide and that he is of the opinion that Father Nicol, who was a surf-bathing enthusiast, was caught in a rip tide and was drowned here last Monday. The priest was last seen by a maid at Hotel Schuyler, who said he was leaving the hotel in a bathing suit and an overcoat.

Long Beach police were urged by Mayor Rolph to spare no expense in their efforts to locate the priest or to recover his body. Father Nicol, the San Francisco Mayor said, comes of a wealthy Australian family and came to Long Beach for his health, prior to making a tour of this country. Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco, local police were advised, cabled relatives regarding the mystery at Lismore, Australia, today.

MODERN GIRL FATIGUED

She Burns the Candle at Both Ends, Says Woman Doctor

Fatigue is one of the most deadly foes of the young woman of 1924. Even the brains of bees and birds show the using up of cell substance at the close of the day. According to Dr. Clelia Duel Mosher of Leland Stanford University, the average young woman keeps up the maximum effort with the minimum reserve. She is the author of "Woman's Physical Freedom," and widely known as an authority on woman's health.

"Nervous bankruptcy is being courted by the young woman of today," says Dr. Mosher. "She fills her life with incessant activities. In her desire not to miss anything she burns the candle at both ends, cutting short her sleep, hurrying with her meals or often omitting them altogether. This increasing of the periods of activity means simply the taking away the time needed to repair and to rebuild the used-up cell substance.

"Girls crave a short but rich life. 'I don't want to live to be old, but live to the full and then be through,' is a typical attitude. Unfortunately this disregard of the need which the body has for periods of rest, alternated with periods of worth-while activity, does not kill, but recruits that army of semi-invalid, middle-aged women. These cases are often the despair of the physician who is confronted with the problem which began ten years before it was presented to him.

"The problem of sleep and the problem of health are closely interwoven. To miss a couple of hours' sleep at night seems trivial. Yet losing an hour's sleep at night means the loss of seven hours' sleep each week, the equivalent of about one sleepless night per week, or forty-eight sleepless nights a year.

"One begins to realize the handicap this means to the growing girl, who must rebuild and repair what has been used in her over-active day. The young woman who really wishes to live to the full will further her desires by attention to these rather stupid every-day habits of sleeping nine hours per night, drinking eight glasses of water per day, and having enough outdoor exercise."—[New York Times.

A TIP FOR EDDIE

If the Prince of Wales will kindly oblige with another spectacular spill it will give us a fresher setting for a joke just received from New York. Perhaps, indeed, our contributor, Mrs. H. R. S., with feminine intuition, sees another cropper in the near offing. Even at this moment the report of one may be on the wire, who knows? At any rate, here is the joke:

Algy: Do you think the Prince of Wales will ever land on the throne?

Reggie: Not if he keeps being thrown on the land, haw! haw!

But all nonsense aside, we hope that the royal scion will take the tip of one of our clever paragraphers and in future ride a hobby instead of a horse.—[Boston Transcript.

NEW YORK'S OPERATORS

About 20,000 telephone operators are employed in the 134 telephone exchanges of the New York Telephone Company and in the long lines department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in New York City. To these should be added some 20,000 or more additional telephone operators employed by private concerns, making a total of over 40,000 operators engaged in the task of serving the people of this one city—which number is about half the population of the entire State of Nevada.

WOODLAKE, April 28.—During the past week the fish hatchery on the Keweah River, east of Woodlake, has hatched 199,000 steelhead and 100,000 rainbow trout. ROBERT LINCOLN SAW THREE ASSASSINATED

Here is the amazing, the eerie experience of Robert T. Lincoln, son of President Lincoln, and now in his eighty-first year, and so far as I know it has never before been published.

Young Lincoln was in the Army and stationed in Virginia when he received an order to report at Washington. He got into the theater just in time to see his father receive the fatal wound.

Years later Mr. Lincoln was Secretary of War under Garfield. The President asked him to meet him at the station, and he reached there just as Garfield was assassinated. During McKinley's administration Mr. Lincoln received an invitation to attend the formal opening of the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo and, accompanied by his family, got there just in time to see the President shot by Czolgosz.

A friend happened to be with Mr. Lincoln when he received an invitation to attend a Presidential dinner at Washington a few years ago. He said in effect: "If they only knew, they wouldn't want me there!" Then he told of his unhappy experience.—[B. C. Forbes in Forbes Magazine.

TWENTY ILL DUE TO HUGE PARTY CAKE

Men, Women and Children Suffer Ptomaine Attack at Home

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, April 28.—A party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Izzo was interrupted when the host and hostess and eighteen of their guests, including half a dozen children, became ill after partaking of an elaborate cake. The twenty were attended by Dr. Le Pore of Harlem Hospital.

Patric Domnorello, 13 years of age, one of the children, failed to respond to treatment and was taken to the hospital in a serious condition. Dr. Le Pore said the child was suffering from ptomaine poisoning. The others, including Marie Izzo, 2, daughter of the Izzos, remained at home.

Samples of the cake were taken to the police station by Patrolman Gillian and will be turned over to the Board of Health for analysis.

The cake was a huge affair with vanilla icing and fancy trimmings. It was eighteen inches in diameter and six inches thick, made of nuts, fruit, jellies and other ingredients. During the height of the festivities it was cut and served. Within five minutes of eating the cake the children showed signs of distress. Soon afterward the adults, most of them relatives of the Izzos, complained of feeling ill.

School Janitor Descendant of Japan Emperor

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TOKIO, April 28.—Holding that he is a direct descendant of the Emperor Kotoku who held sway over Japan from 646 to 649 A. D., with his capital at Nara, a venerable old man who has been for years janitor of the Uyeno Art School in Tokio has written to the authorities demanding that "what is his by right be restored to him."

Asakura Kichizo, the claimant for princely honors, declares that he has certain treasures and family heirlooms which prove his contention. According to these relics he is a descendant of Asakura Norikage and Prince Hyomai, a blood relative of the Emperor Kotoku. It is said that several authorities in the Imperial household department recognize these heirlooms and treasures as genuine. Among those who, it is said, believe that the old janitor has a just claim, are Prince Kujo, elder brother of the Empress, Count Hirata, keeper of the privy seal, and Prince Nijo.

The present Mr. Asakura, claimant for Imperial purple, just escaped with his life in the earthquake last September. The ancestral tablet which had been handed down from generation to generation was destroyed by fire, but he managed to save his other treasures and relics. Prince Nijo is reported to be in communication with the authorities of the Imperial Household Department to secure recognition of Janitor Asakura's claim.

Every line of every want ad must be "set" by an expert linotype operator into what is known as a "slug." Although the weight of a single slug is not great, yet during March of this year *38,709 pounds of linotype metal were required to mould the 160,323 want ads printed by the Los Angeles Times. FIGHTING BLOOD

by H. C. WITWER

About this time, Drew City was treated to the choice scandal of the year and for all I know the natives are talking about it yet. The New York papers comes in as usual one day on the 4:15 local and within half a hour you couldn't of bought one in town for $54,000. The reason is a picture of Rags Dempster's father on the front page and above it in great, big, black letters it says the following:

POLICE SEEK J. RODNEY DEMPSTER.

$7,000,000 EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED!

Underneath is about nine columns explaining matters and there was plenty to explain about that seven million bucks! According to the newspapers, this mock turtle has dropped not only his own bankroll, and Dempster was worth important money, but he has ruined all the investors and his carpet factory by losing their jack in Wall Street. Seven million dollars—sweet mamma, the mere mention of that much sugar gives me a thrill! One thing I must say for old man Dempster, he was no petty larceny crook, was he?

Judge Tuckerman got hooked for $5000 in the crash and poor old Ajariah Stubbs had $6500 of his dough amputated through Mr. J. Rodney Dempster being a bum guesser on the stock market. The carpet mill shuts down for the second time in its history—this time, for good. About a thousand people is throwed out of work and if Rags's father ever does show up in Drew City again he won't have a Chinaman's chance — they'll string him up from the nearest lamp-post sure as there's a Hindu in Hindustan.

Well, as the result of his male parent's nasty trick, Rags becomes about as popular in Drew City as a fan salesman would be at the North Pole. The fast bunch from the college, which was supposed to be his friends when he was circulating money with both hands, falls away from him like leaves off a tree in autumn and the rest of the populace duck him the same as if he's a mad dog. Personally, I felt sorry for Rags, I did for a fact, in spite of him fouling me, time and time again. Just look at the jam he was in. His old man was in Europe, trying to hide from all the coppers in the world, he himself was flat broke and unequipped to earn any dough because he'd never had to work at nothing and even his imported car and the palace his family lived in was put up at auction so's the creditors can get a small piece of their money back.

I meet Rags on the street one day some time after the news about his father reached Drew City. As a rule I used to pass by him without as much as a nod, because I liked him the same way I like to get run over, but now that he's down and out I didn't want to kick him, I wanted to help him up to his feet. Live and let live is my motto and it's as good a motto as any. So I stopped him and held out my hand.

"Rags," I says, "I certainly was sorry to hear about your father. I bet it's all a mistake and when he gets back from Europe he'll probably explain everything and there'll be nothing to it. In the meantime, let's forget our private war. If a few hundred—or more—will help you out till you hit your stride again, I'll be tickled to loan you whatever you think you need."

The look of surprise which come over his face when I stopped him gives way to a sneer. He looks me up and down like I'm something the cat dragged in on a rainy night and my outstretched hand could of been in Nicaruaga as far as he's concerned.

"Mind your own affairs, will you?" he snarls. "What my father does is no concern of yours. I need no assistance from an illiterate pugilist—I'll have more money within a year than you'll ever see! I already have something you'll never have—brains and breeding. Step aside and allow me to pass!"

I stepped aside—in fact, I stepped right out of his life. What else would you want me to do after that?

Well, my next imitation is to attend the auction of the Dempster mansion "and contents," as it says on the handbills which Constable Watson tacks all over town. There's a big mob there, but most of 'em come to kid instead of bid. Rag's big English car finally goes under the hammer for a song. I forget the name of the song. Mrs. Willcox gets a swell set of wicker porch furniture for fifty bucks. Judy picked up a lot of potted plants for almost nothing and Knockout Kelly got a marble lawn bench for thirty-five fish that you couldn't duplicate in New York under a couple of hundred and which he needs like he needs two more ears. I stood apart and just watched the entertainment till Nate starts to ride me. He says this is the chance of a lifetime to get something for nothing and I am a sap for not sitting in. At this point the auctioneer and the Sheriff has a conference. The auctioneer then raps for silence and when he gets something like it he gives the crowd a fearful bawling out. Among other compliments, he says they are the cheapest bunch of tightwads he ever met in his life and he's been in the game twenty years. As the result of their five and ten-cent bidding on articles of "priceless value," he goes on, he has decided to stop auctioning off the furnishings one by one. Instead, he will sell the house and its contents complete to the highest bidder, starting the thing at $50,000. One-third of the purchase price must be laid down at once, but the lucky buyer will be allowed ninety days on the balance.

"Well, come on, snap into it" bawls the auctioneer. "Who bid fifty thousand?"

"I will!" I holler, without hardly realizing what I'm saying.

A hundred necks crane and twist to look at me and Nate views me with alarm.

"Fifty-one thousand!" comes a weak voice from the crowd.

"Fifty-five thousand!" I yell. I suppose I am crazy to do this, as the bridge jumper says, but why bother with thousand-dollar bids and stay there all day?"

My rival wilts.

"Anybody else?" shrieks the auctioneer. "Going at fifty-five thousand—an outrage, if they ever was one! Going at fifty-five thousand. Oh, what a crime! Do I hear fifty-six thousand? No? May heaven forgive you—I can't! Sold at fifty-five thousand dollars!"

And I am the owner of Rags Dempster's house.

What is the idea of a fellow like me sinking $55,000 in real estate you may say. The idea is that I have just about made up my mind that I am going to spend the rest of my days and nights, too, in Drew City and when I get wed and settle down, why, naturally enough, I will want a house to live in. I couldn't duplicate the Dempster castle for three times what I paid for it and should something happen to my marriage plans I figure I can always sell it at a profit. Then again, there is something fascinating to me about owning the home of a guy which once sneeringly offered me a $12-a-week job in his father's carpet factory and which has been stabbing me in the back for six years. So all in all, I'm highly delighted with my purchase, and, strangely enough, Judy seems highly delighted, too.

I bring Nate and Knockout Kelly over to my handsome new home as my guests, but we make arrangements to take all our meals at Mrs. Willcox's. There ain't no cook in the world can even grease a pan with her and a fighter's food is as important to him as his hands. I give Nate and Kayo a beautiful suit of rooms on the top floor with their own private bath and the etc., and if you think they didn't like it, you're foolish.

Both Judy and her mother come over and helped me rearrange this and that about the house at my urgent request. We made quite a few alterations, because strange as it may seem, my ideas—on a lot of things—is a little bit different than old man Dempster's.

Judy got all excited over helping me fix up the house and as she's got elegant taste, why, in a couple of days it ain't just a house, it's a beautiful home. It lacked just one thing to make it perfect—Judy! I followed her round from room to room, holding pictures and draperies for her to hang, moving chairs and tables where she tells me to put 'em and all that kind of thing, but, believe me, I ain't thinking about no interior decorating—I'm thinking about her. I think what a wonderful thing it would be if we were married and she was in my house to stay. She's up on a ladder fixing the velvet curtains between the dining-room and the parlor and I just can't take my eyes off her. Why, if Judy Willcox was to stand beside Niagara Falls, nobody would give Niagara a tumble! I get a terrible kick just looking at this girl and that's a positive fact. Well, the more I look the more I wish and the more I wish the more I make up my mind I will ask her to wed me and be done with it! So I collect up all my courage, get up, cough a few times and begin.

"Judy," I says, in a kind of weak voice. "I would like to ask you a favor."

She turns around and smiles down at me, still holding the curtains.

"Anything, Gale," she says. 'What is it?"

Standing there gazing into her clear blue eyes I decided to change the favor I intended to ask her, because I was always afraid that if I acted like I was dying of love she would give me the air. She often said herself that what she loathed was these mushy, love-lorn girls or boys. So like usual, I get double pneumonia of the feet. I had plenty nerve in the ring, but in front of this vision I was as faint-hearted as a rabbit. So I jerked myself back to normalcy immediately.

"Eh—will you help me hang those ringside pictures of me in the parlor?" I says, for want of something to ask now that I have let the marriage proposition go by the board.

"Why, Gale!" says Judy, dropping the curtains in amazement. "Surely you wouldn't dream of putting those fearful fighting pictures in that room! And it's not a parlor, Gale; it's the drawing-room!"

"There's one room will be useless to me then," I says. "For I can't draw a straight line. However, I don't see nothing wrong in hanging those fight pictures there, Judy. Some of them is scenes from my greatest battles. I'm kind of proud of 'em and I want my visitors to see 'em."

"Put them in your den, then," says Judy. "You just hold these curtains for me, Gale, and I'll do the decorating." She starts to hang the curtains again, but suddenly she turns to me and says with a odd smile, "Perhaps I'm taking too much for granted—after all, it is your home."

"I sure wish it was yours, too, Judy!" I busts out.

You should of saw how red her face gets before she turns away. She says nothing and I suppose I missed the chance of a lifetime by not asking her then and there can she see her way clear to marry me. But when I think if she ever says "No!" I will become a maniac, so why take the chance just yet of hearing that word which will poison me? So while I hung fire Judy gives the curtain a final pat and gets down from the ladder. She says she's got to hurry home and help her mother get dinner.

"Will you come back for a while after dinner and help me fix up that drawing-room, Judy?" I says, in desperation.

"Of course, for a little while," she says, "if you want me to."

"If I want you to?" I says, advancing the bit closer. "Judy, I don't want you never to be away from me! I——"

"Gale—I—really, I must run, I'm late now!" she butts in.

But why does she look away from me and blush again? I don't know. I know she beat it and after she left, why, that swell drawing-room with all the statues and classy furniture and rugs a yard thick, was just a empty empty room to me!

ONE SLAIN IN DUEL

PIKEVILLE (Ky.) April 28.—Albert Potter, Constable, shot and instantly killed James Houston in a pistol battle at Dorton, twenty-five miles from Pikeville. The killing is said to have resulted from an attempt by Houston to release Steve Tackett, an asserted bootlegger, who had been arrested and was in custody of the officer at the time. In the duel Potter was shot twice. Houston was shot five times.

8 Years Ago!

Rays of hope were beginning to break through the clouds of doubt that hovered over George Pepperdine and his good wife, when they opened the first Pacific Coast store of the Western Auto Supply Company, on Twelfth and Main Streets, Los Angeles.

Bravely they fought for a livelihood—a fight made more desperate because of their humble beginning in Kansas City, Missouri, in 1909, with a meagre capital of $5.00—a fight now considered more heroic because of the failing health of George Pepperdine and the adversities he had to contend with.

To-day ~

the history of the business, its slow, steady climb at first and then the meteoric rise to One Hundred Stores in the West, can be reviewed with pardonable pride and satisfaction by Mr. Pepperdine, President and General Manager, and Mrs. Pepperdine, Vice-President and Treasurer, of the Western Auto Supply Company.

Many of the six hundred men and women now employed by the "Western Auto" started years ago when the company was in its infancy. They helped weather the storms. They learned the value of satisfied customers. Now they hold responsible positions and give the newer members of this great family of co-workers the benefit of their experience.

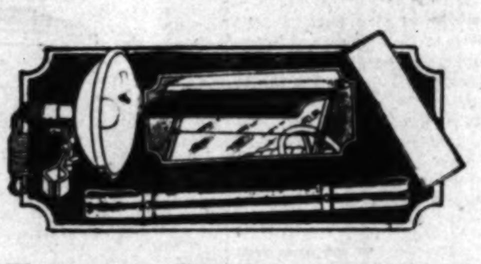
The employees have a greater interest in the company than just their pay checks. Most of the six hundred own stock and share in the profits.

Many motorists have also seen the splendid possibilities which the Western Auto Supply Company offers. Over three thousand stockholders have received annual dividends, ranging from 12 to 14% a year.

All of this, which led up to the opening of One Hundred Stores in so short a time, could not have been made possible without your confidence and faith in our unfaltering fidelity to our policy of absolute honesty and satisfaction and your loyal support. We are not unmindful of the debt of gratitude we owe you. We appreciate and value your good-will above everything, and we shall always strive to preserve the kindly and friendly attitude which now exists between us.

On April 30th

we invite you to join in our "100 Store" Celebration. Our main store in Los Angeles will remain open from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. There will be music, refreshments and public speaking. 224 Accessory prizes, valued at $770.00, will be given away.



These prizes will be given away free—224 in all. 140 Special Cop-Spotter Mirrors, 42 Spotlights, 28 Curved Metal Visors, 14 Bumpers—a combined value of $770.

Beginning with May 1st, and continuing throughout the entire month, we hope to further express our appreciation by holding a Special Saving Sale in all stores. Hundreds of articles will be offered at additional savings. Camping Equipment will be included. During this month, the Western Auto Supply Company will share its profits with those who have made possible these One Hundred Stores.

Come to the Celebration and the Special Saving Sale. Watch your newspapers for further announcements.

TWO-WAY WIRELESS TRIED OUT

Parisian Says Invention Will Send and Receive Simultaneously

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

QUEBEC, April 28.—Declaring he has invented an apparatus that will permit of sending and receiving by wireless at the same time, M. Marrecq, a Parisian, is now on his way to Washington, where he will try to interest government officials in his invention.

Mr. Marrecq arrived here yesterday on the Carmania, on which liner the experiment with his invention was tried out. From halfway across the Atlantic Ocean, 1000 miles from land, the ship's wireless operator was sending to devices in England and receiving at the same time from Bordeaux, France.

The device has been used in sending on land from station to station; but the experiment on the Carmania was the first time that is had ever been tried out on the ocean. Marrecq says that the British Admiralty has adopted his invention.

It is contended on behalf of his invention that static, which is one of the worst bores of wireless, is done away with and the various messages are all in different tones, which are brought down to a common tone by the inventor, who then proceeds to pick out what he wants. Despite the vibration of the ship and the shortness of the aerials, it is said that the messages sent and received were all as clear as could be.

SAN FRANCISCO MAN ON TRIAL IN CAR DEATH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—Temporary repairs to the coastwise liner, Ruth Alexander, anchored off Trinidad Head, Cal., in a leaking condition have been completed to enable her to start on the return trip to San Francisco, it was announced here today by the Pacific Steamship Company, owners of the vessel. Damaged cargo is being jettisoned to enable the pumps to work more freely.

Vancouver to Revive Lashing For Criminals

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

VANCOUVER, (B. C.) April 28.—Magistrate Shaw has decided that for crimes of violence, such as highway robbery, where there is probability that a human life may be lost, the lash is the best deterrent, and has so announced.

According to Chief of Police Long, crimes have been almost stopped in the city in the past by adopting the lash, and he has asked the magistrate to impose the same punishment again.

Consequently Magistrate Shaw announced today that in future he will mete out lashes with sentences.

MICE CAUSE COSTLY FIRE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

QUINCY (Ill.) April 28.—Mice gnawing matches in a general store in LaBelle, Mo., twenty-five miles west of here, started a fire which destroyed three business buildings and their contents, a drug store, restaurant and physician's office, and caused a loss of $40,000. Fire apparatus was sent from Quincy.

GIRL CALLS PARENTS CRUEL; LEAVES HOME

SCOLDED FOR STAYING OUT LATE WITH SWAINS, SAYS MOTHER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

DETROIT, April 28.—The police were searching today for a Highland Park schoolgirl who disappeared from her home after addressing a note to her parents in which she said she was "going away forever" because nobody loved her.

She is Mary Darotis 17 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Darotsi, 125 Windemere avenue. Mary wore a blue coat, black velvet dress, brown hat black stockings and patent leather slippers. She is five feet two inches in height and weighs 110 pounds.

"Nobody loves me, so I am going away forever," ran the note. "You and father never cared for me, and make life miserable for me. You treated me very cruel. You need not look for me. Good-by forever."

Mrs. Darotsi said Mary had been scolded for staying out late with young men. She worked part of the day in a lunchroom, attended high school, and at night worked as a ticket taker in a theater. She had $90 when she disappeared, her mother said.

TWO ATTEMPTS TO OPEN SAFES FAIL

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, April 28.—Two attempts, presumably by amateur safe crackers, to rob two local business houses ended in failure eary this morning, according to reports at the local police station. The Maxwell Agency offices at Bicknell and Third streets were entered during the night and an attempt made to gain entrance to a small safe. The combination had been removed but the thieves failed to open the door. The Lane five-and-ten-cent store also was entered, police believe by the same gang, and the combination also removed from a small office safe. As in the first instance the door was not opened. Local detectives who investigated said that no finger-prints were obtainable to give any possible clew to the indentity of the prowlers.

DESERT SURVEY NOW COMPLETE

Geological Survey Explains Beauty and Terror

Salton Sea District in Past Was Part of Gulf

Lonely Land Equal to Famed Sahara Itself

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Federal Geological Survey recently has compiled a special report on the driest portion of the country. The Great American Desert, says the Survey, may be roughly described as lying within a vast triangle. Its base is 800 miles long, lying along the southern border of California, Arizona, New Mexico and part of Texas, and the sides extending northward to Oregon.

There is much land within this tract which is not desert, but nearly all the desert land the nation includes may be found within these general boundaries. For years the Geological Survey has been making explorations of the great triangle. It has just concluded a report on what probably is the driest section—the region of the Salton Sea.

The Salton Sea district occupies about 10,000 square miles of Southern California and, for the most part, is as real a desert as the famed Sahara itself. It is possible to travel an entire day, traversing an expanse as large as some of the eastern States, without hearing a sound and perhaps without seeing a living thing unless it be an occasional insect or some reptilian creature. Enormous panoramas spread out before the desert traveler. Miles upon miles of drifting sand, baking in the blazing sunlight, give one either a sense of vast freedom or of oppression, depending upon his mood and temperament.

AIR IS BRACING

And, although the sun blazes, the air is bracing. The nights are positively cold. Nowhere in the world, says the Survey, do the stars seem so bright as in the heavens above the desert. Occasionally the desert traveler comes upon palmtree oases which look as though they had been transplanted from Egypt or Arabia. Although within the confines of the most modern industrial nation of the world, the illusion is produced that one is in the land of the Arabian Nights Tales.

The Survey issues the warning that the tenderfoot easterner must not think that because this desert is a part of the United States it has all the safety and all the modern conveniences of an American city. The desert can hold as many terrors as the widest sweeps of the Sahara. All may go well until, at the end of a day of travel, it is found that the water hole which was to mark the night's stopping place has gone dry. Or, it may be, the automobile may break down halfway to the oasis. Some other accident may intervene or, worst of all, the dim track may be lost and the traveler find himself wandering in a vast waste where it is useless to call for help.

Such events tend to make the wanderer forget the grandeur of his surroundings and be willing to trade his view of a distant, snowcapped peak for a cup of water. It is understood by a man in such a predicament why such places as Death Valley were so named.

The utmost precautions must be observed, says the Survey, to avoid these accidents. The most experienced westerners never go into the desert without observing the utmost care.

The Survey has done much to reduce the dangers of the desert, which is so vast that the works of man seem rather tiny in comparison. One of the principal efforts of the Survey has been to search for hidden sources of water which may be tapped. The chances of producing new water supplies are carefully studied. Samples of water obtained are analyzed. Data are gathered on the probable permanence of water sources. By scientific study, the Survey seeks to determine whether existing water holes may be depended on.

BELOW SEA LEVEL

One of the special fascinations about the Salton Sea basin is the fact that much of it lies below the level of the sea. The Great American Desert rambles over many kinds of country. Originally the Salton Sea basin was a part of the Gulf of Lower California. Some upheaval of the earth caused this tract to be separated from the main body of the gulf to the southward and it has dried out and become desert.

A curious fact about much desert land is that while it appears to be devoid of all possibility as a producer of vegetation, all that desert soil needs is water to make it highly productive. The famous Imperial Valley in California is ample proof of this. The Colorado River empties into the Gulf of California, flowing through a section of the desert. A tremendous irrigation project has been completed there which has diverted the Colorado's invigorating waters to many acres of the desert lands. The result has been the artificial creation of a garden spot. Vegetation grows luxuriantly and the crops produced in the Imperial Valley are famous.

The airplane is helping to remove the desert as a barrier to communication. In a few hours it is possible for a plane to traverse the miles of waste land which would require days of toiling progress in a land vehicle, even an automobile.

With the development of irrigation and reclamation, carried on by the Federal government, it is conceivable that nearly all of the desert will be conquered ultimately. The American still may find in his own country all that he desires of desert environment, desert dangers and desert life.

No hay Esperanza de Salvación para Cien Mineros Enterrados

WHEELING, Virginia Occidental, Abril 28.—Las noticias que acaban de llegar aquí, procedentes de Benton, nos informan de que las cuadrillas de auxilio han sacado ya diecinueve cadáveres, todos horriblemente quemados. Añaden los mensajes que se ha perdido la esperanza de rescatar a más de cien mineros que están aún enterrados en las profundidades de la mina. No ha podido determinarse aún cual fue la causa de la explosión que destruyó dicha mina.

Esta terrible catástrofe, análoga a las demás que integran la larga lista de siniestros mineros con que últimamente ha sido castigado este país, tiene consternado al pequeño mineral de Benwood, Virginia, y ha causado inenarrables miserias y sufrimientos entre sus poco numerosos habitantes. Los muertos pasan seguramente de 119. Las listas de trabajadores de la mina Benwood Mill, propiedad de la Wheeling Steel Corporation, de Wheeling, Pensilvania, no hacen saber con claridad si son 107 o 125 los hombres que quedaron sepultados en los profundos tiros del pozo de la compañía siderúrgica.

Los hombres se presentaron esta mañana al trabajo a la hora acostumbrada y fueron bajados a los distintos pisos en que trabajan. Apenas había comenzado la jornada de labor, cuando se dejó oír una explosión sorda y prolongada, anunciadora de desgracias en los campos mineros, que oprimió el corazón de los habitantes del mineral. Todos se precipitaron a la boca del tiro, la que se encontraron obstruída por toneladas y toneladas de escombros.

El Agente Dolley Ha Sido Destituído

Ayer se supo que el Agente Dolley, jefe de campo de las fuerzas federales de la prohibición en California, había recibido su cese. Renunció este empleado el viernes, a instancias del señor Nash, Comisionado interino de la Renta Interior. La petición de renuncia fue transmitida telegráficamente por el señor Nash a Samuel Rutter, jefe de las fuerzas federales de la prohibición en California, la mañana del viernes. El señor Rutter comunicó a Dolley un poco más tarde que había sido destituído de su puesto, y este último entregó inmediatamente su placa y su despacho a los agentes locales del departamento de la Renta Interior.

Súpose al mismo tiempo que se están haciendo grandes esfuerzos por conseguir que Dolley sea repuesto en su empleo. El Juez Federal Bledsoe, el Abogado de los Estados Unidos Burke, y el doctor A. H. NUMERO 241

Pláticas Diarias en Español por el Prof. R. Guerrero, del Departamento Español de "The Times"

"Entrarse por un libro" (to absorb oneself in a book) quiere decir, "engolfarse o internarse en su lectura: leerlo detenidamente y estudiarlo". Así podemos decir que "Don Quijote se entró por cuanto libro de caballerías cayó en sus manos". La locución "devorar un libro" (to devour a book) connota la idea de leerlo de prisa y ávidamente, por el gran interés o curiosidad que despierta en el lector: "Este muchacho no lee, sino que devora las novelas".

La locución "a manos llenas" (abundantly, unstintedly) se usa para denotar liberalidad o prodigalidad: y así se dice que "Don Pedro reparte el dinero a manos llenas" y que Doña Gertrudis da para los pobres a manos llenas".

La expresión "poner lengua en una persona" (to speak abusively of a person), es hablar mal de ella, insultarla, censurarla: "Cuando ese bribón pone lengua en alguno, no le deja por donde cogerlo". Existe también la expresión, "cortar un sayo a alguien", que tiene la análoga significación de "murmurar de alguien en su ausencia, censurarle": "Fulano se desvive por cortar sayos a todos sus amigos". Dícese también "cortar de vestir a una persona".

La locución "abrir la mano" se usa en el sentido de "to accept a bribe", diciéndose, por ejemplo, "Ese munícipe es de los que abren la mano: no me extraña que esté rico". También significa el acto correlativo, es decir, "dar con liberalidad" (to give lavishly): "Para conseguir la concesión de que me hablas, tienes que abrir la mano".

"Pasar por cierto" significa "to be accepted as certain": "Pasa por cierta esa noticia, pero yo le doy cuarentena". En general, "pasar por" significa "estar en concepto u opinión de": "Pasaba Francisco por santo, y resultó ser un bribón": "Al cruzar la frontera me hice pasar por alemán".

"Rompió el plato sin querer" (He broke the plate by accident). Cuando se disculpa uno con otra persona de algún daño o molestia que accidentalmente le ha ocasionado, es propio decirle: "Perdone usted: lo he hecho sin querer". También es correcto decir en castellano: "Quebré el plato por accidente"; es decir, "por casualidad" (by chance). Como en inglés, "accidente" tiene también la acepción de "suceso eventual, generalmente desagradable, que altera el orden regular de las cosas", y de "indisposición o enfermedad que sobreviene repentinamente y priva de sentido, de movimiento, o de ambas cosas". Ejemplos: "Le pasó (ocurrió) un accidente" (He met with an accident); "Sufrió la señora un accidente en la calle y cayó al suelo"; "Temo que a mis hijos les haya pasado (ocurrido) algún accidente, pues es hora en que no han vuelto".

Ya dijimos que "por casualidad" quiere decir "by chance", "by accident"; v.gr., "Me encuentras en San Diego por casualidad, pues rarísima vez salgo de Los Angeles"; "Ganó el juego por casualidad, pues es muy poco diestro".

Bears Hope to Squash Cards in Grid Clash

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—The ancient rivalry between the University of California and Stanford University has produced several Stanford victories thus far in 1924.

Stanford has won at track-and-field competition and at baseball.

California took the basketball series and the tennis matches. But the most exciting event of the annual rivalry is to come—the football game next fall. In recent years California has been a consistent victor at football.

Stanford's defeat of California in the dual track meet at Palo Alto Saturday by 35 points was the most effective drubbing which the Cardinals have given the Bears in a major sport in many years.

HOBOES RUN TO FIRE AND SAVE LIVES

Prisoners Leaving Guard for Rescue Work Freed With Bonuses

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LAGRANGE (Ill.) April 28.—Twelve ragged hoboes, arrested by city authorities as vagrants and put to work on the streets, saved the lives of six patients during a fire at the Lagrange Sanatorium.

The men were being taken to work and were passing the sanatorium when flames burst forth. Leaving their guard, the prisoners rushed into the burning building and worked side by side with hospital attendants in removing the patients.

Panic was imminent when it was found that a woman patient was missing. A negro vagrant turned and dashed back into the building, down a burning corridor to her room, and carried her to safety while spectators cheered.

"You can't keep men like that in jail," the Lagrange Chief of Police said, in freeing the twelve men, each with a $2 "bonus" in his pocket.

Cox of Dayton, who was defeated four years ago as a Democratic candidate for President and William G. McAdoo of California, former Secretary of the Treasury, are the Democratic candidates.

The Republicans will elect fifty-one delegates and alternates to the Cleveland convention and the Democrats will choose fifty-two.

LIBRARIANS IN CONVENTION

State Association Opens Three Day Session at Pasadena; Four Hundred in Attendance

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, April 28.—Librarians from all parts of the State of California gathered at the Hotel Huntington today for the twenty-ninth annual convention of the California Library Association. Four hundred delegates attended today's sessions and more will arrive to participate in the remaining two days of the conference.

Europe is experiencing a tremendous revival of learning in which the working classes are leaving their mops and buckets and are turning their attention to fields of knowledge heretofore unexplored by the lower classes, according to Miss Ethel Richardson, Assistant State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who was one of the principal speakers at today's conference.

ADULT EDUCATION

Adult education, she said, is of prime importance to many European countries and if the United States hoped to retain the leadership in world affairs, a similar stimulation of thought on the part of the people of this country must be made, the speaker asserted.

Miss Richardson made an extensive tour of Europe last summer, she said, and her address today was based upon her first-hand observations. All manner of subjects are being studied by the so-called lower classes and one class in particular which drew Miss Richardson's attention was one of music appreciation in which the members were all janitresses.

Miss Jeanette Drake, Pasadena librarian is the president of the association and will preside each day. She made an opening address this morning. J. W. Woods, Pasadena pioneer and historian, offered a welcome to the visiting delegates. Dr. Archibald Bouton, dean of the college of arts and—pure science of New York University spoke on the subject, "The Function of Literature." For several months he has been studying at the Henry E. Huntington library.

JOINT MEETING URGED

A meeting in 1927 of committees representing the California Library Association and the Pacific Northwest Library Association was recommended in a resolution which was unanimously adopted. Another resolution of great importance which received a heavy vote was one which recommended that the State Legislature pass a law making it possible for library boards of trustees to pay the expenses of librarians while they are attending State conventions.

A recommendation was offered by Miss Mabel Gillis to the effect that a registration fee of $1 be charged for all members of the association who attended the conferences in this city. A financial report was read by Miss Hazel G. Gibson, secretary and treasurer. She reported $1326.29 in the treasury.

Miss Madge Jenison of New York was the final speaker on today's program. She gave a very illuminating talk on the "River of Life." She also told of her bookshop in New York.

This evening the delegates engaged in an Italian Carnival at the Hotel Huntington. All were in costume. The Municipal Players of the Los Angeles Playground Department presented a marionette show.

IT'S ORFUL TO "DIP THE DIPS"

So Proclaim Daintily Clad Actresses Forced by Grim Guards to Walk in Disinfectent

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, April 28.—"Dipping the dip" is a new game down in this section and only passengers who travel between Long Beach in this county and Anaheim in Orange county, are privileged to enjoy it in its full measure. Persons who travel between two direct points in the adjoining counties are given a fair idea of the game, but it is to travelers between this city and Anaheim that the fine points of the sports are disclosed.

This is particularly true of passengers who ride busses between the two points.

For between Long Beach and Anaheim, the busses cross and recross the Los Angeles-Orange county line three times in one journey—hence three dips for the passengers.

IT'S BAD SMELL

"I smell worse than any sheep you ever saw," said one Long Beach man upon returning from Anaheim this morning.

Quarantine guards whose duty it is to see that all who pass into Orange county walk the straight and narrow dip tank, had their hands full yesterday when a seven-passenger car came tearing along to where the guards stood. The driver had no intention of stopping but was persuaded to do so when the guards flashed their badges.

"Everybody out of that car and walk through the disinfectant tank," one of the guards ordered.

Reluctantly and with loud-voiced protests there stepped forth six gaily bedecked members of the motion-picture colony bound for location. Two of the actresses were garbed in evening gowns with the daintiest of silver cloth slippers to watch, another actress was clad in riding togs, leather seated breeches and all.

ALL RILED UP

"I don't care anything about your old quarantine law, I just won't walk through that nasty mess and spoil my slipper," one of the actresses declared to the guard and she registered white anger. "Maybe you don't know who we are," the second cinema lady shouted at the guard as she reached for her glycerine tear bottle.

Perhaps the women were really stars. Perhaps they were merely atmosphere. The guards never learned for one of the men of the party hastened to beg the women not to mention their names.

"You'll walk through the tank or you can turn around and go back to Hollywood, just as you please," the guard told the temperamental queen.

"It's water stuff, hop to it, and let's get on location," one man apparently the director, shouted, and with puckered faces and dainty steps, the actresses went through the tank, followed by the male members.

CASHIER OF BANK GIVEN HEAVY FINE

Reynolds Escapes Prison Sentence Because Funds Were Not Missing

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, April 28.—A fine of $3500 was imposed today upon Alexander Reynolds, Jr., former cashier of the United States National Bank, following his conviction by a Federal jury on charges of irregularities while an official of the bank. Reynolds was found guilty on two of twenty counts, one charging misapplication of funds, and the other the making of false returns to the Comptroller of the Currency.

Following the pronouncement of sentence by Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick, Prosecuting Attorney John R. Layng moved the dismissal of the cases against Leonard Schauer and Melville M. Wilson, who had been jointly charged with Reynolds.

Judge McCormick, in passing sentence, said he did not impose a prison term because the bank had not lost any money through Reynolds's actions. It was brought out during the trial that the former cashier had not deliberately intended to defraud the institution or its depositors, and had made restitution in every instance wherein he had temporarily switched funds.

PORT PLAN BACKED BY SHIP BOARD

Long Beach Project Urged by Chairman in Telegram to City Manager

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, April 28.—In a telegram to City Manager Windham, T. V. O'Connor, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, yesterday asserted that the board heartily approves this city's efforts to put over a $5,000,000 bond issue for improvements in Long Beach harbor.

The message says that harbor improvements must be made in advance of commerce but that harbor cities that are backward in such enterprises find that trade establishes itself in other parts and that golden opportunities are lost. Especially is so, O'Connor says, where there has been such a tremendous growth of population and business as in Southern California.

"The Shipping Board recognises that the contemplated improvements of Long Beach harbor are part of a comprehensive plan to develop a great harbor serving the Southwest and therefore urges the adoption of the bond issue and wishes Long Beach every success in the development of its port."

A special election on the question of issuing $5,000,000 in bonds for harbor improvements will be held here May 8.

WALNUT GROWERS TO NAME NEW DIRECTORS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

LANKERSHIM, April 28.—The annual meeting of the San Fernando Valley Walnut Growers' Association has been called for next Monday afternoon, when a new board of directors will be elected. Reports from growers throughout the valley say that indications point to a heavy crop. Water sufficient for irrigation of the orchards was available early in the season and the ground was in condition to absorb all the rains. There was practically no run-off. Abandonment of restrictions on irrigation water enabled many of the growers to take advantage of the additional allotment.

OPEN DAILY FOR INSPECTION

Beautiful Buildings of the California Mausoleum Co., at Hollywood and Inglewood Now Open to the Public Daily.

Those interested in learning how scientifically, as well as practically, the ancient custom of entombment has been adapted to meet modern requirements are invited to visit the temple-like structures of the California Mausoleum Company, where attendants are on hand daily for the reception of visitors. By application at the Offices of the Company, 208 Harris Bldg., 110 West 11th St., arrangements can be made to be taken by automobile to one or other of the Mausoleums.

There really is no other way to gain a true idea of the beauty and utility of buildings, surroundings and methods than by actually seeing with one's own eyes these "Chaste Temples" where entombment for perpetuity is provided in such sweet peace and simple dignity.

Illustrated booklet may be had by those unable to visit the Mausoleums, by telephoning MAin 1534.—[Advertisement.

Business Man Sings Praises

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and gas continually. Doctors thought I had stomach ulcers or cancer. After last attack they advised going to Rochester, Minn., for an operation. A friend advised trying Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did, and I cannot sing its praises too highly, as I can now eat anything and everything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—[Advertisement.

Don't Suffer From Catarrh!

If you want to get rid of catarrh misery you must first heal those raw, inflamed spots in the nose and throat. Procure a supply of "Deo," the celebrated Dennis' Eucalyptus Ointment, from any good druggist. Heat a spoonful in a tin plate and take in deep breaths of the pleasant, healing vapor. This quickly clears the head and relieves irritation in the throat. The vapor penetrates every nook and corner of the nasal cavity, forming an antiseptic film of oil over the diseased membranes. Right away the raw, tender spots begin to heal, and if the treatment is continued, night and morning, you should soon be free from all disagreeable symptoms.

"Deo" is sold by leading druggists everywhere. Tubes or jars, 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Dennis Eucalyptus Ointment Co., Makers, Berkeley Cal.—[Advertisement.

SCREEN ARTS AND OTHERS

Regular Fellows' Club Turns its Hands to Baking Strawberry Shortcake and Doing Varied Work

The making of edible strawberry shortcake and the production of artistic motion pictures, though they be arts of widely varying nature, are all one when the members of the Regular Fellows' Club get together once every week.

The club is composed of a group of embryonic feminine screen luminaries and goes in for the serious things of the profession, such as cooking, manicuring, dressmaking and designing and the necessity for "giving one's best to one's art."

It meets each week at the home of some member. The last meeting was in the three-room California court bungalow of Miss Pauline Cyley, who acted as hostess.

And the members admit they are not like other similar clubs, but differ in that they have a real purpose. At the last meeting they showed this in initiating some of the members into the mysteries of why some shortcakes make excellent paperweights but exceedingly poor food; just what a manicure is, and principally how to climb another rung in the well-known ladder that ledas to stardom.

The club is conducted in true parliamentary style. The minutes are read each week, unfinished business is finished and the new problems taken up.

The business session is followed by a round of work, each member being compelled to do something constructive for the general good of the organization. The official cooks for the evening were Maryon Aye and Pauline Garon. They collaborated on a strawberry shortcake. Grace Gordon presided at the manicuring table and cut and filed until the fingers of her fellow-club members shone to their own satisfaction.

Just as the meeting was about to break up, four of the members who lived some distance away announced their intention of remaining overnight with their hostess. They all slept in one bed.

TOO MANY FOR ONE MAN

There was a crossroads town which was considered the key to certain territory. So the local constable was appointed an enforcement agent, directed to report once a day to the telegraph office for instructions and then watch the roads. The first wire he got read as follows:

"Look out for man in red touring car with 10 gals."

The new agent read his telegram and then scratched his head.

"That is funny," he mused. "Don't look like a man would go rum running and take along ten gals."—[Exchange.

Indeed What?

Experienced Movie Fan: Let's go to see "Les Miserables."

Novice: I'd rather read the story first.

"What has the story got to do with the picture?"—[Judge.

Crossman Is High Gunner in Shootfest

It is often said that a man never knows when he has enough. This is the case in the winning of the E. C. Price Trophy at the shoot of the Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club last Sunday. E. C. Crossman, the victor, already had a gun case, so he did not take the buck fever which evidently lost the honors for the other favorites. Crossman captured the prize with a score, 191 in the ten shots offhand at 200 yards and 23 in the ten shots prone at 200 yards.

R. J. Frazer seemed to be the expected victor but the gun had a crooked barrel or something. Ned Cutting, another individual who was classed very highly, lost out because of unnamed complex resulting from rifles that are borrowed. Dr. G. F. Fiske, formerly of Chicago and a member of the 1920 Olympic Pistol Team, was a visitor to the shoot. The club stages an informal shoot at Pasadena on May 11.

Summary of the shoot:

Coolidge Supporters Give Dinner for Candidates on Primary Ballots

More than 200 reservations have been made for the luncheon to be given by the women's division of the Southern California Coolidge Clubs May 1 at the Alexandria in honor of women whose names will appear on the Coolidge primary ballot and members of the campaign committee in California. Attendance at the affair will be limited to 500 persons, it was announced by Mrs. T. R. Brain, secretary of the women's division, who said that it is expected all available places will be reserved before the Thursday meeting.

The program provides that the luncheon will commence at 1 o'clock and that it will be preceded by a reception for guests beginning at 12:30 o'clock. The guests of honor at the meeting will be Mrs. Addie Garwood Estes, president of the Northern California chapter of the W.C.T.U.; Mrs. D. E. F. Easton, well-known San Francisco club woman; Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, of South Pasadena, who was the first woman to attend a national Republican convention as a delegate, and Mrs. Helen Mathewson Laughlin, Dean of Women at the University of California, Southern Branch.

Members of the Coolidge campaign of five who have been invited are Marshall Hale, Percy V. Long and Mark Requa, of San Francisco, Frank Merriam of Long Beach, and Ralph Arnold of Los Angeles. The latter was injured in an automobile accident near Modesto last week, but expects to return to Los Angeles on Wednesday. His injuries, according to late reports, are not as serious as first reported.

Mrs. Laura Taylor Kelly of Los Angeles, Mrs. Robert Garner of San Bernardino and Mrs. Frank Short of Fresno, alternates for Coolidge delegation candidates, are also expected to attend.

The date for the women's-division dollar luncheon was inadvertently reported as next Wednesday. The date for the meeting is Thursday, May 1. Reservations may be made at the Coolidge headquarters in the Angelus Hotel, Los Angeles, and at the offices of the Pasadena Coolidge Club in Hotel Green.

Poultry a Great Money Maker

Do you know that, among all branches of production in America—including corn, dairy products, wheat, cotton, petroleum, coal and metals—POULTRY PRODUCTS RANK THIRD IN DOLLAR VOLUME?

Nowhere in the country can you make poultry raising more profitable than at Pomona. It has an ideal climate, ample feed supply, cooperative marketing facilities and a market that will take every egg and chick you can raise.

Poultry products in Pomona Valley yield over $750,000 a year. Now add to this the mighty citrus crop—one-third of California's total—the deciduous fruits, hay, grain, dairy products and garden vegetables and you understand why food production in the Pomona district runs into millions of dollars yearly.

Investment opportunities also abound in this favored community. Pomona is ripe for a large building program of business blocks, bungalow courts and homes. Full information respecting Pomona's varied opportunities will be sent you upon receipt of the attached coupon.

MISPLACED HEROISM

A guide one day, while working on a log drive, fell into the water. At last, dizzy and nearly exhausted from his struggle, he managed to grasp a big log and hold on to it. The current was so strong and swift that it swept his body under the log until his feet stuck out on the other side.

Just as a comrade, who had run to his assistance, grasped him by the shoulders, he caught sight of his own feet protruding on the other side of the log.

"I can hold on a bit longer, Jim!" he gasped. "Save the poor fellow that's in head first, if you can."—[Tatler.

Rockefeller Memorial

What will be the world's largest carillon is being made in England for New York, where it will be installed in the tower of Park Avenue Church by Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in memory of his mother. It is a tribute to British skill and workmanship that, in spite of keen international competition, the contract for this carillon was secured by a well-known firm of Corydon bellmakers. The carillon will number fifty-three bells, whose total weight, without the framework, will be over fifty tons. The largest carillon up to now has been that at Malines, in Belgium.—[Indianapolis News.

COPPER MARKET WEEKLY REVIEW

Low Price Prevails Despite Statistical Situation

Consumption Exceeds Supply Without Reaction

Low Cost Producers Have an Edge on Competitors

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
(Editor Arizona Mining Journal)

Even as the European countries are accepting the Dawes report, it seems to make little difference in the price of copper or even in its forerunner, the price of copper stocks. While stocks are acting better, there has been but little enthusiasm in trading. Eastern experts in judging the copper situation confess themselves to be quite at a loss to account for the continued low price of the metal in the face of conditions and the statistical position of the metal as to production, consumption and surplus.

Production is now at the rate of about 2,500,000,000 pounds monthly. But even this added on would not bring it up to the rate of consumption, for the world is today manufacturing into copper sheets, copper wires and other forms of fabrication at the rate of almost 3,000,000,000 pounds annually. Even this is being accomplished with the low industrial state of Europe.

It is generally conceded that the potential demand is even greater than this abnormal rate of consumption, for Europe needs far more copper than it is buying, and the domestic consumers are only buying copper sufficient to fill orders already on hand and are doing nothing toward adding any surplus in their own stocks.

True, it is felt that with the recovery of the European market there will be a lessening of domestic consumption due to the fact that the United States is fabricating copper for European use in the manufactured form and that as Europe comes back into manufacturing, the domestic manufacturing will lessen, but it is not felt that the foreign gain and the domestic loss will be equal, but that the gain will be considerably larger than the loss.

The surplus of copper is now well under 200,000,000 pounds, a very short supply, so that, with consumption exceeding production and every prospect of further increases in consumption, the law of supply and demand should soon get into action and overcome the market, which i sapparently being held down unnaturally. For quite a while now the market has not reacted to conditions, as it has always reacted previously. Some little spurts of reaction toward conditions have started, but these apparently were stopped before they were well started.

The tragedy to the mining industry is that only the low cost producers can produce copper today without a loss, due to the higher cost of labor, supplies, construction material, freight rates, etc. To meet this difficulty many of the mines have been forced to turn to their higher grade ore reserves in order to keep "out of the red." Literally, millions of pounds of copper have been given away, and there has been an enormous depletion of natural resources due to the scratching off of low-grade ore reserves which are no longer justified in remaining on the books as an asset.

When it is considered that about 500,000,000 pounds of copper were delivered to consumers during February and March, there are but few who can see anything but an early improvement in price and yet that improvement was due, according to the known facts, some time ago.

George F. Newett of Michigan, who has been making a recent trip of inspection with the Calumet and Arizona directors, maintains that the sentiment toward a tariff on copper is growing. He stated: "There is a general conviction that the copper industry should receive recognition from the government in the way of a small tariff that would serve to keep out the product of the cheap-labor mines of Mexico and South America and the even cheaper product of the mines that are being opened in the Congo. It would serve also, and this is more important, to maintain the American scale of wages. There is no denying the fact that copper is too cheap now. In my judgment, it should never sell below 17 cents, for it is worth that and more."

Bears Growl as New Week Starts; Tendency Points Way Back to Normalcy; Girls Run Store

The week started with the bears conspicuously among those present and commentators inclined to give the growlers the best of the break on news and developments. Too much politics, too much embargo, too much hysteria and too short-sighted an outlook were the principal causes assigned for the rather-depressed outlook.

Scratching beneath the surface, a good deal of this viewpoint was found to be due to usual "Blue Monday" conditions, and lack of perspective which was colored to some extent by the face that the Sunday auto jaunt had been curtailed and by other reasons of not much more weight.

There is a well-defined silver lining to the cloud which gives evidence of breaking, before long, clear across the sky. This note of optimism is well struck by the American Bank of San Francisco which, in its current financial letter, reminds us that "getting back to normalcy" means neither passing through the experience of a boom or a panic and suggests that present evidence of slackening business as reflected in reduced car loadings, automobile production and sales, building statistics, the stock market and volume of unfilled steel orders is really an indication that, for the first time in ten years, we are actually approaching a condition of affairs embraced in that much-overworked and often abused word "normalcy."

"These ten years," it is said, "have given us an interesting and dramatic experience, but possibly they have made us forget what a condition of normalcy really is. It is neither a boom nor a panic. It means that demand for labor, materials, goods and money is fairly on an equality with supply. That is not true in either boom or panic times, but it appears to be the situation now for the first time since the war made itself felt in America.

"There appears to be no reason why the bond market should not continue good throughout the summer. If the uncertainties responsible for the present gloom in the stock market continue, there will be a constant flow of funds from stocks into bonds. If, on the other hand, the stock market starts to rise and causes the withdrawal of funds from bonds for speculative purposes, the accompanying improvement in business will increase the amount of new investment capital, which will also be beneficial to the bond market."

EASILY DISPELLED

Moody's Weekly Review of financial conditions, glimpses the same thing in a nation-wide survey when it says:

"It is easy to imagine how rapid improvement might occur later on. If the Dawes report should be put into effect; if politics should take a conservative turn; if the bonus bill should be disposed of and a tax bill passed; and if both trade activity and the demand for labor should expand promptly in August, we might soon have boom conditions.

"Strength in United States bond prices doubtless means a continued fall in the price of capital. Other bonds are holding, and stocks are not going down as rapidly as appears. During three weeks ended the 22nd inst. they made a net decline of only about 3-4 of a point.

"Our national income last year was about $55,550,000,000, as compared with $53,250,000,000 in 1922, and $49,500,000,000 in 1921. Our total production of all material wealth has increased in like proportions."

PURCHASING DECREASES

The Credit Clearinghouse weekly report shows that the normal seasonal decline after the last spurt of buying for Easter continues to show its effects, the country as a whole recording a decrease in purchasing activity equal to 2.8 per cent. As the seasonal cause affects the whole country, all sections contribute to this result, in varying degrees.

The largest percentage decrease, equal to 4.4 per cent, is recorded by the mountain section. The Pacific Coast section shows a decrease equal to 4.0 per cent, all three States showing less purchasing activity, the largest decrease being in California.

The East section comes next, with a decrease equal to 3.8 per cent. The South Agricultural section shows a decrease of 2.0 per cent. The North and Middle agricultural sections show the smallest decrease in purchasing activity, equal to 1.6 and 1.4 per cent respectively.

Collections continue fair throughout the country, with some slowness in the Mountain and North agricultural sections.

LIFE INSURANCE

The hesitation and irregularity which prevails in so many lines of business finds little reflection in the sales of ordinary life insurance, which were higher in March than ever before in any month. According to figures just published by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau, March sales by companies which had in force over 88 per cent of the legal reserve ordinary business on January 1, 1923, were $667,577,000. This is 7 per cent higher than the sales in May 1923, the previous record month. It is 22 per cent over February of this year and 13 per cent over March of last year. The total sales for the first quarter of the year were $1,752,699,000; an increase of 13 per cent and 35 per cent over the same period in 1923 and 1922 respectively.

GIRLS RUN BIG STORE

A department store in Bridgeport, Ct., was operated for a day recently by 1000 high schools girls, the store getting a lot of publicity and the girls a lot of experience. The temporary staff performed every store function from that of advertising manager to selling the goods and running the elevators.

The episode, however, was more than a "stunt" for it had the sanction of the Board of Education which desired in this way to acquaint the girls with store vocational opportunities having advantages over the usual stenographic, office, teaching and secretarial work.

The students prepared for the "big day" for more than three months during which time a complete store organization was worked out with each one having her particular duties assigned for the occasion.

Windows dressed by the students showed a fine artistic sense of balance, arrangement and color grouping, according to the president of the company, who added that the entire performance including the writing and drawing of advertisements exceeded expectations.

Two Monrovia Banks Combine With Security

The First National Bank of Monrovia and the Monrovia Savings Bank became a part of the Security Trust and Savings Bank yesterday through a merger with the larger Los Angeles institution. This merger is the consummation of a friendship of many years' standing between the two financial institutions.

J. F. Sartori, president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, founded the First National Bank of Monrovia in July, 1887, becoming cashier. John H. Bartle started as book-keeper under Mr. Sartori, later becoming the head of the Monrovia Bank, when Mr. Sartori came to Los Angeles to become cashier of the newly organized Security Savings Bank in 1889. Mr. Bartle assisted in the organization of the Security Savings Bank and became a stockholder. Mr. Sartori later became president of the Security Savings Bank and has remained in that capacity to the present time. He remained in close touch with the First National Bank of Monrovia by sitting on the board of directors of that institution.

The Monrovia Savings Bank was founded by John H. Bartle in 1903, being located diagonally across the street from the First National Bank, later moving to the corner of Myrtle and Lime avenues, occupying new and modern banking-rooms. The First National Bank has over $1,000,000 in deposits and the Monrovia Savings Bank nearly the same amount.

The personnel of the two banks will remain unchanged after the merger. Mr. Bartle becomes vice-president and manager of the two branches. W. A. Chess, cashier of the First National Bank, is now assistant cashier and assistant secretary of the Security Bank. K. E. Lawrence, cashier of the Monrovia Savings Bank, will be assistant manager and assistant secretary of the new branch.

The First National Bank will be known as the First Monrovia branch, and the Monrovia Savings Bank will be called the Second Monrovia branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank.

VIOLENT DECLINE IN COTTON CONTRACTS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Old crop cotton lost something like $3.50 a bale today on the sharp decline in Liverpool, coupled with favorable weather conditions over the week-end. There was heavy selling of futures early and even the new crop positions declined approximately $2.50 a bale. The market rallied moderately under stimulus of scattered short covering, then sagged lower in the early afternoon under continued selling by Wall street interests and brokers with southern connections. After values had gone from $2.50 to $4.50 a bale under Saturday's closing levels, the list came back somewhat in the final hour, but last prices were 66 and 73 points net higher on the old crop months and 32 to 39 points down on the new crop positions.

Spot cotton closed 70 points net lower at 29.80.

ACTIVITY IN WOOL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BOSTON, April 28.—More inquiry is being shown for choice fine wool. This includes both fleece and territory lines. Choice fine wools suitable for combing, both Delaine and staple, are firm in price, sales having been consummated at around 1.40 per scoured pound. However, the amount of real choice wool available appears small.

VIRGINIA FAGS INTRIGUE TURKS

American Cigarettes Drive Out Native Tobaccos

Gainful Year is Reported by Northern States Power

Miller & Co. Offer New Lumber Issue

Sending cigarettes to Egypt sounds like the proverbial sending of coals to Newcastle, but it is being done, says Trade Commissioner R. A. May in a report to the Department of Commerce.

The native Egyptian has always been a large consumer of tobacco but his tastes until recently have been almost exclusively confined to Turkish and other near-by tobaccos. In 1913 less than 79,000 pounds of manufactured tobacco, excepting cigars, were imported, valued at 13,000 Turkish pounds ($65,159.) During and subsequent to the war large quantities of cigarettes manufactured from Virginia tobacco were imported into Egypt for consumption by the British military forces stationed in the country. For instance, in 1920 and 1921 more than 660,000 pounds of cigarettes were shipped to Egypt almost entirely from England. However, there followed a considerable slump when only a little over 244,000 pounds were entered in 1922 after the British war forces left.

That the native Egyptian is smoking more and more Virginia tobacco is indicated by the fact that the 1923 imports increased 45 per cent over the previous year, and since all of these cigarettes were shipped from the United Kingdom, it is very probable that they were manufactured from Virginia tobacco.

The most popular brands are being extensively advertised along with locally manufactured cigarettes. Bill posters and store window displays in both English and Arabic are commonly used, while some of the larger cigaret importers have established regular automobile delivery systems whereby large quantities of cigarets are delivered from Alexandria to the smaller interior native cities.

NORTHERN STATES POWER

Earnings of the Northern States Power Company in 1923 available for amortization, depreciation and surplus totaled $1,580,324 after the payment of regular dividends on the preferred and common stocks, which compared with a balance of $1,134,526 in 1922. Gross earnings were $15,489,790, an increase of 11.58 per cent over the previous year, and net earnings amounted to $6,580,991, a gain of 13.83 per cent.

The figures for 1923, according to President H. M. Byllesby, do not include certain large companies which were acquired during the year, but which actually did not become a part of the corporate structure of the company until December 29. The combined earnings of the company and the full earnings of the acquired companies for the entire year 1923, totaled $18,869,140 as gross income and $8,321,943 as net earnings exclusive of depreciation. These figures compare with $17,088,868 and $7,434,259 in 1922.

President Byllesby states in the annual report that 1923 was notable in the purchase of additional companies and properties capable of much more efficient development when operated as units of a large system. These acquisitions include developed water powers and undeveloped water-power sites. They have, he says, further materially strengthened the physical and strategic position of the company and at the same time will assist the company to discharge its broad obligations as a public servant furnishing vital services in adequate quantity and quality at the lowest reasonable cost. The purchases include the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power Company and the St. Anthony Falls water-power development at Minneapolis.

At the close of 1923 the companies comprising the Northern States Power Company system had a total of 30,163 shareholders. Upward of 90 per cent of the shareholders are residents of the territories served and more than 80 per cent of the company's employees are stockholders.

Shareholders have assigned all outstanding capital stock to the trustee as security for this issue. The present book value of outstanding capital stock approximates $852,932. The notes are guaranteed by the unqualified indorsement on each note of G. G. Abernethy and N. S. Lougheed, whose combined net worth is in excess of $1,250,000.

AMERICANS GREAT LACE FANCIERS

Billion Dollars' Worth of This Commodity Has Been Imported

Recent efforts to revive the production of hand-made laces in certain sections of Europe are of interest to the people of the United States who have paid approximately $1,000,000,000 for foreign laces and embroideries in the past twenty-five years. Compilations by the Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York show that the value of laces imported since the beginning of the fiscal year 1900 is in round terms $756,000,000, and if we add to this the duties paid when the merchandise was withdrawn from the custom houses the total would approximate and perhaps exceed $1,000,000,000.

Curiously, but a very small share of the silk laces imported come from the Orient, the chief silk-producing section of the world, since of the $7,432,000 worth of silk laces, embroideries, etc. imported in the high-record year 1920 $5,250,000 worth were from France, $1,250,000 from the United Kingdom, and less than $500,000 from Japan and China, the chief silk-producing countries of the world. Most of the laces imported from the Orient are of cotton. Hand-made laces while forming as already indicated a small proportion of the total imports are apparently growing in favor, the total imports a hand-made cotton laces having advanced from $1,145,000 in 1912 to $2,165,000 in 1923.

Apparently silk and fiber laces are making more rapid gains in popularity in the United States than those of cotton. The official figures of imports of the entire group, "laces, embroideries, etc.," show an advance in those of silk and fibers from $7,850,000 in 1912 to $9,626,000 in 1923, while those of cotton show a fall from $38,100,000 in 1912 to $17,014,000 in 1923.

METAL MARKETS

Daily Review

CLEVELAND (O.) April 28. — Daily Metal Trade today says: "Amalgamated Union workmen's demands for vastly increased wages are declared preposterous by Central Western employers in sheet tin plate and bar iron mills, with strong likelihood of all such mills being closed indefinitely on June 30, unless union backs down. Small sales of pig iron at New York bring out eastern quotations and Middle Western stove bolt makers quote lower prices. Bi-monthly bar iron settlement reaffirms puddlers wages at 13.13 per ton for May-June period. Prices of all copper and brass products are cut ½ cent pound, except seamless tubes, copper wire and cables. Copper at New York is steady at 13¼ cents. Lead is steady at 7.60, but zinc easy at 6.05 St. Louis. Tin rises to 49 cents."

SPRING TAKES UP GAS SLACK

Surplus Stocks Moving With Seasonal Adjustment

Four Million New Cars Will Help Distribution

Production Out of Step With Supply and Demand

BY GLENN GRISWOLD
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]
[Copyright, 1924, Public Ledger.]

CHICAGO, April 28.—Chicago is the greatest petroleum products distributing center in the Middle West and as such gets all the ills and worries of refining and marketing first hand. Just now the troubles of the industry are so indefinite and are based on premises so intangible that uncertainty might be set down as the greatest handicap.

A year ago at this season the industry was said to be on an unprofitable basis and facing an uncertain future. Yet gasoline is selling about 2½ cents cheaper now than a year ago and other refined products are at least as cheap as they were twelve months ago, while crude of all kinds is at approximately the same price level as on May 1 a year ago. It seems quite obvious then that refiners are worse off than a year ago by approximately the measure of 2½ cents a gallon on their output.

Refiners have been piling up huge stocks of gasoline, knowing that the stuff could not move for many weeks. Those which have ample storage facilities and are substantially financed may find their judgment vindicated and market this gasoline at a substantial profit. Those that are constantly being forced to liquidate are suffering.

On the other hand the consumption that it is reasonable to anticipate for this summer is sufficiently larger than that which might have been reasonably predicted a year ago. It is not difficult to estimate what are the season's requirements of the automobiles in operation last year and the 4,000,000 new ones we have added to service. The rub seems to come then in not knowing how much gasoline we are producing nor how much is above ground.

SURVEYS VARY

The Bureau of Mines, the American Petroleum Institute, the Western Petroleum Refiners and other agencies apparently amply equipped to discover facts and disseminate them, vary widely in their conclusions as to the rate of production and consumption. The larger companies despair of reliance on any of these figures and make their own surveys and they differ widely as to the facts existing and the probabilities of the future.

The fact remains, however, that a great number of refineries produce at top speed in the late winter and early spring when experience clearly demonstrates that such a procedure occasions a glut in the market and weakens prices during months when many refiners must sell their product in order to live.

This is always explained by saying that if the small refiner does not take a regular run of oil from his producers in the dull months he will lose his contracts and have no source of supply when the industry becomes active. However, it would seem that some of them would take a chance occasionally of being able to buy crude in the open market which is always possible, and profit more by paying a premium on such crude than by taking a certain loss on gasoline refined under contract.

Of course, it would not be reasonable for all refiners to adopt such a course, but we have been told for a year or more that the main difficulty in the oil industry was the overproduction of crude. There has been some curtailment of crude production on the Pacific Coast and further declines are almost certain, yet there is nothing in the mid-continent field to suggest that production will not keep pace with demand during all the season.

CONDITIONS IMPROVE

Conditions in refining and marketing should improve markedly from now on. Daylight saving went into effect throughout much of this territory on Sunday and that means an extra hour for evening rides and tours to the country. The last snow has disappeared from this territory and some 5,000,000 cars here will be using an extra gallon or two daily from now on.

That sort of consumption takes the slack out of the market rapidly.

However, there is refining capacity enough in this part of the country to produce in any week of the year the peak consumption of that week. If all refineries could be induced to adjust their operations to something like the consumptive demand of the season many of the troubles of the business would be avoided. It seems as difficult to make any progress in this direction as it is to induce men to stop drilling wells when production is in excess of consumption and the market is depressed.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Cheerful Sentiment

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Continued ease in money rates and the progress made toward a reparations settlement and a German loan brought about a general improvement in bond prices today. Six foreign issues, including the Belgian 7½s, Serbian 8s and several French municipal obligations, established new high levels for the year.

Leadership of the market unquestionably fell to the Serbian 8s, which, in rallying more than a point, sold at a new 1924 top price of 81⅝. The remarkable improvement in Jugo-Slavia's financial position in the last year and the country's desire eventually to do additional borrowing here have formed the background for the rise in the bonds.

Negotiations were concluded today for a $40,000,000 American dollar loan to the Kingdom of the Netherlands, marking one of the most important pieces of foreign financing since the sale of the Japanese issue. Offering will be made tomorrow of the thirty-year 6 per cent bonds at 98½ and accrued interest, to yield over 6.10 per cent. Flotation for this loan, bankers said, would preclude any borrowing here by the Dutch East Indies, which has been reported negotiating for the sale of a bond issue.

In view of the rapid progress being made in negotiations for a German loan, other foreign borrowers are expected to enter the market before the larger operation takes place. Among prospective industrial offerings is a $3,000,000 issue of the West Kentucky Coal Company, a subsidiary of the North American Company.

NEW YORK CURB

HEAVY TONE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Today's curb market recorded a complete reversal of speculative sentiment, stock prices displaying a decidedly reactionary trend, with the oil shares bearing the brunt of the selling pressure.

Standard Oil of Indiana, one of the most active shares in the oil group, closed nearly 2 points lower at 58¼. Prairie Oil and Gas broke 1⅛ points to 219 and then rallied to 220⅛. Losses of 1 to 4 points were recorded by Cities Service, Imperial of Canada, Ohio Oil, Prairie Pipe, Vacuum and Standard Oils of Ohio, Kentucky and Kansas.

Trading in the industrial group was in reduced volume, price changes as a rule being narrow and irregular.

Interest in the bond list centered principally in the further weakness of Morris & Co. 7½s, which dropped 2 points to 93½.

Following are the closing quotations on the New York Curb market. Furnished by Logan & Bryan, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 636 South Spring street.

WESTMINSTER TRUST COMPANY, NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Trustee

SECURITY

The security features of this issue are summarized as follows:

1. These Notes will be the direct obligation of the Stave Falls Lumber Company, Ltd., following $225,000 First Mortgage bonds maturing March 1, 1933. Giving effect to this financing, the net assets of the Stave Falls Lumber Company, Ltd., will amount to $1,237,932.70, or equal to 3.3 times the total funded indebtedness.

2. Shareholders have assigned all outstanding capital stock to the Trustee as security for this issue, and it is agreed that any additional issuance of capital stock will be likewise assigned. The present book value of outstanding capital stock approximates $852,932.00.

3. Guaranteed by unqualified endorsement on each note by G. G. Abernethy and N. S. Lougheed whose combined net worth is conservatively in excess of $1,250,000.00.

4. No further indebtedness can be placed ahead of this note issue.

5. Messrs. Abernethy and Lougheed own outright, $341,900.00 of the outstanding $1,031,500.00 capital stock of the Abernethy-Lougheed Logging Co., Ltd. This latter company is a highly profitable operation, and earnings from this source give an added value to the guarantee of this issue.

EARNINGS

1. The Stave Falls Lumber Company, Ltd., has had a most successful earning record since its inception. The proceeds of $225,000 First Mortgage Bonds were largely used for the construction of a modern sawmill, which was placed in operation November 16, 1923, and with this improvement, competent independent authorities estimate that annual net earnings will conservatively equal 4¼ times interest charges on funded debt.

2. The net earnings of Abernethy-Lougheed Logging Co., Ltd., after all taxes and depreciation, amounted to $172,138.30 for the year ending December 31, 1923. The principal operation of this company has an assured life well in excess of 10 years, at estimated average net earnings of $202,800.00.

PURPOSE OF THIS ISSUE

These Notes are being issued to provide funds for purchase of additional timber and the general extension of the operations of the Stave Falls Lumber Company, Ltd.

Have You Visualized the Future of Los Angeles?

HAVE you considered to what extent you are affected by surrounding conditions; how you are benefited by general prosperity and real estate enhancement; how you would fare in the event of business depression and property depreciation? Now is the time to consider these questions seriously and help build a foundation for permanent prosperity.

We have reprinted in booklet form, under the title "Insuring the Future Prosperity of Los Angeles," a series of articles by Mr. W. H. Daum, which recently appeared in the Financial and Insurance News. The information and observations in these articles are based upon twenty years' intensive study of the industrial and economic conditions of the Pacific Coast territory, and are, therefore, of exceptional interest to every person who is concerned directly or indirectly in the development of this community, the stabilization of its commercial activities and the protection of its property values.

If you are interested in the future of Los Angeles we want to send you a copy of this booklet; and if you are also interested in the subject of profitable investment, we shall be glad to send you information concerning one of the most exceptional opportunities it has been our good fortune to recommend. Simply mail us your name and address.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

In amount of activity, Los Angeles Investment, Julian Petroleum preferred and Richmond Consolidated Mining led their respective groups yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Standard of California lost 7-8 at 58 5-8, and Globe Petroleum sold at 6½ cents. Los Angeles Investment subsided somewhat from its activity of the past few weeks and finished at 3.52, off 6 cents from Saturday. Richmond Consolidated was the heavy trader in the mining list, the stock advancing from initial sales at 13½ to a closing quotation of 15, up 2½ cents. United Eastern sold around 64 and 63 cents and Gold Dust went at 2 cents.

Greater than the Panama Canal

THE possibility of perpetual motion is denied by scientists. But one perpetual source of motion—of power—of industrial energy—is found in California's mountain streams and used in generating electric current. It is an industrial asset that can never fail so long as the mountains stand and moisture falls from the clouds.

Government statistics, recently completed, show a present development of more than one million horsepower from California streams, and Government engineers estimate the power possibilities at over four times this amount. The current is used in every branch of industry. It operates more than 3,000 miles of electric railways It is used in pumping water for irrigation; for drilling and pumping oil wells; for mining, manufacturing, domestic and other purposes. California public utility corporations have spent in developing and transmitting power as much as the cost of the Panama Canal, and one of them has under way a program of water power development, which, including its present properties, calls for an expenditure of well over the cost of the Canal.

Estimates of the wealth which this great and perpetual supply of power will eventually create in the State run into billions of dollars. Indirectly, it will add still further to California's financial resources by releasing for export and refining purposes oil that is now being used for fuel.

The Golden State. California looms larger each year in agriculture, horticulture, mining, oil production, manufacture and commerce. We are vitally interested in the commercial and industrial development of the State. During the past forty years The Harris Organization has bought millions of dollars of bonds issued for California's municipal, public utility and other enterprises, and has sold these bonds to a constantly growing list of investors throughout the United States. This is one of a series of advertisements featuring some of the State's industries.

When the Banker Is the Builder

PARTICULARLY in these days when building construction, both residence and commercial, is being financed with borrowed money—the banker is the builder. In the last analysis his judgment determines the type of construction, because his financial assistance is withheld if the investment is not sound.

Bankers favor brick in building because brick means permanent fireproof construction. Brick safeguards the investment of both banker and builder. When you select brick you do more than safeguard investment—you perform a distinct service to your community.

Our book, "Distinctive Brick Houses," contains photos and floor plans of more than fifty beautiful brick homes. Write for your copy today. Price 50c.

If This Man Had Come to Us About His Real Estate Loan

A MAN came into our office the other day and stated that he wanted to make application for a loan. He asked us what commission we charged.

When we explained our plan to him, this is what he said:

"I wish I had known of your institution before this. I just secured a loan on a certain piece of property and the commission charged me was just TWICE what you would have asked. I am glad to know that there is such a conservative organization in Los Angeles making real estate loans based on bank appraisals and nominal charges."

We have ample funds to loan on high-class residential property in amounts of $2500 to $10,000. Our loans are based on 75% of a bank appraisal, of which 35% to 40% is represented by a First Coupon Mortgage. Interest is payable quarterly at 7% and

The balance of the loan is represented by a deed of trust, which is payable from 1 to 36 months. Applications for loans may be made direct, and we give courteous consideration to brokers.

Those wishing to borrow money on well-located real estate—or investors desiring conservative First Coupon Mortgages are invited to write or call personally for details.

MARKET REVIEW

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, April 28.—After prices had declined a point or two in various industrial shares today, under the familiar professional auspices, Wall street passed the word around that the Federal Reserve Board's monthly review of trade was the cause. Inasmuch as that document, although published this morning, discussed only the business results of March, and inasmuch as nothing was contained in its statement that had not been known in the markets for at least four weeks, it required some mental ingenuity to make it responsible for a stock-market reaction on April 28.

The Reserve Board's bulletin, which never professes to be up to date, set forth that the rate of industrial production decreased 3 per cent in March and that the output was reduced in the majority of industries, notably cotton, coal and copper. Both these facts and the reason for them—production above the market's requirements in the two preceding months—have been set forth and discussed by the trade reviews ever since the present month began.

If the story had been carried up to the closing days of April it would have reported further moderate reduction of output, possibly affecting the steel trade, in which the March production was at a maximum. But that fact also was perfectly well known to Wall street even when the stock market was advancing in the second half of last week. It would, therefore, perhaps be as well to ascribe today's declining prices to the backward turn of a pendulum which has altered its course in three-day or four-day movements during most of the present year.

The railway statements for March, published since last week's closing, might have given some ground for action in the market. They are undoubtedly disappointing, for, although the carloading figures have been decreasing slightly in the last five or six weeks, the March total was fully equal to that of 1923. The almost invariable decrease in gross earnings thus far reported for that month must, therefore, be explainable either by shorter haul for the traffic loaded or else by a less remunerative average in the class of goods carried. There are, however, two considerations which modify conclusions from the smaller gross receipts. One is that last year's March results were exceptionally favorable; the other, that a considerable proportion of the railways which report gross revenue smaller than in 1923 have, nevertheless, been able to actually increase the net. As a matter of fact, it was not the railway shares which weakened most perceptibly on today's stock market, but the industrials.

Foreign-exchange rates did not continue their advance on Saturday; even the franc lost about one-third of that day's recovery. Today's reaction was not important, however. It attracted attention chiefly because of the market's failure to reflect the favorable indications which fairly crowd one another upon the scene in regard to the probability that the Dawes plan will be applied.

Today's range:

	High.	Low.	Last.	Net change.
25 railroads	81.83	81.33	81.48	—.27
25 industrials	107.66	105.32	106.22	—1.04

Bears in Evidence

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, April 28.—Renewal of bear pressure, based on the Federal Reserve Board's report of decreased production and sales of basic commodities, brought about a sharp reaction in today's stock market, most of the active issues showing net losses of 1 to 2 points at the close. The sharp rally in the closing days of last week had deprived the market of much of its technical strength, leaving the general list vulnerable to selling pressure.

United States Steel common was singled out for attack in an apparent effort to destroy the hopes built up in expectation of favorable developments at tomorrow's dividend meeting, the stock being hammered down nearly 3 points to 98. It snapped back at the close to 99 1-8, off 1 3-4. Reports that some of the steel manufacturers were making price concessions to attract new business also were a contributing influence to the heaviness of this group, Bethlehem, Republic, Crucible and Gulf States Steel showing net declines of 1 to 3 points.

Motor shares had another sinking spell on publication of reports showing that sales and earnings of the first quarter this year were running slightly below the first three months of 1923. Studebaker was hammered to 83 3-8 and then rallied to 84 for a net loss of 1 7-8. Chandler Motors, Yellow Cab, Stromberg, Mack Truck and Stewart Warner closed 1 to 3 points below Saturday's closing figures.

Oils failed to respond to preliminary reports that gasoline consumption on Sunday probably was the largest of any single day on record. Pacific, Cosden, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Houston, General Asphalt and Standard Oil of California were among the many stocks in that group to record losses of a point or more.

Textile shares continued to yield on reports of unfavorable trade conditions. American Woolen preferred and Munsing Wear established new low records for the year at 97 1-8 and 53½, respectively. Other outstanding weak spots included American Can, American Agricultural Chemical preferred, Dupont, Cuyamel Fruit, National Lead, Fisher Body, Sears Roebuck and United States Rubber first preferred, all off 2 to 5 points. One of the features of the session was a sharp run-up in United States Cast Iron Pipe issues just before the close, the common and the preferred establishing new high records at 91 5-8 and 92 1-4, respectively, after each had sold as low as 88 3-4.

Railroad shares held firm.

Call money held at 3 3-4 per cent. Offerings of funds in the time money market were somewhat larger with the result that the shorter maturities were available at 4 1-4 per cent, the ruling rate for the longer dates and commercial paper being 4½ per cent.

Foreign exchange rates were slightly reactionary on quiet trading. Demand sterling ruled about a half-cent lower around $4.38 and French francs held relatively steady, just below 6½ cents. Absence of recent pressure and scarcity of offerings brought about a 30-point jump in Japanese yen to 39.60 cents.

Total stock sales, 622,100 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 91.85. Previous day, 92.95. High, 1924, 101.24. Low, 90.28. Twenty railroads averaged 81.40. Previous day, 81.61. High, 1924, 86.32; low, 81.

LOS ANGELES CLOSE

CATTLE—Estimated receipts 1500, including 200 direct to packers. A special Sunday session of the market was held in order to prevent congestion and to expedite the movement of cattle from the yards to the packing-houses and make the regulation that all live stock be slaughtered within forty-eight hours after unloading in the chute enforceable. Imperial Valley furnished the big end of Sunday's cattle supply and the steers cleared at prices around 25c lower, good fed steers from the valley clearing from 9.35@9.50, latter price top and taking the bulk of the 1100 to 1150-pound steer offerings odd lots noted down to 9.00. Today's trade in steers ruled slow at the previous day's decline. Best included, Utah offerings, sold at 9.90, with other sales 8.25@8.75, odd lots of common noted downward to 7.50. Top for the two days on cows was 7.85, paid for well conditioned Imperial Valley offerings, while medium cows and heifers sold largely from 6.00@7.00, around 15@25c lower than at the close of the week. One load of cutters, including a sprinkling of canners sold at 4.25; bulls held steady, 15 head of good beef bulls average 1125 pounds, moved at 6.00; a few bolognas, 4.50@5.50.

CALVES—1000, including directs. Increased supplies resulted in sharply lower prices on veal calves, decline quoted 50@1.00, with emphasis on the 1.00 lower. A spread of 10.50@11.00 took in good and choice milk calves, while strong weight calves were noted downward to 8.00.

HOGS—2300 including 900 direct; break of 50@75c as compared with Saturday was quoted in the hog trade. Today bulk of the 160 to 200-pound butchers sold from 8.60@9.00; while top reached on Sunday's session was 9.25.

SHEEP—Estimated receipts, 500. Market ruled dull, price trend lower. Supply at hand consisted of two cars of California spring lambs, average 80 pounds, that sold at 11.50, sorted with 35 head out at 9.00.

Note—In view of the regulation that all live stock must be slaughtered within forty-eight hours after arrival in Los Angeles county, it is urged that those who intend to load cattle for either packers or to Union Stock-yards, first consult the market or commission man before bringing your stock to loading point, as it is necessary to secure a permit from the control committee before making the shipment.

Weaker Tone in Grains; Politics Closely Watched

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, April 28.—Scattered liquidation was on in May wheat and corn today, and spreading operations between the various deliveries furnished the bulk of the trading. Wheat was easy and closed ⅜@⅝c lower, while corn was unchanged to ⅛ cent higher. Heavy buying by a house that was active on that side absorbed the offerings on an early break and made a strong rally. Oats were ⅛@⅜c lower and rye unchanged.

Political developments at Washington are still the main influence, and messages from there claimed that the McNary-Haugen bill had a good chance of passage, as Congress apparently was of a frame of mind to pass any legislation opposed by general business interests. Local sentiment was inclined to the bearish side, although Winnipeg was strong and May there closed at 3⅝ cents under Chicago, gaining ¼ cent on the latter for the day.

A decrease of 2,042,000 bushels in the visible supply brought the total down to 53,731,000 bushels, against 44,521,000 bushels last year, but was ignored as a market influence, as was the decrease of 3,616,000 bushels in supplies on ocean passage. Liverpool was off ⅛@¼d in the face of estimates suggesting an Italian crop of 168,000,000 bushels, or 29,000,000 bushels less than last year. Heavy snowfall in parts of Canada put an end to field work for some days, but bullish developments fell flat throughout the day. The bulk of the trade was in selling May by scattered longs and replacing with the deferred deliveries. May closed at 1.02⅞@1.03, July at 1.05⅛ and September at 1.06@1.06⅛.

While corn futures closed about the top, the average price for the day was lower, with scattered liquidation on the May until near the close when a local house became a free buyer and absorbed the surplus in the pit. The trade had the impression that the buying was to cover shorts for an eastern operator. May finished at 77, July at 78⅛@78¼ and September at 78.

The visible supply is rapidly decreasing, the reduction for the week being 1,946,000 bushels, making the total 19,768,000 bushels, or 2,632,000 bushels less than last year. Cash demand was better, with sales of 125,000 bushels, including 60,000 bushels to Canadian industries. Local receipts were 225 cars, with the spot basis about unchanged.

Oats had a range of ⅛@⅜c, with the average prices for the day lower, after a firm opening. Sentiment is decidedly mixed, with the pit element showing a disposition to go slow until the situation becomes more clearly defined. Rains fell over Sunday over part of the belt and were very beneficial. Receipts, 130 cars.

Rye was dull, with buying by houses with seaboard connections the outstanding feature. No export sales were reported.

Two of the most important recent projects in the Kern county fields which will mark the discovery of two new producing areas are now being completed, and if the efforts of the operators are successful two wildcat wells will be producing oil within the next few days.

One of these projects is the Southwest Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 well about three miles northeast of Taft. The liner in this well was landed Sunday night, and yesterday the crew was swabbing to put it on production. Sixteen feet of oil sand, which is described as rich, have been penetrated, and a 1000 to 1500-barrel well is expected.

The Southwest well is more than a mile from the nearest production, and will extend the Midway field probably two miles to the north toward the Elk Hills, which are about two miles distant. During a water test two weeks ago by swabbing through two-inch tubing, oil rose to the top at a rate estimated at 300 barrels per day, with only eight feet of sand in the hole, it is reported.

The second important development in Kern county is the well of the Elk Hills Development Company in the Elk Hills, offsetting the southwest corner of Naval Reserve No. 1. This well drilled to 2700 feet, is reported in a good productive sand, but its completion is delayed by a bit which was lost in the hole while deepening. As soon as this is extracted, officials of the company plan to place it on production.

The Elk Hills well is about midway between the McKittrick field, and the Standard holdings in the midst of the naval reserve. Its successful completion will mean an entirely new field, officials assert.

Gasser Calms Down

The Standard Oil Company's Farrell No. 1 in the Inglewood-Hyde Park district, which blew out last Friday afternoon, is under control, and will be cemented and drilled deeper, it was reported yesterday by officials of the company. The gas flow subsided spontaneously about 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning, but broke out again about two hours later. Toward night the violence of the outbreak diminished, and yesterday morning the drill crew succeeded in mudding up, and capping the hole. The well still rumbles and threatens a new outburst, according to drillers.

Officials of the Standard Oil assert that the gas which blew out of the Farrell wwas not a true petroleum gas, but was a marsh gas, similar to that found in bogs and swamps and generated by decomposition of vegetable matter. An interesting feature of the blowout, according to officials, was the ejection of considerable quantities of wood, pine cones, and pine needles, which are said to be in a remarkable state of preservation, still woody and fibrous. Some of the cones are said to be partly silicified, but the organic matter still remains in something like its original state in most of the samples recovered, drillers report. This tree material came from a depth of about 1100 feet where the blowout of gas occurred, it is said.

Damage to the rig is reported slight, and no trouble in continuing with the well is anticipated.

To Cement Childs

The Shell Company has suspended drilling at 3884 feet in the Childs No. 1, the most easterly well in the Dominguez field, and is running ten-inch casing to cement, it is reported by officials of the company.

The General Petroleum Corporation is still drilling ahead in the Austin No. 1 in the northern part of the field, but expects to run casing and cement in the next few days, according to field reports. The formation at about 5500 feet is still oil-bearing, and if the water is shut off, there is sufficient oil sand to make a producer, it is understood.

At Rosecrans

The Union Oil Company yesterday cemented its Rosecrans No. 1 for the eighth time, after seven failures to shut off water. The crew was running tubing to recement the Athens No. 1, one and one-quarter miles northeast.

The Zinn No. 1, east of the Rosecrans well, is to be the next drilling project in the field. The crew started building a rig yesterday, according to official reports.

Well Cemented

The Calwin Oil Company's wildcat well at Eagle Rock is standing cemented, according to reports from the field. The cement will be allowed to set for at least two weeks before the plug is drilled out, it is said.

Cleaning Out Well

The National Securities Oil Company's well near Orange County Park, is cleaning out preparatory to making a production test during the latter part of the week, it is reported. Heavy gas pressure is said to be present.

CAN YOUR TAXES BE CUT?

Series of Concise Articles on Cost of Government; Where the Money Goes and Why

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1924, in United States and Great Britain by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.]

PUBLIC DEBT CHARGES

Out of every dollars which was raised by Alexander Hamilton to carry on the Federal government in 1790, 55 cents went to pay interest on the public debt. The government spent $4,269,000 for all purposes in that year. Interest took $2,349,000. For the next twenty years the public debt charges took $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 a year. Then bump number one appeared. A war.

The War of 1812 caused public debt charges to increase for fifteen years to about $5,000,000 annually. Then for ten years a gradual reduction took place, for peace was abroad in the land. Peace is the greatest healer of financial sickness known to mankind. By 1836, the public debt had been entirely paid off. The item of interest for the next ten years was a mere trifle. But it was too good to last.

So the government of the United States deliberately ran into bump number two. The Mexican War.

From 1846 to 1860, the public debt charges again reached from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 annually. And by that time it was not difficult to meet. The government had again control of the situation. Then bump number three appeared. It was a terrible one. Another war.

The Civil War nearly wrecked the American nation financially—both in the North and in the South. Interest charges rose from $4,000,000 in 1861 to $133,000,000 in 1866. The next fifteen years were heart-breaking ones. The debt charges averaged well over $100,000,000 annually. But the great financial healer, Peace, was again in the land, interest charges decreased as payments were made on the principal. The Spanish-American War added but little to the burden, because the great part of the war expenses were paid out of current taxes.

That was the right policy in 1898. It was the one policy to have pursued in 1917. But it was not followed. Bump number four appeared. Another war.

GREATEST DEBAUCH

The Great War was the greatest financial debauch in all the history of mankind. We spent for purely war purposes a total of $30,737,000,000 and we raised in war taxes a total of $6,900,000,000. For every dollar which we spent for war, we raised 22.4 cents in taxes. The balance—77.8 cents—we got by selling government credit and by debauching our money. We conscripted men, but we did not conscript wealth. That was our biggest mistake.

Jean De Bloch, a Polish banker, published a treatise on "The Future of War." In the six volumes of this monumental work the banker established the preposition that from a purely economic viewpoint a modern war was nothing less than international suicide. And unless civilization could get rid of it, war would get rid of civilization. Bloch was the first business statesman to understand just what war did to the modern industrial plant.

He saw clearly that unless all the war expenses are paid for out of current taxation, future generations will pay the cost by their savings and hardships. Yes, and at a lower standard of living. The whole world is experiencing just that thing today. And the people of the United States are not outside of this iron law of war.

It is very important at this point that we should not confine real wealth with the evidences and symbols of wealth. Real wealth consists of goods and services, while evidences of wealth consist of money and credit.

In real wealth, therefore, the United States paid its entire cost of the war while it was being fought. There was no escape from it. Every army saddle, every gun, every uniform, every ton of shell, every piece of beefsteak, every man-hour spent in military service, was taken from the current store of wealth at the time.

REAL INCOMES REDUCED

Now if these materials and energies given to war activity did not rise from increased productive efficiency, which would have been impossible under peace conditions, this draft on our real wealth made poorer by just that muchthe current real incomes of our population. Now then did we pay for the war? We paid for it in housing shortages, in food and clothing scarcities—in a word, in a reduced purchasing power of the average individual. So the real cost of the war was met only by a reduction in consumption.

Every person who has been through the experiencees of the last war should know and understand that such deprivations and hardships would not have been an iota enlarged if the entire money cost of the war had been raised by taxation and not a cent had been raisbed by borrowings.

So if the entire cost of the last war for the United States had been paid out of current taxation, instead of only 31 per cent as raised, the immediate cost to the people in real wealth would have been no greater and there would have been no Federal war debt of $25,000,000,000 to pay off after the war was over.

I want to make this point especially clear. The government of the United States, by raising 69 per cent of the money necessary for war by governmental borrowings, only added to the future tax burdens without reducing the immediate real cost.

But you ask how is such a thing possible? If the government had doubled his taxes, would Mr. Citizen not have less money with which to buy current necessities. Such a question overlooks the change in the value of money which accompanied, and must always accompany, large scale government borrowings. It is true that the individual taxpayers had to give over to the government fewer dollars than if the war had been entirely financed by taxation. But the dollars which he had left could buy less because of the higher prices accompanying the inflation of credit and currency, which in turn was caused directly by government borrowings.

SYMBOLS OF WEALTH

So the last war from the standpoint of all government finances was a tragedy, not only because of the real wealth destroyed, but because it corrupted and demoralized the symbols or evidences of no exception.

When the ratio of volume of credit and currency increases faster than the ratio of the volume of goods produced, prices rise, money falls in value and inflation sets in. That is what happened throughout the world in the last war period. It happened also in the United States. Result—money, the medium of exchange, shrunk in value. It just withered up so that $100 in 1913 became worth only $48 in purchasing value in 1919. Inflation is grand larceny by the government. It robs one class of people and hands the loot over to another class. It always works the same way. The greater part of the world's troubles today are directly due to the evils of inflation. We borrowed 77.6 per cent of our war expenses. We, too, committed the crime of inflation.

Interest on the public debt grew from $24,742,000 in the fiscal year 1918 to $1,055,088,000 in the fiscal year 1923. For every dollar spent by the United States for interest in 1918, $42 was needed in 1923.

Our public debt charges in 1923 were more than twice the cost of the whole Federal government in 1900. It was more than one and one-half times the total cost of the entire government as late as the fiscal year 1917.

Since the beginning of the fiscal year 1920, the people of the United States have had to pay out approximately $3,000,000 a day for public debt charges. This is more by approximately $377,000,000 than the total spent on the Army and Navy together for 1923. Yet it is really a war cost—one of the tangible things we got out of the war.

On June 30, 1916, our interest-bearing debt was $971,562,000. On June 30, 1923, it had reached $22,007,000,000. The interest charges had grown during the same period from $23,084,000 to $1,055,000.

For every dollar spent by the Federal government in the fiscal year 1923, this item of interest alone took 25.5 cents. But this is not the whole story. Another $402,850,000 must be added to the public debt charges as payment on principal. Together (for interest and principal) over 41 cents out of every dollar which the government of the United States spent went for this item of debt charges. It is easily the largest single item in the cost of the Federal government.

GO ALONG AS A PERQUISITE

John Loyter was poor but brainy. He had walked far that morning. As he plodded on and on a trap overtook him. He stopped it with uplifted hand.

"I say," he called out to the driver, "would you do me a favor? I want this overcoat of mine taken along to the next village. Do you mind taking it?"

"Certainly," was the prompt reply. "But where shall I leave it? How will you get it again?"

"Well, if it's all the same to you, I'd like to remain inside it.—[Atlanta Journal.

BEDTIME STORY

On Saturday night the little ones were enjoying some music in the parlor and bedtime drew near Mother said: "Now, children, choose a hymn to finish up with and then you must all say goodnight."

"Let's have 'Ere Again the Sabbath Close,' suggested the 7-year-old daughter.

"Well, I think that would be more suitable for tomorrow evening," replied her mother.

"Oh, but you always air our Sabbath clothes on Saturdays," said the child.—[Boston Transcript.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
Coast and Geodetic Survey
Tides. Los Angeles Harbor.

Note—The following tabulation of the tides is compiled from the Pacific Coast Tide Tables of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. The tides are arranged in the order of their occurrence, beginning with the first tide after midnight in the left-hand column. There are usually four tides, two high and two low, each day; but occasionally what would be the fourth tide occurs after midnight and thus becomes the first tide of the next day. The columns of heights give the elevation of each tide above the plane of reference of the Coast and Geodetic Survey chart soundings, except where the numbers are preceded by the minus sign, or dash, when heights are below the plane. The tabulations are furnished by the Field Station of the Survey, Custom House, San Francisco, Cal.

Sunrise and sunset are computed for Los Angeles Harbor. Moonrise and moonset for Los Angeles.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—The disabled liner Ruth Alexander, forced to anchor off Trinidad Head last week, when a bad leak developed, is expected to sail for San Francisco some time tomorrow, according to telegraphic advices received here today. She will be placed in drydock on her arrival and not resume her regular schedule until May 6.

The steamer Caoba of the Sudden & Christenson fleet with 640,000 feet of lumber, had engine trouble just at the entrance of the Golden Gate today and was forced to anchor. She was towed into the harbor later. The Caoba was southbound from Gray's Harbor.

Capt. T. A. Oakes will be on the bridge of the Pacific Mail steamer San Juan when she sails for Panama via Mexico and Central America, May 1, with passengers and freight. He was substituted today for Capt. E. P. Winter through application of the seniority rule. Capt. Winter will be given shore duty until another command is available.

The liner President Wilson will sail for the Orient on her around-the-world schedule early tomorrow afternoon with 654 passengers and a large cargo. Withdrawal of the President Pierce and later the President Taft for repairs left the company with only four ships for a five-ship service, so the Wilson's stay here has been cut short.

The Mexican steamer Washington with twenty-eight passengers and a cargo of merchandise, arrived today from Manzanillo via Los Angeles.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company today entered a libel suit in Federal court against the Shipowners' and Merchants' Tugboat Company, alleging that carelessness on the part of the tugboat company had permitted the steamer Santa Olivia to crash into pier 44, injuring both vessel and pier. Damages aggregating $7808 were asked.

SEATTLE, April 28.—Indicating that the United States Shipping Board plans to concentrate its several vessels on the North Pacific Coast in Seattle, the steamship West Kader arrived here from Portland, Or., last night.

In tow of the ocean tug Sea Monarch of the Cary-Davis Tug and Barge Company, the floating pavilion Blue Bird, owned in Portland, Or., arrived here tonight. The vessel has two large dance floors and is equipped with her own lighting plant and water system.

Under charter for six months for towing logs from the Yaquina River, Or., to ports on the Columbia River, the ocean tug Douglas of the Cary Davis Tug and Barge Company steamed out of the harbor here tonight.

After a voyage of thirty-nine hours from San Francisco, the Pacific Steamship Company's liner H. F. Alexander arrived today. Passengers from the steamship Ruth Alexander, which was disabled the latter part of last week off Trinidad Head, Cal., were brought to Seattle by the steamship Dorothy Alexander yesterday.

Four vessels of the Matson Navigation Company, scheduled to sail between now and May 24, will carry 10,000 tons of feed, flour and miscellaneous freight and more than 3,000,000 feet of lumber from Puget Sound to Hawaii. The steamships are the Manukai, the Lurline, the Makena and the Makaweli.

With the largest list of passengers ever brought into Puget Sound in the history of local marine annals, the Admiral Oriental Line steamship President Jackson arrived here tonight, almost a day ahead of schedule.

Coming here from Rotterdam, Holland, and Hull, Eng., the American tank steamship Harold Walker arrived tonight to discharge 2836 tons of cargo.

On her first visit to Puget Sound and North Pacific waters, the new Norwegian motorship Geisha arrived at Bellingham today, and will shift to Seattle tomorrow.

Marking the second arrival here from Oriental ports during the day, the British steamship Philoctetes arrived tonight from China and Japan.

TACOMA, April 28.—After making one voyage to California in the McCormick Line service, the Lackawanna again is laid up here. The shortage in freight due to hoof-and-mouth disease, is said to be the cause.

The steamer Alaska of the Alaska Steamship Company will be the first steamer connecting with river steamers at Nenana for inside points according to word received by the local agent.

In the Nelson service the steamers Yosemite and Tiverton arrived here today from San Francisco. Both vessels had freight for local firms and shifted to Seattle after unloading here.

The Multnomah and Santa Inez sailed this evening with part loads of lumber. The Multnomah will finish her California cargo at Everett. The Dorothy Wintermote from San Francisco is listed to arrive tomorrow to load more than a million feet of lumber here.

The Dorothy Alexander was in and out today with a large amount of freight.

The President Jackson is due Thursday to load flour for China and the Orcus arrives Saturday for flour for South America.

The Providencia arrived at the Tacoma smelter last night and is discharging ore from Mexico. She will load on Henderson Bay and at Aberdeen.

Making the second vessel within a week to load for Honolulu, the Lurline of the Matson Line arrived today. She is taking 2500 tons of general freight from here. The Manukai of this line yesterday took 1800 tons of freight from Tacoma.

The Norwegian steamer Rigi will sail for Australia tomorrow with 600,000 feet of lumber from this port.

PORTLAND (Or.) April 28.—The motorship Carriso, opening service between Portland and the Hawaiian Islands, left today on her first trip. Although the agent, the General Steamship Corporation, was not able to book the vessel full, it is expected that the craft will be fairly filled on its next voyage. Capt. H. S. Hood, master, expects to be back at Portland about June 3.

Marking its transfer from intercoastal service of the Garland Line to the South American West Coast run of the Pan-Pacific Line, the steamer Maine arrived tonight to load about 1,400,000 feet of lumber and 500 tons of flour. Norton, Lilly & Co. are agents for the vessel.

Inspecting the northwest agencies of the McCormick Steamship Company, Charles L. Wheeler, general manager, is in the city conferring with Hillman Lueddemann, resident manager. W. H. Nelson, resident manager at Astoria, is also here conferring with the general manager. Wheeler expects to be here two or three days and then goes to Puget Sound.

The Columbia Pacific Shipping Company's steamer Dewey arrived at Davao on the morning of the 26th inst. to load hemp and copra, having gone there from Zamboanga, according to a cablegram received today. The steamer West Capote, hence March 25, arrived at Shanghai the 24th inst. and the Anna E. Morse sailed one day later from Tsingtao for Tabu Bar.

ASTORIA, April 29.—The steam schooner Wapama arrived this afternoon from San Francisco and went to Rainier to load lumber.

The Norwegian steamer Hoda arrived today from the Orient and after being fumigated will load lumber at Prescott, St. Helens and Portland.

The Columbia River Association cannery tender Patsy, which was scheduled to sail this morning for Nushagak River, Alaska, did not get away but may leave tomorrow. It appears that some members of the crew were anxious to hear what wages are being paid by the Seattle canneries operating in the Bristol Bay district before sailing. The Patsy will go via Ketchikan and thence to Chignik before heading for Unimak Pass on her way to Bering Sea.

VICTORIA (B. C.) April 28.—Completing a trip from the Orient, the Blue Funnel liner Philoctetes arrived here today with a steerage list of 450 Chinese. Included among them were 270 Chinese en route to Jamaica.

A new steamship line will operate out of Victoria, it was announced today by Henry Davidson of Dodwell & Co. of Vancouver, who was visiting here. Dodwell & Co. have appointed British Columbia agents for the Mexican Free Ports Commission line, which will operate the steamers Washington and Bolivar on a monthly schedule out of Vancouver and Victoria to West Coast Mexican ports, Davidson said.

PORT NOTES

Los Angeles and Philadelphia are tied for fifth rank in number of passengers in overseas foreign, domestic noncontiguous and intercoastal travel for the calender year 1923, according to statistics compiled by the United States Shipping Board. The figures show New York easily leading, Boston next, then San Francisco and Seattle. Los Angeles' total of 10,261 is divided as follows: Overseas foreign, 2003; noncontiguous, 7072; intercoastal, 1186. Figures on coastwise travel are not included, which would add many thousands to Los Angeles' total.

Ten thousand cases of sardines comprise part of the cargo taken on here by the Swayne & Hoyt freighter West Calera for Buenos Aires. The sardines are taken as a trial shipment, one of the largest to the Latin city. Aboard also are 500 bags of Utah wax, another new item of export to South America. The vessel sailed last night under command of Capt. Randall Rogers.

Two other Swayne & Hoyt vessels will arrive this week, the Pacific, Carribean and Gulf freighter Ormidale today from Mobile with 1000 tons for here, and the West Notus from South America Wednesday. The latter is bringing the first shipment of Brazil nuts this season, 7160 bags of coffee and 1200 tons of fertilizer for this port.

STUDY AND SPORT

College President Formulates Rules Of Success for Students

Declaring that peaceful seclusion and scholastic quiet are no longer characteristics of our institutions of learning, Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of Washington and Lee University, has addressed a statement to his students as well as to college men in general advising them how they may succeed in study and yet find time for outside activities.

The American college and boarding school of today, says Dr. Smith, has become such a whirlwind center of outside activities—social, athletic, musical, religious, journalistic, dramatic—that the casual observer looking on from the outside cannot see "where the studying comes in." Many young men, he points out, who left home to obtain a college education are led by campus pressure to subtitute for it a varied assortment of courses in college life. To the serious-minded students who wish to utilize both college life and college studies he makes the following suggestions:

"First, systematize your daily program of work and play. Time is your most valuable possession. By utilizing for intensive study the odd half and quarter hours now wasted you can probably save an hour each day for outside activities or recreation. Have a daily program and the backbone to stick to it. Never drift through a day. Drive your ship of life under its own steam along a self-chosen course toward some definite goal regardless of wind or tide.

"Cultivate promptness and quick decision even in the smallest matters. Despite dawdling over anything, and shun the habit of postponement as you would a loathsome disease. Take a savage pleasure in doing promptly the thing you hate but know you ought to do. In short, organize, systematize and speed up your daily routine and you will double your legitimate leisure, without in the least diminishing your daily output of regular work.

"Second, limit your outside activities and be wise enough and strong enough to cut out purposeless loafing and useless recreation. Such sedentary recreations as chess, cards, pool, picture shows, drug store and hotel loafing, novel reading and theatergoing may be suitable for other people; but for students in college or boarding-school are a foolish waste of precious time. Invest most of your leisure time in manly, competitive, strenuous sports and games, preferably in the open air, and gain on the one investment a half dozen dividends. Such recreations test the mind, invigorate the body, strengthen the will, quicken the judgment, make the bodily senses alert and train the participant in habits of fairness, loyalty and cooperation.

"Do not make the common and harmful mistake of joining to many organizations. Investigate the merits of each. Some minister to childish vanity but are void of real campus value; some are merely time wasters; some are positively harmful while many are of great benefit if wisely utilized. In general, choose both your recreation and organizations with reference to their real and permanent value in your own all-round development and future welfare, rather than their present pleasantness or temporary value."

Dr. Smith's final point of advice is that students should learn to study always "with white hot concentration." This, he declares, will not only rapidly develop mental power, but will also enable students to do their work in half the time, thus solving the problem of obtaining success in study and ample time for outside activities.—[New York Times.

HAS MENTAL INDEX OF HUNDREDS OF VOICES

Is a voice a better identification tag than a face?

Telephone operators say voices are more easily recognized and they ought to know—they hear enough of them. Voices, they assert, are more personal than faces. Faces may bear resemblance, but a voice is distinctly individual.

"I find it comparatively easy to associate voices with names, although I do not recognize transient callers," says Miss Virginia Y. Robinson, who has been private branch exchange operator for the Philadelphia Board of Education for more than six years. In that time she has familiarized herself with the names and voices of the entire administration staff, most of the 350 school principals and hundreds of school teachers.

"Of course if I were to meet them on the street, I should fail to recognize them," says Miss Robinson, "but I have learned to know the voices and to catalogue them mentally. If a person calls more than once and leaves his name, I usually remember both his name and his voice. If he calls again, I endeavor, of course, to call him by name."—[Telephone Press.

Strange Things in Greenland

"During the short summer," says the National Geographic Society, "the interior of Greenland presents phenomena to be found nowhere else in the world; but the frozen wastes are inaccessible and only a few eyes have beheld the changes that take place when the sun swings to the north. Great lakes are formed; mighty rivers flow between blue crystal banks, their waters never touching a stone nor a fragment of soil until they finally plunge down some chasm in the ice. Glaciers push out of the countless fiords, some discharging ice into the sea at the rate of fifty to a hundred feet a day."

Tangled Phone Cords

Almost every radio fan is annoyed with tangling and kinking telephone cords. This problem can be solved by pulling the telephone cord through a section of flexible metal or rubber tubing, such as is used for small gas-stove connections. The same device is equally useful for preventing other electric cord from tangling.—[Popular Science.

Leach Cross Urges Benefit for Langford

Leach Cross may not be widely known to the sporting-public of today, perhaps, but to the fans of the past the name calls up many memories. Cross a number of years ago was one of the high lights of the fighting-game, and at one time he was a strong contender for the lightweight championship of the world.

This famous boxer, always with a thought for his fellow man, has offered his talents in a match, his opponent to be selected by the proper officials, for the proposed benefit that is in the making for Sam Langford. Sam has met with bad luck, besides becoming blind as a result of the many fights that he has taken part in. He also is penniless. Cross would do all in his power to aid Sam and this is the best means that he can see.

In his challenge Cross has included any contender, to be picked from the 130 to 138-pounders hereabouts. Cross is confident that he will still be able to pull a few tricks as he did when he won the decision from Chet Neff some two years ago.

ANDERSON HOOKS UP WITH JOE MENDINO

The fight fans will have another chance to witness a good fight card at the San Fernando Athletic Club tomorrow night. In the main event at the Stadium Ed Anderson will crawl through the ropes to meet Joe Mendino.

Bert Myers will fill the bill in the semifinal bout when he tangles with Sailor Ackerman. Myers should show his opponent a thing or two about fighting, but Ackerman should keep him going the full time. Other bouts on the program will be Will Shields vs. Soldier Brown of Hollywood, San Fernando Kid vs. Back Baby, Henry Marcus vs. Tom Aguira of Pacoima, Martin Lee vs. Young Carlo of Boyle Heights.

J. J. DUGAN WILL OPEN GOLF SCHOOL

J. J. Dugan, ex-Irish open golf champion, also runner-up in the Illinois open championship of 1923, will open a golf school in Los Angeles. The new school will be located at 6331 Santa Monica Boulevard. Mr. Dugan is a past master in the art of golf instruction, as this has been his occupation for the past twelve years. A complete repair shop will be run in conjunction with the school, according to Mr. Dugan.

ROOSEVELT-FRANKLIN

Roosevelt High School will meet Franklin Friday in the first round of the City League baseball tilts. This will mark the initial entrance of the Rough Riders in city baseball.

The "Teddies" expect to make a good showing and will have a full turn-out of the student body.

Lusty Lassies to Frolic on Cinder Paths

Women are ever winning fame and importance in the Southland. The entrance of women for the first time on the Pacific Coast in a championship track meet of Southern California is a great advance in women's athletics. The fair sex will cavort around the oval in the Amateur Athletic Union meet of Southern California to be held at the Coliseum, May 3. Gwynn Wilson of the University of California has completed the final arrangement for this competition and the formal announcement was made today by him.

Approximately three hundred women athletes will enter the meet in May. Some of the best talent in the country will journey out to the Coliseum to don B. V. D. uniforms for a scamp around the track. The events that are scheduled in this division of the meet will be the 50-yard dash, 50-yard low hurdles and the 220-yard relay. The increased interest shown in women's athletics in the last few years have encouraged the feminine sex to spend more time in this branch of sport, the result being that many good sprinters have been developed lately and the standing records have a good chance to be shattered in the Southern California meet.

AVIATION FIELD IS VOTED

ncil Authorizes Griffith Park Airport; Federal and State Funds to be Provided

Unanimous approval of proposals to establish an aviation field Griffith Park, as contained in a resolution offered by Councilman was voted yesterday by the City Council. The resolution ap- previous favorable action by the Board of Park Commissioners declared that "said airport will be of inestimable value to the of Los Angeles."

explained by members of the Commission and by Lieut. C. Moseley, in command of Field for the Federal Air the proposed Griffith Park will lie north of the No. 2 municipal golf course and, though some 130 acres, will room for a third course. Moseley estimated that there are between 400 and 500 former air flyers living in Los Angeles and that 200 of them are now regularly flying at Clover Field. It was the size of the active personnel, he said, that had induced the adjutant-general of the California National Guard, co-operating with the United States Army and the postoffice air mail, to offer the field to Los Angeles, although it also was sought by San Francisco and Sacramento.

Under the authorization granted the park department yesterday, the field is set aside for five years free of cost. The National Guard will erect two steel hangars, housing eight machines, and a clubhouse for aviators' use will also be provided. Federal aid, in the form of material, will amount to $200,000 and the State contemplates an expenditure of $35,000.

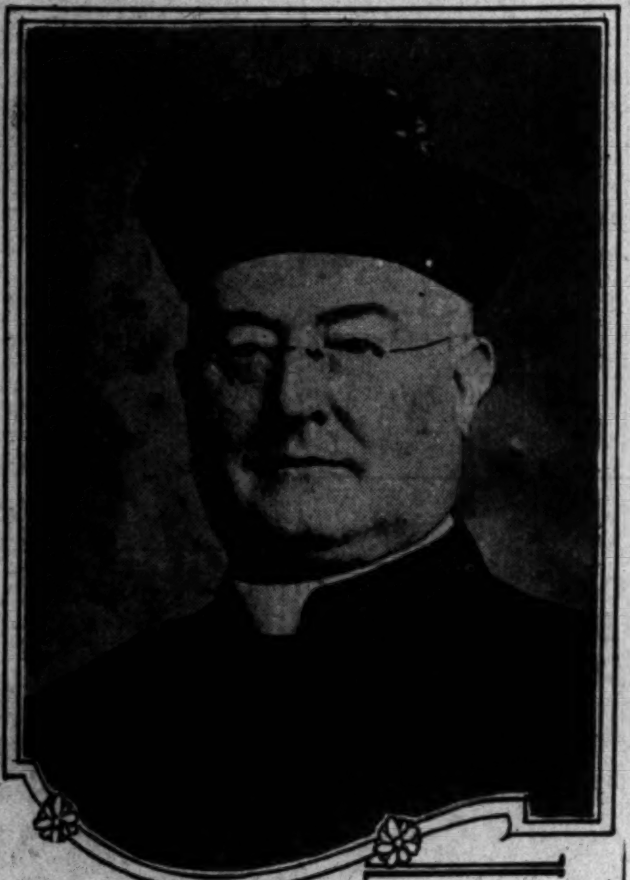
Pioneer Prelate Passes Away



Rt. Rev. Mgr. Harnett

Veteran Southland rector passes away after illness of five weeks.

MGR. HARNETT SUCCUMBS

Veteran Rector of St. Vibiana's Cathedral Dies at St. Vincent's Hospital; Ill Five Weeks

Following an illness of about five weeks, Rt. Rev. Mgr. Hartnett, V.G.P.A., for many years rector of St. Vibiana's Cathedral, passed away at St. Vincent's Hospital at 5:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was unconscious many hours before death.

Solemn requiem high mass will be held at St. Vibiana's Cathedral on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The office of the dead will be chanted by the priests of the city at St. Vibiana's tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Burial will be at Calvary.

Mgr. Harnett was one of the best known and beloved of the clergy of Los Angeles. A picturesque and outstanding figure in the life and development of the city from the time it was a sleepy pueblo, he was about the last connecting link between the old Spanish ecclesiastic regime and the present American ecclesiastic regime.

Mgr. Harnett was born in 1858 in the County of Limerick, Ireland, was ordained priest at St. Patrick's Seminary, Carlow, Ireland, in 1882, and came to Los Angeles that year. In 1885 he was appointed secretary to Bishop Mora, who was the last of the Spanish bishops in Southern California.

In 1887 Father Harnett was sent to organize a parish in the eastern part of Los Angeles, his work there being crowned with the building of Sacred Heart Church. He was then made rector of St. Vibiana's cathedral and vicar-general of the Catholic diocese of Los Angeles in 1889. Since that time he has continued as rector of St. Vibiana's and upon two occasions since he has acted as administrator of the diocese. The first occasion came when Archbishop Montgomery was transferred to San Francisco, until the appointment of Bishop Conaty, and again, upon the death of Bishop Conaty, until the appointment of his successor in 1917 the Rt. Rev. John J. Cantwell. He had been vicar-general of the diocese for twenty-five years.

Mgr. Harnett was a man of high priestly character and scholarly attainments. He was an eloquent speaker and a man whose genial character brought him many friends not only within his church but without.

He was founder of the Cathedral High School, which he first located at Second and Main streets near the cathedral. His last work was in obtaining the renovation and enlargement of St. Vibiana's, a work that was only recently completed. His standing in his church was such that he was on more than one occasion mentioned in connection with the bishopric.

Mgr. Harnett was the brother of Mrs. Catherine Hannon, Mrs. M. McDonald, Mrs. M. Keenan, Mrs. H. Collins, the late John Harnett, Mrs. Ellen Meade and Mrs. Johanna Slaney. He was the uncle of Rev. John Harnett of San Francisco.

NEW TRICK OF SURGERY TO BE TRIED

Circulations of Two Men to be United to Cure Burned Leg

Dr. C. W. Cook, 826 Westchester Place, will attempt to repeat one of nature's queerst pranks today when he unites the circulation systems of two friends in a final effort to restore to health the burned leg of George Selsing, a telephone lineman, who has been bedridden since February 13, 1921.

What Mother Nature sometimes does when she produces Siamese twins, Dr. Cook will try to do temporarily at the Angelus Hospital at 9 o'clock this morning, while a number of interested medical men look on.

The legs of Selsing and his friend, Carl Strickland, will be bound together. Dr. Cook will carefully tie a piece of skin from Strickland's leg to the burned region on Selsing's limb. The two legs will remain bound together until the fresh, healthy blood from Strickland's system has started the growing process in Selsing's withered member.

Several previous attempts to graft new skin on Selsing's leg have failed. The attempt to unite the circulation systems of the two men, however, is unique in Los Angeles medical history, it was stated last night.

NORMA TALMADGE

If I had one year to live I believe I would not vary my daily routine a single jot. I try to live from day to day with the idea always in mind that life is fleeting and that what little good we can do while we are here should be done as we go along through life. Opportunities to do good should be taken advantage of as they come along, for once neglected there is no calling them back.

BROADWAY IMPROVING IS PUSHED

Council Acts to Assure Formation of District in Extension Project

Action by the City Council yesterday paved the way for final proceedings looking to the creation of the Broadway Improvement District, a project estimated to cost between $2,000,000 and $5,000,000, under which Broadway will be extended from Pico street as a long step in the Broadyay-to-the-Sea movement.

All protests, amounting, it was said, to less than 9 per cent of the property valuation affected, were read and denied. Only one protestant appeared in person or by attorney. One protest read in part: "One thing I don't approve of is cutting our city all up into streets."

The Southern Pacific Railroad and the Southern Pacific Company, two of the largest property holders in the district, withdrew their protests on the ground that they had been filed in error and did not truly represent the attitude of the companies.

SUBSTITUTE PARK PLANS TO BE MADE

Wilshire Project Given Up to Save $200,000; Action Will be Renewed

In order to save the difference between $650,000 and $450,000, proceedings for the creation of a new city park to be known as Wilshire Park virtually were abandoned yesterday and, in all probability, will be instituted in a new form.

The basis of the present proceedings, the City Council was informed by the City Attorney's office, lies in the higher property valuation contained in the petition now on file and the only way to amend it is by withdrawal and the circulation of a new petition.

Meanwhile, action has been deferred pending the preparation of a new ordinance of intention, which attorneys for the Wilshire Park Association and for the city will go over together.

The civic organization known as the Friends of Our Parks notified the Council in writing yesterday of unanimous action taken by its members last Thursday, when they went on record as favoring the widening of Wilshire Boulevard to 200 feet from Ardmore street west to the city limits and the widening from Westlake Park to Ardmore street "to such width as may be possible in view of existing structures."

PETROLEUM COURSES

The University of California announces courses in petroleum field technology and in petroleum refining technology. The former begins Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Hillstreet Building, the latter Friday at 7 p.m. Siegfried Fisher, formerly of Colorado School of Mines, is the instructor. Registrations are received at 815 South Hill street.

BLEDSOE CLUB SPEAKER

Federal Judge Bledsoe will address the members of the University Club tomorrow noon on the subject of the "Cultural Development of Los Angeles." Fourteen members of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Company, now being organized, will sing during the meeting.

LEAPS INTO PIT OF FIRE, SAVES MAN

N. F. Gallucci is Hero in Lomita Rescue Following Blast; Three Burned

Displaying courage that has won for him the admiration of oil field workers, N. F. Gallucci, 1526 Marceleno street, was painfully burned when he jumped into a pit filled with flames as a result of a gas explosion at Lomita yesterday and rescued Frank Lennon, 2307½ Lemon street, Los Angeles, who was seriously burned. Gallucci was a bystander.

Two other Los Angeles men working in the pit received burns. They are John Connor, 2512 West Boulevard, and Lee Mendoza, 2328 East Thirty-eighth street. All were removed to the Golden State Hospital, Los Angeles.

The men were working on a pipe line belonging to the General Petroleum Company and it is believed a spark from their tools ignited gas leaking from the pipe.

MISSING GIRL SAID TO BE HIDING HERE

Police are convinced that Eva Smith, 14-year-old schoolgirl who disappeared from her home at Pasadena six weeks ago, is somewhere in this city. They have learned that she was seen here some time ago and believe that she is now going under the name of Margaret Gates. The girl's mother, Mrs. Lida Smith of 555 Concordia street, Pasadena, is making every effort to locate her daughter.

LIQUOR FINE LEVIED

Federal Judge Bledsoe yesterday fined Frances Rodriguez, proprietor of a restaurant at 659 North Broadway, $300 when she pleaded guilty to a charge of selling intoxicating liquor in violation of the Volstead Act. A similar charge against John Rodriguez, a dishwasher in the restaurant, was dismissed.

Family Bus is to Be Treated Just Like Fido in the Future; Off to Jail With it, Officer, if Minus License Plates; Blame Either Police or Thieves for Loss, is Edict

Faithful Fido and the faithful old family bus have often been likened to each other and their points of resemblence have often been noted. They have a new point of similarity now as a result of orders issued by Capt. Cleveland Heath of the police traffic bureau yesterday to the police under him.

It is well known that Faithful Fido is extremely likely to be hauled off to the pound unless he has this year's license on his collar.

It has not been the practice in the past to treat the family bus that way but it will be in the future

ARREST IT, OFFICER

In other words, 1923 license plates will no longer be worn. They are outre, passe and must be sunk without a trace.

Will H. Marsh and Capt. Heath have put their respective feet down and that's that. The captain, at the suggestion of Mr. Marsh, who runs the State Motor Vehicle Department, sent out the word in this wise:

All motor vehicles still bearing 1923 plates are to be arrested. The arresting officer will take them to Central Station—Capt. Heath's orders — salute the deck sergeant, book the prisoners and then take them to a city pound at Lincoln Heights Jail where they will remain until they get the proper green and white or red and white insignia fore and aft.

POLICE OR THIEVES

"There is no shortage of plates and the Motor Vehicle Department has caught up with its work," said Capt. Heath. "Mr. Marsh says he wants all the old 1923-licensed cars cleaned up and we are going to clean them up. There is only one way to make a thorough job of it and retire from circulation all the cars that haven't proper licenses, and we will take that way. So if anybody misses his car he can blame either the auto thieves or the police, according to whether his license is up to date or not."

Capt. Heath pointed out that cars will be treated like dogs only up to a certain point. After the cars are in the pound the city will not have to feed them.

Conduct Affairs at School Without Faculty Help; Others Sit on Bench With Superior Judge

The youth of Los Angeles yesterday took over the reins of educational government and handled them with all the expertness of the old-time stage-coach driver.

In practically every school above the grade division in Los Angeles and Hollywood the faculty was conspicuous by its absence and in the seats of authority sat boy students, part of the program in observance of Boys' Week which began Sunday in the churches and will continue throughout the week until Saturday night.

In at least one instance, boys occupied a Superior Court bench, nominally at least, when Judge Clock divided his legal throne with six students of the Long Beach High School, and announcement from San Francisco is to the effect that 13-year-old Arthur Doyle reigned nominally for the day at the head of all California's judiciary machinery as substitute for Chief Justice Myers.

WINNER OF BABY SHOW ANNOUNCED

Murray J. Black, Jr., Ten Weeks of Age is Awarded First Prize in City

Just a bare leap ahead of a mixed quartet of babies who scored high during Baby Week, Murray J. Black, Jr., with ten weeks of life to his credit, ranked first in the examination which ended last Saturday. His advantage was very slight, however, being a twentieth of a point. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray J. Black, 336 North Rampart Boulevard.

The four other babies who ranked at the top of the list just under Master Murray are: Virginia Lee Smith, 4½ months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Smith, 340½ West Fort-first street; Jane Ann Gormley, 20 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Gormley, 3446 Sabina; Neil Carl Emory, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emeory, 3031½ Van Burean, and Robert M. Byard, 7½ months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Byard, 8710 Menlo avenue.

Dr. Maud Wilde, in charge of the Mothers' Educational Center which conducted Baby Week, stated yesterday that the average this year is exceptionally high. Last year the babies ranked about 87 per cent, but last week brought the average up to 90 per cent. The final announcement of the score with slides of the babies and a children's program will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the auditorium of the Plymouth Congregational Church, 650 West Twenty-first street.

APPEALS FROM FINE AND JAIL SENTENCE

Mrs. Georgia Malley, 1551 West Forty-sixth street, filed notice of appeal yesterday from a fine of $300 and sentence of five days in jail imposed by Police Judge Pope for reckless driving. She gave $500 bond. It was testified that Mrs. Malley, driving 45 miles an hour, ran into a car belonging to Paul Polster, 2626 South Harvard Boulevard, at Fifty-ninth and Figueroa street, causing injury to a passenger in Polster's car.

Grab Compromise is Hinted at After Session

Lunch is Eaten at Desks as Power War Rages

Friends of the municipal Power Bureau in the City Council remained in continuous session for many hours yesterday in an attempt to "break" Councilman Mushet and to force him either to leave the Council chamber or to vote for the placing of the gas "grab" proposed ordinances on the May 6 election ballot. Councilman Mushet refused to be coerced into taking action against his convictions, and sent out for his lunch and remained at his desk.

At 5:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the attempt to "break" Mushet having failed, the Council adjourned. Mushet himself seemed happy over the adjournment, saying, "Everybody wins!" indicating that the Councilmen had reached a solution among themselves that would leave Mushet still sticking by his convictions but which would enable the election ordinances to be adopted today. The ballots already have been printed and the same ballots mailed to the voters with the gas "grab" ordinances on them.

DISREGARD HEALTH

The Council session yesterday produced a scene which has never before been witnessed at the City Hall—one lone Councilman, strong in his convictions, being bulldozed by his fellow Councilmen. But they did not succeed, and Councilman Mushet said that he could, if necessary, hold out until Thursday when it will be too late to adopt the Power Bureau's gas "grab" election ordinances.

Councilman Mushet's friends and members of his family feared for his health, as one year ago his health gave way and he was forced to take a long rest in the mountains.

If Mushet had been compelled to leave, substitute ordinances for those which he blocked last week by refusing unanimous consent, were ready for adoption and were to be snapped through while he was absent. The program failed

GUN THEFT SUSPECT TAKEN

Hughes Held as Ring Chief in $17,000 Robbery Here for Which Seven are Already Arrested

A nation-wide search for J. V. Hughes, asserted head of a ring accused of theft and disposal of more than $17,000 worth of rifles, guns and cutlery from the warehouse of the Winchester-Simmons Company ended with his arrest yesterday at Chehallis, Wash., according to a telegram received by the Sheriff's office.

Information received here said the suspect had been identified as the wanted man.

Hughes is the eighth asserted member of the ring to be arrested in the case. Others who have been taken and released on bail follow: David D. Draper, William E. Dixon, F. H. Dugal, John Catalana and G. L. Zuefute. William M. Shea is in the County Jail in default of $10,000 bail and the case of Ben W. Vignes is pending in Justice Wood's court.

Hughes was formerly an employee of the Wholesale Terminal Company, according to deputy sheriffs. In that capacity he is declared to have engineered the theft and disposal of the rifles.

Part of the stolen property was recovered, according to Deputy Sheriff Heller, in Texarkana, Ark. Eighty guns, said to include several high-priced tournament trapshooting rifles, were recovered and more than $1000 in cutlery was found in the Arkansas city, Deputy Heller said. Draper was placed under arrest in Texarkana, it was said.

According to Deputy Heller, the stolen rifles and cutlery were shipped all over the United States. Part of the plunder is said to have been recovered in Texas, Arkansas and some in California.

Deputy Sheriff Johnson will leave for Chehalis in a few days to have charge of the removal of the prisoner.

OBTAIN PAPERS OF M'CARTNEY

Sheriff's Deputies Recover Suit Case in Office

Documents Held Important in Realty Charges

Snapshot of Prominent Film Director Also Found

A suit case full of personal papers belonging to Grant McCartney, Los Angeles real estate man charged with conspiracy to obtain false evidence against his wife, Mrs. Paule McCartney, was recovered yesterday in a downtown office building, according to the announcement of Deputy Sheriffs Stensland and Weir of the homicide squad at the Sheriff's office.

The papers are said to cover business transactions entered into by McCartney over a period of years, especially in relation to the Panama Development Company, for his connection with which the real estate man is under indictment on ten counts here.

SNAPSHOT FOUND

Deputies declared they found the suit case in a downtown office building near a former office of McCartney. They said the papers will have an important bearing on the Panama Development Company case which comes up for trial May 5.

McCartney was under indictment on ten counts for the asserted obtaining of money on false pretenses at the time Mrs. McCartney charges she was framed at a roadhouse.

It was also revealed yesterday by Deputy Stensland and Weir that a snapshot of a man identified as a prominent motion-picture director was found in another suit case of McCartney seized upon the arrest of Sidney Blair, former private detective involved in Mrs. McCartney's charges.

ACCUSED BY WIFE

The deputies declared the snapshot was the only picture in the suit case which Blair is said to have packed with McCartney's effects at the real estate man's orders. McCartney never got the suit case as he and Blair did not see each other again, deputies declared.

In her charges against her husband and Blair, Mrs. McCartney declares she was lured to a roadhouse on the 6th inst. by Blair and forced into a compromising position, while a flashlight photograph was taken.

Evidence in the case is now being considered by the county grand jury, while the Sheriff's office is conducting a nation-wide search for McCartney.

GALLI-CURCI REVELS IN SUN

Prima Donna Talks of Life After Death and Woman's Responsibility; Puts Home First

Full of joy at being in this "so beautiful California" Mme. Galli-Curci yesterday made known her arrival in this city by flitting birdlike from subject to subject, striking the high C of conversation while she ran about the Hotel Ambassador grounds smelling flowers and attempting to breathe in the day's whole supply of fresh air. She was accompanied by her husband, Homer Samuels, who is also her accompanist, and by her manager, Lawrence Evans.

Mme. Galli-Curci's conversation was as difficult to follow as her footsteps. It touched on lovely clothes, which are "so nice for the eye but so hard on the pocketbook," on woman's place in the world, and then struck a serious note about life after death as she looked about her at the mountains, the flowers and the warmth of the spring day.

"It will have to be very good, that life after death," she sighed, "so that we be happy to leave here. And I think it is. Sir Oliver Lodge is too big a man to tell of something he doesn't know. He must have seen something that the rest of us haven't. I myself haven't seen anything of a spirit nature, but I wish I could. Perhaps I am too much of this earth. I am very practical and wish to live very much while here, with just a peek now and then to see what is ahead of me."

The only other subject on which Mme. Galli-Curci discussed at length was that of women and their responsibility. "This business of politics for women is very difficult," she said. "They should take it more seriously and not play around with the vote. They should study hard and learn all about it or not use it at all. But I think that the home should come first. If that is forgotten, man goes to smash. This whole affair of politics isn't any good without the home, and who is going to keep it up but woman?"

When asked how she thought women with a career such as her own could keep up with the tradition of the home, she said: "Ah, that is the trouble. Unless it is a very big career it is not worth the unhappiness it causes. The home should come first. But if the career is the main thing then the spirit of the home should be kept up just the same. My husband and I travel together. I fix up little things when we stop just to give the home touch. It is necessary. There must be perfect harmony and understanding between a man and woman, and that can only be when there is a bit of home spirit. Man must have an atmosphere restful and relaxing about him, and it is up to woman. It is the best career she can have."

Thus Mme. Galli-Curci expressed herself on woman's place in the world. She is very certain about it, and as she said it yesterday her husband, Homer Samuels, smiled at her as if he was certain of it also and as if that bit of home spirit was present at the time. After her two concerts this evening and Thursday, Mme. Galli-Curci and her husband will pick up the spirit of their home and move it to the next hotel in the next city.

FOUNDER OF ART COLONY IS STRICKEN

Conway Griffith, Famous Artist, Dies from Heart Disease at Beach

Conway Griffith, celebrated marine artist and founder of the artist colony at Laguna Beach, died suddenly from heart disease at his home in the colony last night, according to word received here. Mr. Griffith was about 60 years of age and was unmarried. He was a native of Columbus, O., and had lived in California for thirty years.

For his water colors and oils on sea subjects as well as a number of recent desert landscapes, Mr. Griffith achieved a national reputation. His work had been hung in leading art galleries in the United States, it is said.

In his twenty-one years' residence at Laguna Beach, Mr. Griffith was largely instrumental in increasing the prestige of the colony as an art center. He was a member of the California Art Club.

He leaves a brother and two sisters who live in Santa Barbara.

MUSHET WINS COUNCIL FIGHT

in the afternoon because Councilman Baker also refused to vote unanimous consent on the substitute ordinances when Mushet left the room without permission, but Baker himself was compelled by ill health to ask permission at 4:30 p.m. to be excused, and his departure left Mushet alone against the remaining seven of the solid Council.

EFFORT UNEXPECTED

In fine, the operation of the program produced a result the reverse of a filibuster. Instead of one member holding the majority in continuous session, the majority insisted on remaining in continuous session until the lone member was worn down. Majority members had permission to come and go, one at a time, as they pleased. Mushet's requests for permission were repeatedly refused.

The Power Bureau's Council majority determined early in the day on the details of the plan to continue in continuous session until Mushet had been physically worn out, but Councilman Mushet became aware of the plot and was ready for fight. He had won many Councilmanic battles, he said, including his single-handed opposition to the Power Bureau's secret bond sale, when he was sustained by the courts and the taxpayers were saved $2,000,000.

He vowed he would stick it out with the bitterest of the bitter-enders, and he turned a deaf ear when City Attorney Stephens told him that he was acting in violation of his sworn duty, under the city charter.

As the day wore on, the strain began to show in his features. He had not visited the barber and the white stubble shone on his chin. Caught with only 5 cents in his pockets, he borrowed $5 and sent out for food.

Never was there a more companionable and good-tempered session of the Council than members enjoyed during the morning hours. Rule 16 was suspended after 11:30 o'clock, and cigars appeared. By the time the luncheon hour had passed, even the sergeant-at-arms was puffing placidly.

Nobody except Councilman Baker, who is not in the best of health, pleaded a prior engagement. Baker had an appointment with his physician and was excused for an hour, Mushet seconding the motion with enthusiasm.

Every device for killing time came into play. Members dropped into anecdote and reminiscence, with never a look of reproof or a rap if the gavel from the chair. Deputies from the City Attorney's office strolled into the Council chamber, gave the battlefield a hurried strategic review and retired for consultation.

Councilmen came and went, one at a time, always leaving a safe majority—all except Mushet. He dared not leave his post. When the purpose of the protracted session became plain, he sent out for refreshments and, like the frugal Saracen of romance, nibbled at a handful of raisins, one eye never leaving the enemy.

The minute clerk exhausted basket after basket of current business was was compelled to send for a substitute while he dug up "sleepers" from his files on a lower floor. He came back armed with something about the chemical composition of ammonia, which he attacked with the deliberate courage of a veteran going into poison gas.

FOOD CARRIED IN

Shortly before 2 o'clock all effort to mantain an appearance of doing business was abandoned. No formal recess was taken, but trays were sent in from neighboring restaurants and desks were littered with rumpled linen and broken fragments of food.

"Dave" Carroll, the minute clerk, said that nothing like it had been seen in his twenty years of service. The nearest approach he could remember had happened in 1906, when the Council remained in session from 2 p.m. until 1 o'clock the following morning.

On that occasion, as Carroll remembered, the effort of the majority to coerce one member had failed. His vote to refuse unanimous consent had been foreseen but it could not be forestalled. It finally was necessary to call the roll, and he voted "No," winning his point.

At 2 o'clock, the tension increased. Mushet asked permission from the chair to be excused. While President Workman was deliberating, Wheeler made it a formal motion but no second was found.

Mushet sent out for a glass of milk and posed, holding it, for his photograph, with one finger leveled, pistol-like at Criswell. The Council members, quite starchy about posing for an earlier photographer, had insisted on occupying their officials chairs.

Backer, back from the doctor's took a seat on the side lines, next to Mushet. Their controversy was watched with close attention by others of the majority, who feared that Baker's health might not stand the strain

"How long are you good for?" asked Wheeler of Mallard.

"Couple of weeks," mumbled Mallard, wiping the crumbs of a sandwich from his lips.

WON'T GIVE UP FIGHT

Shortly before 3 o'clock, Baker served notice that he would be compelled to depart at 4:30. His absence would leave seven votes for the proposed new ordinance and still hoping to force out Mushet for a few moments, it was decided to see the fight through to the bitter end.

Mushet contributed to the literature of the occasion by issuing a statement on the attitude of the Council. It follows:

"It has been stated that a referendum petition asking for the repeal of an ordinance with 10 per cent valid names can be repealed or submitted to the voters after forty days, but that the same petition, with 15 per cent valid names, or 50 per cent stronger, cannot be repealed, but must be submitted to the voters within forty days.

"In other words, if 100 persons petition for the repeal of an ordinance, the Council can grant their request, but if 150 persons sign the same petition, the Council must deny their request.

"Why, even Dr. John R. Haynes, author of the referendum, in his wildest moments could not be so illogical, and yet this is what some members of the Council actually are claiming.

"They declare that they must spend $100,000 of the people's money, unless the referendum ordinances go on the ballot on May 6."

CONFER IN LOW TONES

At 3:02 p.m. Mushet knelt beside the presiding officer, and in confidential tones again asked to be excused. The chair announced his request and Wheeler again made it a motion. This time Gregory lent his second.

Mushet stood posted at the gateway to the railing, ready to leave if excused, but Criswell objected, and a roll call showed that the motion had failed, 7 to 2.

"I thank you, Mr. Criswell," said Mushet, and resumed his seat, distress written on his features.

To fill in the time, committee members held hole and corner meetings and presented reports on pending business. There was no meeting, though, of the Finance Committee, Mushet chairman, which customarily meets at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoons. Mushet had excused his clerk earlier in the day. "I don't think you'll be needed this afternoon, Mr. Hawkes," he said with a grim smile.

Two women were passed inside the railing and took seats behind Mushet, where they kept him under scrutiny. The sergeant-at-arms was held on duty to prevent any possible breach of rules.

MUSHET LEAVES

At 3:30 p.m. Mushet, still lacking permission to withdraw, left the room on his own responsibility. In the meantime, however, an understanding had gone the rounds that if suspension of the rules should be moved during Mushet's absence, Baker, (with whom Mushet had been seen conferring, would vote against it. Accordingly, no effort was made to put forward the substitute ordinance held ready in waiting.

Instead, the City Attorney was called on for a summary of the situation. While he was talking, Baker asked to be excused for the day, and permission was granted on the score of his health. That left matters where they had stood at 10 o'clock in the morning, with Mushet alone against a united Council, and the battle of physical endurance, one against seven relays, began again.

Up to this point not a word had been spoken to indicate explicitly what all the excitement was about. Mushet on his return broke the ice.

"If I thought for one moment," he said, "that this Council had to pass a special election at an expense of $100,000 to the voters if these ordinances failed to pass, I might be convinced."

At this moment City Attorney Stephens entered the room and was immediately asked for an opinion.

"You ask me," he said, "has this Council the right to repeal the ordinances under consideration, thereby avoiding an election. I am compelled to answer that you are without power. The charter specifies that the Council may repeal an ordinance carrying 10 per cent of the voters' signatures, or may submit it to the people. In the case of 15 per cent petitions you have no discretion, but must submit within forty days. The added 5 per cent amounts to an injection into the referendum of the initiative principle."

LEGAL OPINION

President Workman asked if it was in the power of one Councilman to block the declared duty of all other members.

"Without answering your question literally," replied the City Attorney, "it can be said that such would be the effect of his opposing vote. Of course, I believe that the courts can compel . . . ."

Councilman Mushet interrupted him. "Could this deadlock, if you want to call it that," he asked, "have come to pass if these ordinances had been brought in when they should have been?"

"Perhaps not," admitted the City Attorney, "and perhaps, also, they might have been brought in a week ahead of time, but no doubt, too, those proposing them relied on the good faith of this Council."

"These ordinances," insisted Mushet, "could have been presented to this Council any time subsequent to the 7th inst., when they were certified to us. How is it that all this time was taken until the 27th inst., and then you claim that you can compel or coerce or mandamus a man to vote against his conscience?"

"I don't say," parried Stephens, "that you can be compelled to vote against your conscience, but only that it is your sworn duty to vote as the charter directs. This is purely a matter of procedure, a ministerial, not a legislative function, into which policy does not enter. It still would be the duty of this Council to submit these ordinances to the voters, even if every member on the board were opposed to them."

CULT OFFICIALS ARRAIGNED

Pleas of Quartet Indicted Under Securities Act Will Be Heard on Thursday

Charged with violation of the Corporate Securities Act, four asserted trustees of the School of Sacred Science Association were arraigned yesterday before Judge Keech of the Superior Court and date for hearing their pleas was continued to Thursday.

The four, who were indicted the 24th inst. by the county grand jury following a District Attorney's investigation of the activities of the school, are Ralph M. De Bit, founder and head of the cult; Dr. Ione Ingles De Bit, his wife; Rabbi William Rice and H. La V. Twining, instructor in electrical science at Polytechnic High School.

SPECIFIC ACCUSATION

The true bill specifically accused the quartet of selling 28,400 "units" in the school to Mrs. Emma E. Adams, an asserted incompetent person, who now has pending in the Superior Court a civil action asking for the return of money and property she declared she turned over to the De Bits and the school.

According to the District Attorney, the units which were said to have been sold to Mrs. Adams were a part of the stock the school planned to issue to raise $1,000,000 for the establishment of an occult community near Long Beach.

Investigation into the activities of the organization was started following the suicide the 21st inst. of Theodore G. Beaver, wealthy manufacturer and an asserted student of the school.

CIVIL SUIT TOMORROW

A preliminary hearing of the charges made in the civil action launched by Mrs. Adams against the school is scheduled to be conducted tomorrow before Judge C. J. Luttrell, sitting in extra session in the local Superior Court. In the complaint the charge was made that the defendants had persuaded Mrs. Adams by means of undue influence to dispossess herself of her property.

During the day a number of members of the school were questioned by Chief Trial Deputy Fitts and Investigator Riemer of the District Attorney's office. Nothing of importance was learned from them, however, it was stated.

The first to be questioned was Mrs. Louise Loring and the second John Norton. John Cryle also was interviewed by the two officials. Deputy Fitts stated that Prof. Twining would be called as a witness for the State and indicated that the case against him would be dismissed.

BOYS TRY HAND AS EDUCATORS

ministration of educational and executive affairs, held a rally in honor of the victory of the Hollywood track team in the Southern California track championships Saturday and had a faculty meeting—all without the assistance of a single member of the faculty.

John Marquardt, president of the student body, replaced Dr. W. H. Snyder as principal; David Chase, president of the Boys' League, acted as vice-president, and Barbara Brinckerhoff as girls' vice-president. They were aided in their administration by Frank Traughber, president of the senior A class; John Banta, treasurer of the student body, and Bert Teitelbaum, as members of the central committee.

Principal Marquardt and Vice-Principals Chase and Brinckerhoff occupied the principal's table in the cafeteria at luncheon, and the offices of the school heads during the day.

DEALS WISELY

President Marquardt even carried the spirit of substitution out to the point that he appeared at his desk with a red flower in his buttonhole in respect for the principal sartorial weakness of Dr. Snyder.

The boy principal dealt wisely with those cases of a disciplinary nature that came to his attention during the day and even dealt with a number of similar cases that were pending at the time he took office. At the close of the school day he called the members of his faculty to a faculty meeting. Not a single instance of insubordination to the rule of the boy teachers who were in charge of every lecture, study and laboratory room, was reported.

It is significant that the attendance yesterday at Hollywood High School was far above average and that the absentees were almost exclusively of the weaker sex.

Judge Rex B. Goodcell addressed the athletic rally in the morning at the invitation of Principal Marquardt.

INDUSTRIES TODAY

Led by the 1100 members of the Chamber of Commerce, the industries and business houses of the city will take up the entertainment of the boys today. The program includes inspections of business and industrial plants of every description under the guidance of the heads and aides of these plants.

"We hope our members will do everything in their power to make this year's National Boys' Week all that it should be," declares Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Chamber, in a letter to the membership. "We would particularly like our large manufacturing plants to observe Tuesday—'Boys' Day in Industry and Citizenship'—by permitting delegations of boys to make inspections of their plants. We ask the cordial cooperation of our members to make National Boys' Week in Los Angeles an eventful one."

The schedule for the remainder of the week is as follows:

Wednesday—Boys' Day in Entertainment and Athletics, Robert S. Weaver, chairman.

Thursday—Boys' Loyalty Day and parade, Col. E. W. Clark, chairman.

Friday—Boys' Day at Home, J. Wiseman McDonald, chairman.

Saturday—Boys' Day Out of Doors, C. B. Raitt, chairman.

WILL TALK ON SCULPTURE

Bert W. Johnson, New York sculptor, who recently completed the war memorial group at Pomona College, will address the Society of Colonial Wars luncheon today at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. His subject will be "American Historical Sculpture" and will be illustrated with slides.

TO GIVE CARD PARTY

Ramona Court, No. 28, Order of Amaranth, will give an informal dance and card party tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Elysian Masonic Temple, Sunset Boulevard and Echo Park avenue. All members of the order and their friends are invited.

Caterina Malova Renders Tschaikowski Song

Her Escape From Reds Was Miraculous

Carl Baier Gives Talented Zither Selections

BY MELLONINO

Worthy of a page in the Arabian Nights, is the turbulent career of Caterina Malova, mezzo-soprano, who appeared at KHJ last night. Forced to flee from Russia in the bitter cold of midwinter, she made her way across the vast frozen and unfriendly wastes of Siberia, escaping detection and certain execution several times only by miracles of Providence. After weeks of physical agony and mental anguish, during which she hid by day and traveled in the darkness of night, she finally reached Japan. Her indomitable spirit, still aflame, carried her to Tokio, where her vocal talents soon attracted the attention of the musical authorities. Not many days elapsed before she was given the distinction of being the first foreign woman to sing in the Imperial Theater of Tokio in the Japanese tongue.

Into her singing at KHJ went the trial and tribulations of her storm-swept existence, giving to the number "Russian Song of Grief" the soul of a martyr, downtrodden but unconquerable. All the tragedy and sadness of the composer's life were brought out in her singing of Tschaikowski's "Was I But a Blade of Grass Upon the Plain." O'Neill's "Love Me" and "The Hawk" by Clarke completed her program.

READS "GO-GETTER"

Holding the interest of an invisible audience for one hour and fifteen minutes with a reading is conceded an accomplishment worth recording. But that is precisely what Edward Murphey did last night, if the telephone comments received are to be taken as indication. His deep-toned voice poured into the microphone the fascinating story by Peter B. Kyna, "The Go-Getter" with every inflection and shade of expression that has marked Edward Murphey's histrionic efforts in Radioland.

Carl Baier, appearing through the courtesy of The Sign Craft Company of Southern California, swept Radioland with the same marked success that accompanied his last appearance at KHJ. Director of the Tyroler Zither Club, he brings to his zither playing the results of serious study and complete knowledge of the temperament to which this type of music appeals.

UNCLE REMUS THERE

When Uncle John bid his cheery good night, the listeners knew that the usual silence of Monday night at KHJ, had been lifted with [illegible] sense of proportions.

Versatility describes Uncle Remus and his performance. Nimble-witted, he permits no remark or incident in the studio during his presence to vanish without a cloak of humor which he weaves rapidly and unerringly. Harmonica solos, songs of the South on the autoharp and characteristic negro tales followed one another. His tale of being carried away by the new ambulance found its counterpart in the response of the studio audience to Uncle Remus's form of entertainment. Uncle John views every appearance of Uncle Remus with constant fear. The dread of Uncle Remus's teeth toppling from his mouth and finding a hiding place under the foot of an unsuspecting visitor grips him. The fear becomes more pronounced in the face of the hoof-and-mouth epidemic.

Monte Weeks, accompanied by [illegible] Edwards, contributed four song solos to the noon program, one of which was composed by the combined efforts of Mr. Weeks and his accompanist.

"Andy Gump" dropped into the studio and told of Min and the boy, briefly touching upon some of their experiences and their contemplated shopping tour through Los Angeles.

MISSIONARY BOARDS WIN WILL FIGHT

Cousin Was Contesting Large Bequest of Late Mrs. S. P. Livingston

The will of Sarah P. Livingston, directing that the proceeds of her estate, valued at between $200,000 and $300,000, be used "to preach the Gospel to the heathen in heathen lands" was found valid yesterday after a hearing before Judge Willis of the Superior Court.

Isaac W. Dyer, a cousin, of Portland, Me., contested the will, in which the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions and the American Baptists Missionary Union were named as beneficiaries. He asserted the document was irregularly signed and executed.

Only one witness to the will survived Mrs. Livingston, and this witness died March 12, at 9 a.m., just three hours before the hour set for taking his deposition, the court was told by Deputy County Counsel Moroney, representing Public Administrator Bryson, who defended the will. A banker of Redondo Beach, where Mrs. Livingston lived, was able to identify the signature to the court's satisfaction, however.

Neighbors knew Mrs. Livingston as a wealthy woman. After her death many of the securities which are included in her estate, were found in her trunk.

Following this discovery, United States Treasury agents in Los Angeles and Peoria, Ill., her former home, conducted an investigation, which resulted in Public Administrator Bryson being required to pay $7000 in back income taxes out of the estate.

The new State law provides that a testator may leave an entire estate to charity, when surviving relatives are other than parents, grandparents, brother, sister, spouse or direct descendants.

Noaks Is Given Fine and Year in County Jail

R. H. L. Noaks, erstwhile oil promoter, who was charged on twenty-five counts with embezzlement in connection with an asserted plan to drill for oil on a tract of land prospected by means of mysticism, yesterday was sentenced to one year in the County Jail and fined $1000 by Judge Burnell, before whom he pleaded guilty to two of the counts. The remaining twenty-three charges were stricken from the calendar on motion of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Trippel.

Noaks was said to have organized a syndicate to drill for oil in a tract of land in which Mme. Hilla Vacha, a Hindu woman, was asserted to have located oil deposits by means of vibrations she received through a handbag while walking over the land. Mme. Vacha was declared to have put $5000 of her own money into the project, while followers of Mme. Vacha also were said to have raised $5000. According to testimony adduced at the preliminary hearing of Noaks, the would-be promoter spent the money in the pursuit of pleasure.

Jeopardy Plea Fails to Block Murder Charge

A plea of former jeopardy failed to bring a dismissal of a murder charge against Barney Brannon yesterday in Judge Hardy's court. Brannon's attorney, S. S. Hahn, moved for a dismissal on the ground that the same bullet that killed his sister-in-law, Mrs. Dan Cronin, was intended for his wife, Helen Brannon. Brannon was acquitted last week of a charge of assault with intent to murder his wife. It is charged that Brannon killed his sister-in-law when she stepped between him and his wife.

Witnesses yesterday included Detective Lieutenants White and Oker, who investigated the case, and Mrs. Helen McGrath, a sister of Mrs. Brannon. None was an eyewitness, it was said. Mrs. Brannon is said to have been the only eyewitness and her testimony is not available under the law. Mrs. McGrath testified she saw Brannon go into the house and later saw Mrs. Cronin's body. The officers testified regarding the investigation.

The case is being prosecuted by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Jordan.

ATTORNEY GIVES DINNER

W. J. Hunsacker, attorney, yesterday gave a dinner at the California Club in honor of several old-time acquaintances in Contra Costa county. Among those present was Judge Alvarado of Contra Costa county, son of Gov. Alvarado, who was California's chief executive in 1861 and 1862. Others were Lorenzo Soto of the City Treasurer's office and Charles A. Bryant, bailiff in Judge Hahn's court. Early history of California was recounted at the gathering.

TWO ARE HELD ON CHARGES OF YOUTHS

Frank and Mary Walsh were held to answer yesterday by Justice Blake on a charge of receiving stolen property. The couple were accused by the testimony of three boys with having conducted a "crime school" for youths. The youthful trio have been haled into Juvenile Court on charges of theft of a number of typewriters and automobile tires. Bail was set at $5000 for each. Dept. Dist.-Atty. Lucas prosecuted the case.

Good Outlook

Late rains are giving crops a good start. Country looks fine.

The local live stock epidemic, after the first flurry of fear and destructive publicity, will soon be forgotten.

The quadrennial political annoyance has done its worst—caused hesitation that held back the streams of commerce temporarily, but empty shelves and low stocks must be replenished.

European outlook is very encouraging. Presidential election practically settled now instead of waiting until fall.

Hesitation is destructive waste—fundamental conditions are sound—let's make 1924 another record breaker.

YOUNG MEN'S FANCIES

It must seem to the high-school boys of California that nobody loves a frat man.

IN THE BLOOD

A daughter of Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte is selling automobiles. Human life just seems to mean nothing to that family.

ANOTHER FLYER

When the Prince of Wales quotes Shakespeare he probably exclaims: "A horse, a horse, my future kingdom for a horse—that I can ride."

THE SHELL GAME

They were selling baby chicks in Egypt and China more than 2000 years ago. Yet nobody recommends a setting of China eggs for an ambitious hen of today.

DISARMAMENT

Let no man doubt that real progress is being made toward world disarmament. Think of the number of hatpins this bobbed-hair craze has sent to the discard!

GOOD EYES

The dispatches told of the fine records being made by the trapshooters at a recent meet, but the proof readers let it ride as "crapshooters," who are, indeed, making fresh records every day—as well as easy marks.

HONEST BOOTLEGGERS

A prominent bootlegger appeals his case on the ground that it was not whisky he was selling. He knew it wasn't because he made it himself. He insisted that if it had been whisky he would have kept it himself and no one could have taken it away from him.

STUMBLING BLOCKS

Poincare's refusal to accept the conclusions of the Dawes Commission is keeping all the old sores open. In the present turmoil France is the only one whose reputation is suffering and for this Premier Poincare is largely responsible. France insists upon the priority of her claim for 52 per cent of the reparations Germany must pay and she also stipulates for "the greatest attention and respect" for her claims and demands. In the present situation these contentions can only be embarrassing.

DRY SUBJECTS

There are proportionately more prohibition voters left in Los Angeles than any other section of the State. The registered prohibition vote is steadily declining. There doesn't seem to be any particular reason for a party organization when the Republicans and Democrats are delivering the goods. In six counties of the State the prohibition vote has disappeared entirely. Not a single voter indicates his ancient faith. The professional drys have been absorbed by other parties. In the absence of other moral issues their warrant has expired.

JUVENILE LABOR

The House has passed a resolution which would establish a new constitutional amendment—one which would give to Congress the right to limit, regulate or prohibit the employment at labor of children under 18 years of age. This child-labor amendment has been up many a time and oft, but is now making more definite progress than ever before. The chief opposition comes from the southern statesmen, who aver that it is a matter for the States to determine for themselves. The amendment, however, would not of itself affect juvenile labor in any way. It would simply empower Congressional action, which might be in consonance with action by various States. There is still a long journey ahead.

THE LORD KNOWS

Lord Rothermore, owner of a peerage and the London Mail, is a good-natured visitor and observer in our midst. He has progressed far enough to confide to American reporters that the American women are undoubtedly the prettiest in the world. They pass the French maidens without question and, while England has beauties who may rival or excel their American sisters, the average here is probably higher than in any other country. Possibly this is because we not only have our own, but good picking from all other lands. Time should even improve the quality and extent of our feminine beauty. The British peer is a competent observer. When it is a question of pulchritude the lord knows.

FRATERNAL CONGRATULATIONS

April 22 was the eightieth anniversary of the founding of the Chicago Daily Journal and the paper celebrated with an anniversary number which is enlightening. As one turns its pages they give him a moving picture of the progress of a community from a small town to a great city—and also indicate how that progress is often motivated and often accelerated by good newspapers. This anniversary number is a historical document of great value and doubtless will be treasured in thousands of homes. Eighty years is a hale young age for a newspaper of the right sort, by the way. The Journal is to be congratulated on doing so well through such a large part of the first 100 years, which are said to be the hardest.

FOR OUR GREAT WATER SYSTEM

The time has now come to make provision for extensions to the great Los Angeles water system and the further development of the aqueduct supply system. Proposition No. 3 on the May 6 ballot provides for a bond issue of $8,000,000 for this purpose. Chief Engineer Mulholland has clearly defined just how this money is to be expended and why the extensions must be made at this time.

Approximately $3,000,000 is to be expended for the improvement and extension of water mains, laterals and services in virtually every portion of the fast-growing city. One million dollars is needed to improve the service at the harbor and lay necessary mains. The construction of one new reservoir and the completion of two others is provided for in the bond issue. This is vitally necessary to carry out Mr. Mulholland's program for full conservation of Owens River water. Of the $8,000,000 all but $500,000 is to be used directly in carrying out the aqueduct program to which the city is already committed and which has proved so profitable and advantageous. The $500,000 is to be used in making engineering surveys and investigations for an aqueduct from the Colorado River.

Los Angeles has never engaged in an enterprise quite so satisfactory as the aqueduct. Nothing has contributed so much to its tremendous growth and development. Conceived and built by that great engineer, William Mulholland, its performance has measured up in every particular to the highest expectations of it. Every promise made by Mr. Mulholland concerning the aqueduct has been kept. Every prediction made by him concerning it has been fulfilled.

The expenditure now asked for is no new program. It is a part of the general aqueduct program, foreseen by Mr. Mulholland many years ago. It is interesting to note that more than twenty years ago Mr. Mulholland made a graph showing the growth in population each year and the consequent increase in the use of water. The accuracy of the forecast compared year by year is nothing short of remarkable.

Now, in accordance with the engineer's forward-looking program, the time has come, just as originally planned, to increase the storage capacity and to extend the city's distributing system.

As a matter of sound business procedure the people of Los Angeles really have no option in the matter of authorizing the bond issue as asked for in Proposition No. 3. The city has long since been fully and definitely committed to the aqueduct enterprise. The present move is that portion of the program which did not need to be carried through at the beginning, but which is just as much a part of the aqueduct plan of bringing and distributing water as any of the system already constructed. Good sense, good economics and civic loyalty should make the affirmative vote on No. 3 so overwhelming as to be virtually unanimous.

Los Angeles looked ahead in 1900 and behold the result! Los Angeles must continue to look ahead if its hopes of metropolitan greatness are to be realized. Failure to support the program of Mr. Mulholland at this time not only fails to look ahead, but is a distinct backward step. Mr. Mulholland has earned and is entitled to the implicit confidence of the people in his ability to handle their water affairs.

MAKING AMERICA THE GOAT

It is perhaps fortunate that the reparations report of the international experts does not have to run the gantlet of the American Senate, and that the President and Secretary Hughes are not required to give their official approval. For there are things in that report which it would require a great deal of explaining to be acceptable to the average American.

Germany is to be relieved of reparation payments for two years; but this does not mean that she is to pay nothing. There is the French army of occupation that is still to live in Germany at Germany's expense; and there are a number of "control commissions," the cost of whose upkeep must be met by Germany. The estimated cost of this supervision and operation for the two years is $200,000,000. And how is it to be paid?

Germany is to float a loan of $200,000,000 in England and the United States. If the money is forthcoming she is to pay that amount in gold for the army of occupation and the control commissions. Germany is willing, provided England and this country lend her the money; and France is willing because she would get nearly the whole of the $200,000,000 without reducing a single dollar the amount she claims to be due from Germany on the reparations account.

But how about England and the United States? Both favor disarmament; and yet they are expected to pay the bills of the French army of occupation. England and America might be willing to make advances in the form of loans to Germany to aid her in purchasing raw materials and restoring her idle and almost ruined Ruhr manufacturing plants. But it is plain that not one dollar of this money will go for that purpose.

The American way would be to disband the army of occupation, to give Germany control of her own industries for a period of two years—in short, to give the Germans a chance to get on their feet. Trying to get money out of Germany now is committing the traditional folly of trying to extract blood from a turnip.

Germany has made considerable payments to France since the armistice. At one time, in 1921, she made a single payment of $250,000,000 in gold. Yet France claims that Germany has paid her nothing on the reparations account; that the $2,000,000,000 Germany has paid in money and kind has all been eaten up in the cost of occupation and control.

Why shall another $200,000,000 of English and American money be added to that sum? The money will earn nothing. It will not encourage increased production. It goes to pay for the army and the civil commissioners.

Germany is willing to pay it, if we will lend her the money. But who will pay in turn England and the United States? Such a process is generally termed in this country "throwing good money after bad."

Equally difficult would it be to convince the American people that it was the part of wisdom to establish the new German Bank of Issue on other than a gold basis. Discussing this feature, the Paris correspondent of the London Telegraph writes: "It may be well to point out that the new Bank of Issue is not to be really a gold, but rather a gilt-edged, institution, its notes being only covered in gold in a certain ratio. Alone among the experts the Americans approved a pure gold or all-gold standard. But it was considered by our allies that a Germany with a higher currency than their currencies, or than sterling even, would have been an anomaly at the present time."

In other words, Germany will not be permitted to re-establish its currency on a basis which would cause it to circulate at par because the currencies of her neighbors are away below par. In this case the foxes that have lost their tails are in the majority and they are going to amputate the tail of the German fox before admitting it to their company. Little wonder that the Americans protested! But, like many of the protests that Wilson made at Versailles, they were unavailing.

As for that British and American loan to pay the cost of the French army of occupation; it will not be a government loan, and each investor will make it at his own risk and peril.

CANADA'S GATEWAY

While the majority of Americans have been offering up a silent prayer to Congress for the speedy passage of the immigration law, Canada has been waxing enthusiastic over the end of the slack post-war immigration and the fact that the first few months of 1924 indicate that the record of 137,681 immigrant arrivals will probably be surpassed this year. So great is the exodus of native Canadians into the United States that the Dominion depends largely on immigration to keep her population from decreasing.

Canada has been peculiarly fortunate in the class of immigrants who elect to come to her shores. This has been due not so much to good fortune as to the fact that she has gone shopping in likely European centers for the types she deems most desirable, even going so far as to extend a helping financial hand to those who would make worthy settlers, but lack the funds to come.

The Dominion's Immigration Department divides all immigrants into six classes, according to the type of work they will follow in their new homeland. These are mining, trading, mechanics, laboring, farming and female servants. Laborers are admitted only when there is a shortage in the labor market, but servants, needless to say, are joyously welcomed. Twelve thousand seven hundred and thirty-eight servants arrived in 1923 to gladden the Canadian housewives, but the statisticians strongly suspect that the information that Canada is a man's country had something to do with that and that they will be cooking in their own kitchens in another year or two. Forty-nine thousand persons declared their intention to follow the plow, welcome news to an agricultural country.

On the whole, Canada seems to be fortunate in the type of immigrant who comes to her shores. Another excellent aspect of the situation is that the immigrants do not cluster along the Atlantic Coast, but spread out toward the sparsely settled sections of the West. The rugged pioneer type that once set sail for the United States has been diverted northward to the Dominion.

THE CAR STEALERS

There seems to be a well-defined slump in the number of auto thefts in the city. The purloinings of cars used to run from twenty to thirty a day, but they now seem to range from eight to ten. The joint activities of the police and of the Automobile Club have made it a rather hazardous business. A very large majority of the stolen cars are now returned to their owners and there is also less larceny on the part of joy riders. Nevertheless motor thieving is still a large and active industry and its control and suppression call for tireless activity on the part of the officers of the law.

HOW IT STARTED

BY JEAN NEWTON

"Blindman's Holiday"

This term which we frequently find used in its significance of twilight brings to mind the saying that in the country of the blind the one-eyed man is king. For when none can see, the blind man is under no disadvantage.

The expression is a very old one, appearing in print as early as 1599. In Nash's "Lenten Stuffe" we find "What will not blind Cupid do in the night, which is his blindman's holiday?"

Later on we find it in Jonathan Swift, the celebrated English satirist, who uses it in his "Polite conversation," saying:

"Indeed, madam, it is blindman's holiday; we shall soon be all of a color."

RIPPLING RHYMES

THE WRONG JOB

I watched the blithe mechanic who toiled around my bus; he showed no signs of panic, he made no grievous fuss. He whistled "Annie Rooney" while mussing in the grease, a task that drives me looney and undermines my peace. Long since I used to tinker, at season, with my boat; it made my temper pinker and always got my goat; I labored with a hammer and wrenches round and flat, and then I'd yell and yammer and dance upon my hat. I dished up language hectic until I fell a prey to seizures apoplectic that took my breath away. But wisdom comes with watching the years go by in flocks; no longer am I botching my flivver when it balks; my peace of mind I cherish far more than precious stones; before I'd see it perish I'd dig up fifteen bones. And so when my old Lizzie declines to up and go, no more do I get busy with hammer, wrench or crow; I summon the mechanic and say to him, "Gee whiz, my van is also-rantic—see what the trouble is." And so I am not wearing my temper to a shred; I miss a lot of swearing, in paths of peace I tread. Far better pay the plumber to fix your eight-day clock than toil around all summer and sweat and cuss and knock. I call up Jinks the Joiner to mend my doors and sills; I send for Copps the coiner when needing dollar bills. I send for Simms the sawyer when sawing should prevail, I send for Loots the lawyer to keep me out of jail.

BRITISH ARMS PARLEY PLEA

BY EUGENE J. YOUNG

Europe's troubles, increasing as her statesmen play the old game of insincere diplomacy, will doubtless produce, some day, a sincere statesman who will have some ideal greater than the success of himself and his party. A Lincoln might rise to serve the truth instead of politics. When that day comes there will be hope for Europe. So long as all parties insist on playing insincere politics there is small hope.

This thought is suggested by the insistent attempt of the British Labor Ministry to bring about a new conference on world armaments. Premier MacDonald and his supporters are constantly inviting some one to call such a meeting and pledging the earnest support of Great Britain if anyone takes the initiative. On the face of it this call is to the conscience and idealism of the world. It is a plea for peace as against war. Seemingly it should be heeded by all those who want to put an end to force—especially by America.

It goes unheeded. Why?

Because MacDonald, the Laborite, is no more sincere than was Balfour, the Conservative, or Lloyd George, the Coalitionist. All have sought to use the campaign for disarmament to serve the safety of the British Empire. MacDonald is failing now because at the moment he agitates for stringent reduction of the air, submarines and land forces of Britain's rivals the British fleet is making certain of its domination of the Mediterranean Sea and Southern Europe—and MacDonald makes no offer to decrease the overwhelming force of that fleet.

Want to Involve America

I write thus plainly because it is evident the plan of the Laborite Ministry in London is exactly that of the ministries which preceded it—to induce America to call another arms conference and to use that conference to insure British preponderance of power in European and Western Asiatic waters. In the Washington Arms Congress of two years ago we helped Britain to get this domination and earned for ourselves a reward of harmful suspicion throughout the Latin world. To go further would certainly cause more harm without any benefit than can be discerned at this moment.

To illuminate the situation I shall recall what I have pointed out before as one of the results of the Washington Arms Congress. That conference did tremendous good in settling affairs in the Pacific region and halting the naval race of Britain, Japan and America. But, so far as Europe was concerned, it forced another race of armaments.

The reason lies in this set of facts: Before the World War Great Britain had a naval policy which called for a strength equal to any two possible rivals in European waters. She held that standard was necessary for the safety of her communications through the Mediterranean and the Eastern Atlantic and the North Sea. That standard satisfied even the rabid imperialists in 1913. But at the Washington conference Britain demanded—and got—a warship ratio of five tons for herself against 1.7 tons each for France and Italy, her only possible rivals. This made her more powerful than any possible three naval rivals in European waters.

Latins Arm to Control Sea

That was the chief reason why France, at Washington, made her winning fight against any drastic limitation of submarines and aircraft and has since feverishly strengthened these arms. If the British were left with this preponderance of naval power it meant the Mediterranean would remain a "British lake" and the Eastern Atlantic would be similarly annexed. That is why Italy and Spain have made their alliance and announced their intention to have large air and submarine fleets.

The Latin nations have not been so stirred in centuries as by the attempt of London to make certain that the sea they claim as their own shall be absolutely dominated by a power not washed by its waters. The British interest is plain. If the Mediterranean is not controlled, then in time of war the communications with Egypt and India might be interrupted by a hostile power and these countries might be invaded or induced to revolt. No imperialist could look with patience on such a possibility.

The Latins, however, feel they have been deprived of reasonable expansion and safety by the British domination of their sea. In the case of France, under the present military policy, it is absolutely necessary to have free communication with Morocco because approximately a third of the army in France, kept up to overawe Germany, is composed of African troops. War would call for further huge drafts from Africa. Many military supplies also would be drawn from that territory.

Laborites for Strong Navy

What the French have done in the matter of aircraft and submarines is not wholly known, but they have overwhelming forces in both these arms. We hear constantly from London that the French air forces could come over England and inflict tremendous damage by dropping bombs. That is not what is troubling the British strategists, however. They know the French submarines are of great cruising radius, and the aircraft, which would operate with them, could probably drive the British fleet off the seas and seriously interfere with the receipt of necessary supplies by sea. What Germany failed to do France has the power to accomplish. And Italy and Spain are hurriedly adding to their overhead and undersea arms.

These conditions explain the urgency of the British leaders in asking for a new arms conference. It would be hopeless for Britain now to try to overtake the air and underwater fleets of her rivals. A threat last year to enter into competition caused the French to increase their program.

But even MacDonald, the pacifist, makes no offer to weaken British naval dominance as an [illegible] for other nations to reduce their armaments. In the naval [illegible] offered by the Labor government that Cabinet stated its aim to be "the maintenance of the navy at the accepted standard of strength and efficiency."

The fleet is now concentrated in the Mediterranean so that it at once menaces France's communications with Africa and Mussolini's ambitions in the Adriatic and Eastern Mediterranean.

America Gets No Encouragement

There is no doubt that Secretary Hughes and President Coolidge have conducted many inquiries into the possibilities of convening a new arms congress. They recognize the huge expenditures for armament in Europe and the atmosphere of suspicion are the chief reasons for the upset condition of that continent. Our diplomats are constantly making soundings and giving out hints. But we get no encouragement. And we can make up our minds now that France and the other Mediterranean nations will enter into no arrangement for disarming so long as Britain maintains her right to naval supremacy.

Underneath the agitation from London are strategic reasons, not peaceful ones. The object is to draw America into a great Anglo-Saxon combination, which would give us dominance in the Western Hemisphere, give Britain dominance in Europe and Western Asia and bring a division of control in the Far East. That was the hope of Lloyd George, Balfour and Curzon. It is persisted in by MacDonald.

But there are dangers of war as well as dangers to our interests in the pursuit of such a course as the British statesmen have outlined. Since the Washington conference where our statesmen worked closely with the British, there has been a growth of Latin solidarity throughout the world; and this solidarity is largely directed against the United States. Italy, Spain and France are working to win Latin America away from us and are having a great deal of success. If we should play too closely with Britain the inevitable result would be a close Latin union, assisted by other powerful elements which do not wish to see Anglo-Saxon dominance. Such rivalry would inevitably lead to war in the future.

No Trouble with Japan

There is another angle to the disarmament question which would offer hope if it were not for the jealousies in Europe. Japan has been urging the convocation of another arms congress and has shown willingness to reduce her fleet further and stop her building of the lighter craft she is entitled to construct. If Britain were really sincere in a desire to promote the movement she might join with Japan; and there is no question that America would also be willing to reduce her navy further.

Japan has found modern [illegible] ships are expensive luxuries, especially to a nation which has been badly strained by foolish finance and devastation of the earthquake. She would gladly rid herself of more of this expense if she could be sure no nation would put a dominant naval force in eastern waters. It would be no hard task to get her to reduce her navy also if a friendly atmosphere could be guaranteed. I am assured of this from sources I trust. But Europe must mend its ways before any such progress is possible.

Despite the agitation over the immigration bill, there is not the slightest reason to expect any serious trouble with Japan. Most of that agitation has been home politics, politicians using exclusion as a club to beat the dictatorial government; and the Cabinet being forced to show a supposedly defiant front to us. There are three good reasons why the agitation will have no "grave consequences"—to use the phrase of Ambassador Hanihara:

Japan has her own rigid exclusion policy directed against China, so there is no real question of honor.

Her government does not want her people to come to America. It wants them on the Asiatic mainland, where they can extend the power of the country.

Japan would collapse except for trade with America.

So if a chance arises for further disarmament in the Pacific Tokio and Washington will be found working together again.

ANTIWAR PLEDGE ADOPTED

Ministerial Association Resolves Church Forbids Pastors as Officials to Give Approval

"The church forbids her pastors and teachers, as officials, to promote, bless or approve war," according to a resolution adopted by the Ministerial Association of Los Angeles at a meeting conducted yesterday at the Y.M.C.A. Auditorium. The resolution, presented by Dr. William A. Brown, pastor of the University Methodist Church, was voted on by about 150 ministers of various denominations and was passed by a small majority.

The resolution follows: "Resolved that modern warfare is contrary to the spirit and teachings of Jesus; that the church as the body of Christ cannot sanction war and calls on the government to outlaw it. A member of the church, in his personal attitude toward war, is free to follow the dictates of his own conscience, but the church forbids her pastors and teachers, as officials, to promote, bless or approve war. The church refuses the use of her resources in the interest of war. Any punishment for conscientious abstinence from war, or outspoken objection to war, is repugnant to religion, to morality and to the spirit of our Constitutional liberties."

PRESIDENT COMMENDED

Another resolution, adopted and ordered sent to President Coolidge, commended the President for his "efforts to prevent immigration legislation of a nature discriminatory against Japan, an intelligent and friendly nation."

After a brief address by Chief of Police Vollmer, who spoke on the needs of the police department for stations and adequate equipment for the apprehension of criminals and the prevention of crime, the ministers pledged themselves to support the proposed police bonds to be voted on May 6.

Dr. Brown's "declaration against war" was not brought to a vote until after a wordy free-for-all battle lasting two hours, during which time many prominent ministers pointed to the danger to both the church and the nation that would come with the church's support of the proposition of the resolution.

Dr. W. T. Wright, pastor of the Westlake Methodist Church, declared that there have been many wars necessary to establish justice and said that if America had not taken up arms in defense of Cuba this nation would have violated the spirit of Jesus. Dr. Wright also said that if a war in the interest of justice is never to be waged anarchy instead of order will come to reign, the effectiveness of government will be destroyed and the world will be drenched in blood.

AMENDMENT LOSES

An amendment to the resolution, offered by Dr. W. E. Tilroe and containing the clause "we stand opposed to war so long as we can do so consistently with loyalty to our flag and country," was voted down, although it was supported by several veterans of the Civil War and other wars and by many ministers.

In the course of the discussion Rev. John Oliver read aloud the editorial from the Los Angeles Times of July 13, 1922, in which The Times denounced the method of teaching hate, even in case of a warfare in the interest of justice. Andrew Park took occasion to express his appreciation of the fact that The Times printed recently the resolution adopted by the Church Federation, calling on President Coolidge to do everything in his power to retain the friendship of Japan for America.

"So far as I know The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that printed that item of news," said Mr. Park. "God be merciful to the papers that didn't print it."

BATHROOM HIS REFUGE FROM WIFE

Alfred Santell Relates Hectic Life in Seeking Divorce Decree

Alfred Allen Santell, motion-picture director, very frequently found sanctuary in the bathroom of his home when his wife went on a rampage, he declared, in a divorce complaint filed yesterday against Ruth Sevilla Santell. In fact, the bathroom represented his only place of refuge, he said.

He began to seek this privacy a short time after his marriage to Mrs. Santell, the director set forth. The couple were married on December 29, 1923, and separated last Thursday.

One day, he said, he brought home a new contract with his employers. The contract was exceedingly complicated and he had to have time to digest it before signing up. But that evening, he declared, his wife made up her mind that he ought to give her more attention. She took the contract away from him, but after some effort he got it back and retired to the only safe place he knew in his home—the bathroom, according to the complaint.

Mrs. Santell objected to this by pounding on the bathroom door and screaming at the top of her voice, he stated. Finally, deciding that he could accomplish nothing at home, the director asserted, he left the house with the intention of going to the studio where he could peruse the contract at leisure. His wife followed him out into the street in a nightdress, he asserted.

She screamed so lustily that neighbors raced out of their homes and arrived in time to see him endeavoring to quiet her, he declared.

The final act in the hectic drama of bathroom and marriage came last Thursday, he said, when his wife drove him into the bathroom the last time. She hammered on the door and screamed when he wouldn't come out, he asserted. Finding this futile, he said, she went out into the back yard and hurled imprecations at him through the bathroom window, with the neighbors forming a very interested audience.

MAN ACCUSED AS AIDE IN STATUTORY CASE

JAPANESE CHARGED WITH HELPING LA RUE BY USE OF HOTEL

Tom Fuschiti, a Japanese, was accused of aiding J. Y. La Rue in the commission of a statutory offense against a 17-year-old girl in a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ey. Fuschiti and La Rue are in the City Jail, having been arrested Saturday by Detective Lieutenants Bain and Perry.

It is charged that La Rue took the girl to a hotel operated by Fuschiti with the knowledge and aid of the latter. La Rue's bail has been set at $25,000 on each of two counts.

RECRUITING SOLDIER ADMITS BOOTLEGGING

Private Roy Spaulding, U.S.A., who says he is on recruiting service at room 432 Canadian Building, pleaded guilty yesterday in Police Judge Sheldon's court to bootlegging. He told the justice he carried on an extensive liquor business while on duty, and at times had five or six bootleggers working for him. He will be sentenced today. Officer Carpenter of the vice squad testified he had arranged last Saturday to buy ten gallons of liquor from Spaulding for $150. They went in a car to 1058 South Western avenue, Carpenter said, where they got one and one-half gallons, for which he paid Spaulding $23. Then Carpenter drove to a near-by garage, he said, where Officers Crane, Walls and Griffen were waiting, and they arrested Spaulding. Spaulding appeared in court in uniform, admitting charges of selling and of possessing liquor. In default of $1200 bail he went to a cell.

FIRE BOAT BOND ITEM APPROVED

Committee of 200 and Safety Council Back of Proposition No. 6

The Greater Harbor Committee of 200 and the Los Angeles Safety Council are among the organizations which have strongly indorsed the $400,000 bond issue which will appear on the ballot at the May 6 election as Proposition No. 6.

This bond issue is for the purpose of supplying adequate fire protection at the harbor.

Following receipt of a letter from Secretary George F. Prussing, announcing the approving action of the Safety Council, Fire Chief Scott said:

"If it were possible to call to the attention of all such organizations by direct statement of facts the extreme need for the new fire boat we desire to build, we have no doubt that we would receive a flood of expressions of approval similar to this.

"San Francisco has two fire boats; Portland has two; Seattle has two and is building a third. Los Angeles Harbor, the pride of the Pacific Coast, is without an adequate fire boat. There are more than $10,000,000 represented at the harbor in municipal investments alone, and close on to $6,000,000 is now being spent in new docks, transit sheds and warehouses—all the property of Los Angeles city. Surely the citizens will vote "Yes" on No. 6 to protect this property and keep Los Angeles abreast with the other Pacific ports."

MINISTERS, LABOR FOR BOND ISSUE

Proposal Indorsed for $1,600,000 For Improved Police Equipment

Two important indorsements of the proposed bond issue of $1,600,000 to be voted May 6 for police equipment have been received by the Association for Better Police Equipment. At a meeting of the Church Federation the ministers of the city went on record as favoring the bond issue.

Marco H. Hellman made public yesterday the following letter:

This is to officially notify you that the Organized Labor Movement of Los Angeles, as represented by all local unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, has indorsed the police bond issue, Proposition 5 on the ballot May 6.

POLICE SAY SUICIDE TRIED WITH ASPIRIN

Siyvia Reed of 1338 North Mariposa avenue, yesterday swallowed twenty-four aspirin tablets in an attempt to end her own life, according to a report made by Detective Lieutenant Robert Kallmeyer to Capt. Spellman, head of the Hollywood police division. The police were called by the girl's sister-in-law, Mrs. R. E. Reed, who also called Dr. H. W. Wall. The physician stated that the tablets would not prove fatal. The loss of her position was given as the cause for the woman's attempt to end her life.

Several other men, arrested at the same time Smeltzer was taken into custody, were released after the first suspect had confessed.

SALVATION DRIVE HELP IS PLEDGED

Exchange Club Assumes Burden of Campaign for Downtown Area

The board of directors of the Los Angeles Exchange Club at a meeting yesterday unanimously agreed to accept responsibility for the Salvation Army fund campaign in the downtown district. The club will co-operate with the Hollywood Exchange Club and the women's campaign division in the drive during the week of May 12-19.

Dr. E. E. Stone, president of the Los Angeles club, was elected campaign chairman; Dr. W. P. Burke vice-chairman, and Edgar H. Cline, W. L. Hokom, H. W. Welton, Edwin W. Lester and Paul Penland assumed responsibility as division chairmen.

The goal of the campaign is $177,000 to meet the budget needs of the army in the city of Los Angeles during 1924. The Hollywood club has undertaken to provide $18,000 for the milk fund, by means of which all children who need it will be provided with a quart of milk daily.

Other items are: Family relief, $25,000; fresh air camp, $6000; Christmas dinner, $5000; Women's Rescue Home, $5000; day nursery maintenance, $6000; Lytton Home for Boys and Girls, $5000.

The building program includes a new building for the day nursery at the intersection of Eighth street and Towne avenue, and a four-story addition to the men's industrial home on Weller street, at an outlay of $25,000 each.

PROPERTY SETTLEMENT

Declaring that they had been separated for some time, Mrs. Carrie Edmonds and her husband, Nelson Edmonds, soda-fountain manufacturer with a plant at 557 Wall street, filed notice of a property settlement yesterday in the Recorder's office. By the terms of the settlement, a $20,000 eight-store building will be erected on the southeast corner of Kingsley avenue and Temple street, Mr. and Mrs. Edmonds sharing the income therefrom, and Mrs. Edmonds enjoying rent-free the occupancy of a flat building above the stores. A division of other community property was also made.

HEAVY FLOOD ON LAST TAX DAY

Crowds and Mails Keep Staff of County Assessor Moving Fast

County Tax Collector Welch and his assistants were kept rather busy yesterday. They collected about $9,000,000 in the eight hours or so the office was open. The financial downpour was stimulated by the fact that yesterday was the last day for payment of county taxes assessed for the 1923-24 fiscal year. Those who failed to pay their taxes yesterday will be penalized when they do pay them.

Crowds filled the office of the Tax Collector during the entire day but the stream of money coming by mail was far larger than that paid by citizens in person. So many checks were received that every box and other receptacle in the office was utilized to hold them.

Convention of Republicans to be Copied Here

Students in the University of Southern California are making preparations for a convention modeled after the Republican National Convention of 1924. The local convention will be in Bovard Auditorium May 1. The purpose of the affair is to show the students how a political gathering of this nature functions.

Each State in the Union will be represented by a delegation consisting of a number of delegates that is proportional to the State representation in Congress. There are fifty-three delegations, one from each State and one each from Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, District of Columbia and the Philippines. Each delegation is headed by a chairman who is appointed by the committee on organization from the student body at large and he in turn appoints the other members of his delegation. More than 1000 members of the student body will take part in the convention.

The idea of having a mock convention is not entirely new. It was worked out in some of the Eastern universities four years ago. James Mussatti, who is the general chairman of the convention, and his staff are working hard to make this an instructive and successful undertaking.

Ramsey Admits Grand Larceny; Sent to Prison

The end, so far as Los Angeles is concerned, of what is described as an elaborate bunko scheme came yesterday when C. J. Ramsay pleaded guilty to grand larceny and was sentenced by Judge Hahn to one to ten years in San Quentin, and Harry Remington Mercer was turned over to Federal authorities to be taken to Pittsburg for trial.

The men, it is asserted, had elaborate offices here and posed as stock brokers. Their scheme was to obtain stock for trading purposes and not give anything in return; they also obtained money from their victims, it was asserted. They were arrested recently at Oakland by Investigators Ramsey and Paretti of Dist.-Atty. Keyes's staff.

The Pittsburg charge against Mercer goes back to 1917, when it is said he and six others obtained $500,000 by use of the mails to defraud. The six are serving terms in various Federal prisons and Mercer has been sought ever since.

Investigator Ramsey turned Mercer over to Agent Wheeler of the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, who arraigned him before Commissioner Long. He waived hearing and was held in $25,000 bail in removal proceedings.

TESTIMONY ENDED IN HUBBARD TRIAL

JURY EXPECTED TO RECEIVE DENNIS COPE MURDER CASE TODAY

Testimony in the trial of J. C. Hubbard, accused of the murder on June 23, 1922, of Dennis F. Cope, was completed yesterday in Judge Reeve's court and it was stated that the case would go before the jury today. It is Hubbard's second trial, the jury at the first hearing failing to agree.

It is charged by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Van Cott that Cope was killed while attempting to defend Lillian Hopkins, an acquaintance, after the young woman had called upon him for help. The defense attorneys assert that Hubbard held a revolver in his hand, but that it was discharged accidentally.

Commerce Club Indorses Drive of Business Girls

Regarding the work of the Business and Professional Women's Club on behalf of the Business Girls' Club as "highly commendable," the board of directors of the Commercial Board of Los Angeles yesterday unanimously indorsed the drive for $50,000 to buy a new home for the club.

Following speeches by Miss Orfa Jean Shontz, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, and Mrs. Charlotte Eddy, manager of the campaign, the directors expressed themselves in complete accord with the work the club is doing for the "less than minimum wage" girls of the city.

E. G. Judah, managing director of the Commercial Board, said yesterday, letters will be sent to every member of the organization announcing the indorsement of the directors and giving them an opportunity individually to assist the girls in their drive.

The final dinner of the drive, which ends May 1, was held last night at the Alexandria Hotel. Among the speakers were E. T. Meredith, former Secretary of Agriculture; members of the Superior Court; Dep. Dist.-Atty. J. W. Joos, and Miss Gertrude Comstock.

Film—the robber

of all tooth beauty. Learn how millions now combat it

That cloudy coat on teeth is film. At first the film is viscous—you can feel it now.

That film is clinging. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it. So, in old-way brushing, much of it clings and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. That is why so many teeth are clouded.

Film is unclean

Film is unclean. When it lingers on or between the teeth it threatens constant damage.

Film holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

These film-caused troubles became almost universal. They were constantly increasing. So dental investigators started out to find ways to fight film.

Two methods found

In this research two methods were discovered. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation. One removes it without harmful scouring.

Able authorities have proved these methods effective, by many careful tests. A new-type tooth paste was created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

Leading dentists everywhere began to advise it. The use fast spread the world over. Now careful people of some 50 nations have adopted this modern tooth paste.

Two other needs discovered

Two other essentials were revealed by research. So

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

It is Free

This ten-day test. Simply send coupon.

Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth.

Every use of Pepsodent brings these combined effects. Together they bring a new conception of what clean teeth mean. You will be amazed and delighted.

You see the results at once

The Pepsodent results are quick and apparent. Some are seen and felt at once. You can have no doubt about them.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

Compare this new way with the old. Then you will know what method should be used by you and yours. Cut out coupon now.

SAVOURY OMELET

Beat the yolks of six eggs until light and beat into them one and a half tablespoonfuls of cream, a seasoning of salt and paprika, two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped parsley and the white part of two young onions finely chopped. Beat the whites of six eggs to a stiff froth and fold in the yolk mixture. Heat two tablespoonfuls of butter in a large bright omelet pan, pour in the mixture, stir from the bottom and sides of the pan with a spatula until half set, place the pan in the oven until lightly set, slide half out on a hot platter and fold over. Pour around a good tomato sauce and serve hot.

ASPARAGUS TIPS ITALIAN

Cut one hundred tips from fresh asparagus two inches long and half cook them in boiling salted water; drain, cover with melted butter, place in a shallow baking pan, cover with good, clear gravy and finish cooking in a moderate oven. Boil twelve eggs for eight minutes, remove the shells, and keep warm in hot water. Make a mound of seasoned mashed potatoes on a hot platter two inches high, set the cooked asparagus tips, tip end up, around it, stand the cooked eggs upright around the tips and pour a good cream sauce over them; sprinkle with chopped parsley and paprika and serve hot.

THE LAST WORD.

BY ALMA WHITAKER

DOMESTIC PETS

No, this isn't a disquisition on pussy and doggy and dicky birds. It's about motion-picture heroes.

You see, so many of their lives have crossed mine lately. The editor evidently decided we needed each other. I rather wondered at the time why he did not tremble for my fate, why he should risk exposing my impressionable heart to such romantic intimacy.

In the meantime, however, the girls envied me. What a perfectly sumptuous job! All I had to do was to signify my pleasure and no male film idol was too superb to deny himself to me. Nay, rather, my profession being what it is, there was a certain marked competitiveness for my condescension. No fashionable beauty could enjoy more flattering attention. For a dazzling spell I could lunch, tea or dine or joy-ride with any fancy specimen my journalistic inspiration craved.

So I know an awful lot about motion-picture heroes now. And most of the starriest ones are nice middle-aged fellows round about 40, not averse to looking younger, you understand, and just as anxious about their figures and their hair and their faces as any feminine charmer, yet fully conscious of their matured wisdom and simply oozing profound dignity.

But one fact stands out conspicuously. Almost all of them are well-trained domestic pets off the screen. No matter how apparently intime those interviews, no matter how exclusively a deux those little luncheons and dinners, a wife and anywhere from one to four children chaperoned us in spirit.

Or, when, as in the case of Conway Tearle, Thomas Meighan, they haven't any children, they talked fondly and sentimentally about their wives from hors d'oevres to coffee, and assured me that they simply adored children in general, so there.

Even Charlie Chaplin confesses humorously but wistfully to a paternity complex, and brother Syd expatiated on the possibility of adopting some lovely angel child some day.

And when they actually are fathers, the conversation is utterly and irrevocably domesticated from start to finish.

But either way one can't help gathering that these, our picture heroes, are the most fortunate of domestic pets. At least five of them assured me that their wives were their greatest inspiration and their severest critics. But oh, that severe criticism must be tactful, for each and all of them wax fatuously smugly contentedly self-satisfied as they offer the precious information.

And, incidentally, children or no children, all these lucky fellows are living evidence that their buttons are always sewn on, their silk socks always darned, nary a spot mars the exquisiteness of their clothes anywhere, never a frayed collar or a senile cuff or a missing cuff-link ever mars their domestic joys. I suspect these adoring wives of a holy dedication. All of them must be perfect housekeepers, and first-class caterers, when they don't actually [illegible] hubby's ethereal food themselves.

Tom Mix, Will Rogers, [illegible] Sills, Creighton Hale, [illegible] ters, Noah Beery, Percy [illegible] Conrad Nagel, all of [illegible] proud fathers and self-evident domestic pets. Sleek and [illegible] groomed, dashing, sartorial [illegible] that they are, they can talk [illegible] and babies through five [illegible] with the utmost enthusiasm. [illegible] surely is a masculine ideal [illegible] ly to be wished. Fancy being [illegible] to exhibit all the [illegible] charms and appurtenances of a care-free bachelor in addition [illegible] a well-kept home, a wife and a couple of babies or so into the bargain.

Antonio Moreno, who [illegible] his wife and babies in one [illegible] tic operation and is almost [illegible] a bridegroom, can talk of [illegible] else than his ideal domesticity.

In fact, it has come to [illegible] pass that when I yearn for [illegible] feminine home-and-baby-and-servants talk, as we women [illegible] matter how emancipated [illegible] I promptly seek me a motion-picture hero and get my fill. [illegible] those dear fellows know [illegible] about good housekeeping [illegible] whether it is more satisfactory [illegible] have the laundry done at home [illegible] put it out, and more jolly [illegible] recipes and more points of domestic hospitality and how-to-be-happy-though-married than [illegible] ever cull at even the [illegible] Mothers' Club.

And their views on domesticity are so absolutely unimpeachable. The general implication is [illegible] the perfect husband must necessarily attract unto himself the perfect wife, the perfect [illegible] perfect services and the [illegible] home. Of course all our [illegible] can't be screen actors—[illegible] wonderful if they only could.

You don't suppose, do you, [illegible] there is anything special about [illegible] that inspires this particular [illegible] of conversation? Really I [illegible] start it—I vow I don't. I [illegible] even mention my spouse and [illegible] bies until much, much [illegible] then only out of the purest [illegible] ligent sympathy to indicate [illegible] well I understand and all [illegible] fact, at first, don't you [illegible] had an idea that I should be [illegible] ingly sophisticated during [illegible] mantic interviews— that it [illegible] be rather a faux pas to drag [illegible] domesticated complex I might [illegible] into the occasion. But [illegible] I knew. Under the influence [illegible] these fascinating fellows I [illegible] myself subtly becoming [illegible] an, all mother, all housewife [illegible] to win their yearned-for [illegible] nothing became me so [illegible] passionate interest in the [illegible] domesticity.

Oh, well. The girls all [illegible] my job. And perhaps [illegible] right. This sort of [illegible] is so preciously rare [illegible]

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Fashionable Just Now

A good way to clean suede shoes is to dip a pad of flannel into oatmeal (finely ground) and rub in a circular motion.

A Test for Custard

Thrust a silver knife into the center of the custard to see if it is done. If the knife comes out dry the custard is read for removal from the oven.

Prevents Burning

An inverted pie plate over the top of the apple pie will cook the apples more quickly and thoroughly and prevent the crust from becoming too brown before the apples are done.

Clearer Glasses

To prevent the moisture that gathers on your glasses when going into a warm room from a colder atmosphere, moisten the tips of the fingers with water and then rub them on a cake of soap. Then rub the lens of your glasses and polish with a clean handkerchief.

The Cedar Chest

It is about time to get the cedar chest cleared out to prepare it for its summer tenants. Cover the chest this year with a cretonne cover and use it for a window seat. Then that light wrap or fur will be handy for the [illegible] nings.

Cheap, Too

Whenever eggs and coffee [illegible] on the same menu crush [illegible] shells and put them in [illegible] coffee. They will clear it [illegible] fully and improve the [illegible]

Old Potatoes

Potatoes are very poor [illegible] ent and rather flavorless. [illegible] ing them before cooking [illegible] slightly salted water. [illegible] the water in which they are [illegible] also, and when done set [illegible] of stove to steam until [illegible] dry. This will make them [illegible] mealy and improve the [illegible]

Today's Beauty Hints

Beauty starts with lovely hair so no one can afford to treat their hair carelessly.

Of major importance is the right shampoo if you want fluffiness and soft natural glow. A few moments' systematic care of the hair will give you the beautiful tresses which are half a woman's charm. Properly done, it is easy and quick. Proper hair care means only keeping the scalp and hair perfectly clean by use of some preparation for shampooing, not for general cleansing. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthrox from your druggist. Dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

Wife Tells of Two Crises in Marital Crash

The marital difficulties of Ivy Mae Smith and Joseph X. Smith came to a pair of crises last week, according to Mrs. Smith's divorce complaint, filed yesterday.

On Monday, she asserts, he sold the family car for $500 and used $265 of the money to buy a silver tea set for Mrs. Zola Wallace of the Broadmoor Apartments.

On Wednesday, she declares, he told her he loved her no longer, was through supporting her and that it was a matter of supreme indifference to him where or by whom she was supported.

On a previous occasion, she said, when she reproached him for attentions elsewhere, he said she was "a darn fool to stay home and wait on me," and suggested she get a "sweetie of her own and go out, too."

She declared Smith has an income of $600 a month from an acetylene welding company.

FINED ON PLEA OF GUILT IN DRY CASE

Charles Goldstein, 712 North Breed street, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Bledsoe yesterday to a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor and a still in violation of the Volstead Act. He was fined $500. Evidence in the case showed that Federal dry agents discovered Goldstein packing the liquor and still for shipment while they were approaching the house of one of Goldstein's neighbors who was suspected of bootlegging.

WOMEN VOTERS GET BOND FACTS

Political League is Told of Power Bureau Waste

Luckenbach is Speaker at City Club Meeting

Audience is Unanimous for School Issue Priority

Reasons why the people of Los Angeles should support the school bond issue of $35,000,000 on June 3 were advanced by Bruce A. Findlay, assistant to Superintendent of City Schools Susan M. Dorsey, in an address before the members of the Women's Political League in the City Club at noon yesterday. The president, Mrs. Wiley, timed the address so that Charles A. Luckenbach, vice-president of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, could speak on the proposed $21,000,000 power bond issue, showing why these bonds should be defeated.

"There was not a dissenting vote on the question of the school bonds," the president said, as she thanked Mr. Luckenbach for his "illuminating address" in opposition to the power bonds.

From the many questions asked on the power bond question Mr. Luckenbach was able to bring home the fact that the passage of the power bonds would greatly handicap the later effort of the school board to obtain the approval of the much-needed school bonds on June 3.

MAJORITY CONVINCED

Showing the wonderful, and in some instances marvelous increase, in attendance at our public schools, Mr. Findlay told his hearers that we already have 750 half-day classes in our schools and he cited an instance where two years ago three small bungalows were built for school purposes and where now the average daily attendance is 1668 children.

The increase in the Los Angeles city schools is greater than the increase in the public schools of New York, Chicago, Pittsburg, St. Louis and San Francisco with 5000 over for good measure. This is for the past school year, Mr. Findlay declared. He left his audience thoroughly convinced that the school bonds should carry and with the majority as thoughly convinced that the power bonds should be defeated.

Carrying the campaign into the outlying districts, Mr. Luckenbach was the speaker at the Angeles Mesa Improvement Association meeting last night in the Mesa Congregational Church, Fifty-fourth street and Sixth avenue.

There Mr. Luckenbach attacked the statement of Councilman Criswell who yesterday declared that the municipal lighting system of the city is run on a Pierce Arrow basis and that of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation on a Ford basis.

INTERPRETS ANALOGY

"Mr. Criswell is right," said Mr. Luckenbach. "The city's business is conducted on a Pierce-Arrow basis. The fact that the city wants $21,000,000 when $11,000,000 would be sufficient is proof that this statement is true. But I would call your attention to the fact that the earnings of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation are such that our stockholders are rather glad that our cost of operation is more on the Ford value, and really is less than half as much as the cost of the city for the same kind of work.

"Proof of this is shown in the statement that the city desires to spend $50,000 a mile for right of way to the Los Angeles Harbor and other points. The city already has its own right of way directly along the bed of the Los Angeles River to Los Angeles Harbor and why buy rights of way when the current can be brought to transformers direct from Long Beach where the Edison company can supply all the necessary power without sending it into this city and then back to the harbor.

"This same argument applies to the building of substations which Mr. Criswell says will be so elaborate that substations like we build are to be discarded. That is the trouble with municipal mismanagement. It is a question, not of how much money the Bureau of Power and Light can save, but of how much it can spend and I wonder how long the people of Los Angeles will stand for this terrible waste."

NEED IS SMALL

Hearty approval of the arguments advanced by Mr. Luckenbach was given by the many questions asked of him concerning the needs of the city. To the question "Does the city need any money to conduct its municipal business?" Mr. Luckenbach said:

"Yes, the city does need some money and I for one, would be willing to vote to grant the city three or four million dollars at once for its immediate needs. But the question of $21,000,000 is entirely another matter.

"The law of the Bureau of Power and Light, however, is like the laws of the Medes and Persians, it cannot be changed; and where anything stands in the way of obtaining a municipal monopoly that concern must go. That is the reason Mr. Criswell admits that the ultimate plan of the city is to condemn and take over the plant of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and operate the electric business as a municipal monopoly and drive competition from the field."

FINE IMPOSED ON VOLSTEAD SUSPECT

Andrew Feitas, 1932 Kent street, was fined $250 yesterday in Federal Judge Bledsoe's court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of violating the Volstead Act. Feitas admitted having intoxicating liquor together with some bottle labels and caps in his bedroom when he was arrested. He explained that the labels and caps were given to him by a friend.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

VARICOSE VEINS

One of the first cases I had after I finished my interneship was a varicose ulcer on the leg of my dressmaker's husband. This dressmaker was the supporter of the family because the husband with the leg which had varicose ulcer on it was more or less incapacitated for work. I was to have her make me a dress, and she suggested that we exchange services—she would make me a dress and I would treat her husband's ulcer.

But the husband was very indignant about it. He had no use for a woman doctor. He never had had one, but just on the general principle of things he objected to women invading what he called masculine spheres. When the ulcer was healed, however, he was thoroughly converted to women in medicine and had no use for men doctors, thus switching to the opposite extreme, as simple-minded people are apt to do. I don't know how he stood when the ulcer broke out again, as it probably did sooner or later.

Varicose veins are veins that are stretched and dilated and curved and twisted. They are most common in the legs and rectum. The blood current in the veins is much slower than it is in the arteries, and the reason for the frequency of varicosity in the legs may be the difficulty the blood has in going up hill from the legs to the heart.

Anything which hinders the return flow of the blood in the veins may cause them to become varicose. The local causes are pressures from bands, such as tight garters, tight corsets and belts; and pressures from masses, such as tumors and overloaded rectums. Sometimes in pregnancy, especially where there is too great an increase in weight, varicose veins will form. Among the general causes are heart weaknesses, with inability to pump forcefully; diseases of the lungs, with some obstruction to the lung circulation, and certain liver disorders.

Sometimes, even when there is no particular local or general cause, those who have to stand a great deal on their feet, especially long-legged persons, may acquire varicose veins. They very rarely affect the arms, showing that gravity has something to do with their formation. Overweight people are quite apt to have them; but here, of course, we have as a cause the fact that the heart fails to pump efficiently enough to force the blood through the extra fat.

The tissues over the varicose veins, because of the poor circulation and stagnant blood, are quite prone to become eczematous and break out in ulcers. Occasionally the vein itself will break out into an ulcer and considerable hemorrhage will result.

Cabot states that the only permanent cure for bad varicose veins is to have the veins taken out. You do not have to worry about the blood being blocked when this is done, because the smaller veins which are connected with these large veins pick up the circulation very much more effectively than the dilated, stretched out, useless affairs.

Certain of the varicose ulcers can be made to heal, as the dressmaker's husband's story testifies. The treatment varies with the stage of the ulcer. Keeping off the feet as much as possible, with the affected leg elevated, cleansing thoroughly every day and bandaging the leg snugly from the ankles or the toes to the knees are usually standard parts of the treatment.

A good bandage is made of a yard of flannel cut three inches wide, on the bias, with the ends sewed together. Cutting it on the bias gives it more elasticity. These supporting bands will often prevent the breaking out of ulcers. Elastic stockings, such as may be purchased in the surgical supply houses, also have the same effect.

In the case of my dressmaker's husband I remember used some plain lanoline (such as you can get in tubes and in bulk in the drug stores) after thoroughly cleansing with very hot water in which was dissolved one teaspoonful of borax to the quart. Boracic acid and other antiseptic ointments or antiseptic powders are also used for varicose ulcers. The best way to apply the medication is to put liberal amounts of it on two or three thicknesses of cloth which is then held on with the bandages.

Next week I'll have a paper on Hemorrhoids (Piles.)

ALL READY FOR MAY-DAY FETE

Aunt Dolly Completes Full Details of Affair

"Times" Junior Club Plans Greatest Triumph

Hospital, Orphanage Tots to Have Days of Fun

With a two-day traveling vaudeville show arranged to the last detail, arrangements for refreshments for more than 25,000 expected to be guests during the celebration and scores of other details under way, Aunt Dolly has completed her schedule for the great May Day Carnival of the Junior Times Club.

The party will be divided into two sections: Next Friday will be Hospital Day when the Junior Times players will visit the Children's and Orthopedic hospitals and Saturday the show will be seen at the Maude Booth Home for Boys and Girls and at the Los Angeles Orphanage. At the Saturday affair the grounds of the institutions will be used as settings for the shows and every child in Los Angeles is invited.

Following a conference by Aunt Dolly, Times executives and Chief of Police Vollmer, it was decided not to hold a parade, as at first suggested. A parade, held downtown preceding the shows, would congest traffic, particularly on Saturday, to such an extent that the safety of hundreds of children participating would not be insured, and as the affair is essentially for children, it was felt that a parade would not be appropriate. On Chief Vollmer's advice this detail of the originally planned celebration was set aside.

DETAILS COMPLETED

The details of the two-day jollification, the largest affair the Junior Times Club has staged since its organization, have been completed. At the two big orphanages, there will be all the ice-cream one can eat, cakes and goodies of all descriptions. In addition, the members of the club who live at home will meet the children who live in the orphanages, all of whom are members of the great Times Club, many of them captains and generals in Aunt Dolly's army.

The first day a picked vaudeville bill, recruited from the dramatic section of the Junior Times Club to be known as the Traveling Troubadors, will present at the Orthopedic Hospital, a continuous vaudeville performance in the different wards. Following this a visit will be made to the Children's Hospital, where a similar entertainment will be given.

Child motion-picture stars, vaudeville professionals and picked talent from the Times Club, which has given shows at so many recent affairs, will make up the program.

SOME OF LEADERS

Among the headliners will be the following: Cameron Coffee and Mary Louise Larkin in a melange of vaudeville nonsense; Lorraine Platts, beloved of followers of the club's former performances; Emmalou Gregory, song and dance artist; the Irving Kiddies, a troupe of juvenile performers in a Chinese fantasy, "A Touch of Shanghai;" Louis G. Arnold, in a novelty act, "The Gaby Sisters," which is a surprise; Coleman Minnerick, duplicating some of the feats of Houdini; Marjorie and Dorothy Scherkert, a song medley; Evelyn Adams, ballet number; Dorothy Day, comedy monologue and dance; Betty Hisle, child motion-picture star; Marguerite and Tom Hickman, whistlers; Lois Crawford, blackface number; the Keever Couple, in an original Bowery specialty; Richard Webster, violinist; Minnie Schneider, songstress; Martha Mellikore, impersonator; Rolland Lively, variety act; Virginia Davis and True Boardman, motion-picture star, and several other features to be added.

FLEET OF TRUCKS

The juvenile actors will be transported to the hospitals in a fleet of big trucks specially arranged for by The Times. The same will be true of the second day's show, Saturday.

For this entertainment, to take place in the Maude Booth Home and the Los Angeles Orphanage, an entirely different program has been arranged.

James Osbourne, boy Caruso, president of the Junior Times Club, will be the featured attraction. Other acts will be Anna Ella Gerard, violin soloist; Pick Twins, dancing act; Thelma Dell Daniels and Newton Hall, motion-picture stars; Frivolous Syncopators, the Junior Times Jazz Band; True Boardman, boy picture star, son of True Boardman, the late motion-picture celebrity; Constance Cella, a little star from Chicago; the Title Troupe, a quartet of sisters and brothers; Lillian Guenther, the winner of the Junior Times Beauty Contest, who was awarded a film role by Blanche Sweet; Rolland Lively in a Russian dancing act; the Roberts Trio in "The Little Red Schoolhouse;" Marjorie Montgomery, eccentric dancer; Tom and Betty Wonder, Virginia Davis, in a Hungarian study; Sadie Campbell, co-star with Buddy Messinger and her sister Peggy; the Loomis Twins, Billie Lord, of stage and picture fame; the La Vonna Sisters and other well-known acts, including Jack Hoxie, famous picture star, in person.

SPECIAL POLICE

Special police protection has been arranged through the courtesy of Chief Vollmer, and picked squads of policemen, aided by The Times own organization, will be on hand to see that no children are lost during the rush on Saturday.

Anyone with a Times Club badge is welcome to any of the May Day parties and the club badges are free. Any youngster desiring to join need only write Aunt Dolly, in care The Times, and a badge will be mailed promptly. The applicant is then listed in the club.

NEW PHONE RULES ARE SIMPLIFIED

Regulations Ordered by State Commission to be Effective July 1

A new set of rules and regulations of the Southern California Telephone Company were ordered by the State Railroad Commission yesterday to become effective July 1.

While the order in no way affects telephone rates now in effect or sought by the company, it establishes a definite procedure under which the company will operate, according to the commission.

Definitions of service which have caused misunderstanding between subscribers and the company in the past have been clarified and the rules generally have been simplified and made more specific.

According to the commission the new rules and regulations have been worked out after many conferences between the company officials and members of the commission's engineering staff. Copies of the rules will be open to the public at the company's office, the commission said.

The order of the commission making the rules effective is a supplement to its decision which gave authority to the company in 1921 to establish a new rate schedule. On protest of the city in a rehearing of the rate case in 1922, the commission took under advisement the city's request for a new set of rules and regulations and which now is ordered.

REALTY GAIN IS DISCLOSED BY LICENSES

Business Nearly Doubled Since 1921, According to Department Figures

The real estate business in California as indicated by the number of operators' licenses issued by the State Real Estate Department has nearly doubled since 1921, it was disclosed yesterday in figures made available by Real Estate Commissioner Keiser.

Books of the commission up to the 23rd inst., show that a total of $210,516.87 has been collected by the department on licenses subscribed for, as against $111,644, for a similar period in 1921.

Totals of each year up to the 23rd inst., as given out by the commission are $111,644 for 1921; $133,145.96 for 1922; $181,632.19 for 1923, and $201,516.87 for 1924.

Respective totals of licenses issued for 1923 and 1924 are: Brokers' licenses 12,528 in 1923 and 12,332 in 1924; co-partnership licenses, 2142 in 1923 and 2382 in 1924; licenses to members of co-partnership, 2200 and 2507; corporation licenses, 387 and 512, licenses to officers of corporation, 350 and 508, and salesmen licenses, 14,421 and 25,578.

SUSPECT IN DESPERADO RAIDS HELD

Arrest May Lead to Taking of Bandit Band; Physician Identifies Robber

Capture of the bandit band which last winter perpetrated a number of sensational robberies here, obtaining more than $200,000 in cash and jewelry, is expected by police to result from the identification yesterday of Henry A. Higgings as one of the two men who called Dr. M. A. Miller to the door of his home on the night of the 7th inst., and robbed him of more than $2000.

The suspect who was arrested by police last Thursday with a woman believed to be his wife on charges of suspicion of robbery was picked out by Dr. Miller from among nine other men as one of the two who rang the bell at the door of his home and robbed him when he came out on the porch.

From Higgins, police say, they obtained a number of leads to the identity of other members of the band of which he is asserted to be one. The gang, police declare, made a practice of robbing theater patrons on their way home and also of calling citizens to their doors and then holding them up.

The woman, who gave the name of Esther Maloney at the time of her arrest, police assert was used by the band to call up prospective victims at their homes in order to facilitate the work of the band. Her connection with the gang has not been definitely established.

PERMIT GRANTED FOR WATER WORKS CHANGE

Authority has been given for the transfer of a portion of the San Gabriel Valley Waterworks, which serves Lamanda Park, to the city of Pasadena, according to the State Railroad Commission in an order filed here yesterday. With the annexation of Lamanda Park to Pasadena in 1921 application was made to the commission for transfer of the water service to allow its municipal operation by Pasadena. Both parties agreed on the transfer and set a price of $4665.76. The commission's order authorizing the transfer was made under condition that subscribers now being served by the San Gabriel Valley Water Company outside the Lamanda Park area would not be affected by the sale of a portion of the property.

BETTER RAIL FACILITY AT PORT URGED

Council Indorses Plan to Unify Service; Resolution of Favor Adopted

Looking to the unification of rail service at Los Angeles Harbor, the City Council yesterday unanimously adopted a resolution offered by Councilman Allan indorsing the plan prepared by the joint engineering committee representing the Harbor Department, Board of Public Utilities, Committee of Two Hundred and L. S. Handy, Chief Engineer to the State Railroad Commission.

"Be it resolved," reads the resolution in part, "that this Council go on record as favoring and indorsing said plan and offer their assistance and co-operation in expediting the proceedings, and this Council also go on record against additional grade crossings on Anaheim Road, except they be of a very temporary nature, not exceeding two years, and only then if the grades of said permits agree by contract with the city to aid and assist in carrying out the ultimate plan.

"Further, that the City Council will aid and assist in furthering any temporary plan to enable the Santa Fe Railway to reach the harbor, if said plan does not prevent said ultimate consummation as above provided."

Pour two quarts of sweet milk into a clean bowl, stand in a warm place until it s thick; beat with a rotary egg beater; do not remove cream, until smooth.

BOILED SALMON

O. L. M., Los Angeles, is very fond of fresh boiled salmon and asks that we give directions for preparing it.

Place in a fish boiler or large saucepan enough water to cover the piece of salmon to be boiled, add, for a four or five-pound piece of salmon, two branches of parsley, one small onion stuck with two whole cloves, one bay leaf, one blade of mace, one stalk of celery, and one small sliced carrot; bring to a boil and simmer fifteen minutes. Wrap the piece of cleaned salmon in a clean cloth, tie lightly, place in the boiling water and boil fifteen minutes to the pound. Turn out on a hot platter, remove the cloth, drain off all water and cover with egg sauce. This same recipe may be used for halibut or rock cod.

Beat the white of one egg in a clean thick saucepan until stiff, add two cupfuls of water and two cupfuls of sugar, bring to a boil, stir until the sugar is dissolved, remove to a slow fire and simmer until thick as honey; skim carefully as the scum rises to the top. Add one pound of clean, perfect orange blossoms and cook until thick. Pour into clean, dry, hot glass jars, seal and store in cool, dark, dry place.

ARABIAN CHICKEN

K. H., Hollywood, is giving an Arabian party next week to a few friends and asks that we give a recipe for Arabian baked chicken that is mentioned in the Arabian Nights; the chicken is stuffed with pistachio nuts.

Select a young chicken, not over a year old, clean well. Place the liver, wing tips, neck and cleaned gizzard in a small saucepan, cover with water, bring to a boil and cook until the meat will leave the bones of the neck; drain, remove the meat from the bones of the wing tips and the neck, place with liver and gizzard and chop fine; place in a bowl and mix with half a cupful of shelled and chopped pistachio nuts, the chopped yolks of two hard boiled eggs, three cupfuls of bread crumbs, two tablespoonfuls of chopped beef suet, two teaspoonfuls of chopped parsley and a seasoning of salt and pepper.

Place the stuffing in the chicken, sew, truss, place in a baking pan, rub the breast with creamed butter, cover the breast with thin strips of fat bacon, place in a hot oven, bake fifteen minutes, reduce the heat and bake until tender; baste often with melted butter and hot water.

Heat a platter, cover with thick slices of toasted bread and keep hot. Place the rarebit over the fire and stir until the cheese is melted; pour over the toast and serve at once.

WHITE SALAD DRESSING

G. M., Anaheim, wants to carry out a white-and-green color scheme for a bride's luncheon and asks that we give a recipe for a cooked white salad dressing.

Dissolve one teaspoonful of corn starch in one cupful of milk, stir and cook until smooth; remove from the fire and beat in one tablespoonful of butter, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, a seasoning of salt and white pepper, the stiffly-beaten whites of three eggs and two tablespoonfuls of cream. Beat until cold.

RICE

A. J., Los Angeles, asks how we cook rice to serve with curries.

Bring four cupfuls of water to a boil, add half a teaspoonful of salt, boil, add slowly two cupfuls of well-washed rice and simmer slowly until all of the water is absorbed. Melt one cupful of butter, pour over the rice, cover the pan with damp cloth and stand in warm place for thirty minutes.

CHERRY PIE

B. M., Los Angeles, tasted a cherry pie that had a cream filling while on a visit to some Eastern friends and wants us to tell her how it was made.

Line a pie tin with a good pastry, cover the bottom with toasted sponge cake crumbs and fill with pitted cherries. Beat two tablespoonfuls of butter to a cream with two tablespoonfuls of sugar and beat into them two beaten eggs, one teaspoonful of cornstarch and two-thirds of a cupful of sweet milk; pour over the cherries, cover with pastry and bake.

FRUIT COOKIES

C. K. E., Los Angeles, wants a recipe for a good fruit and nut cookie.

BARS NO BAR TO HEAD OF SCHOOL

Principal Through Transom When Doors Locked

Contractor Tries to Close Lankershim Building

Official to Decide Claim of Withheld Money

Pupils at the new Lankershim school might have enjoyed a holiday yesterday if Principal Killiam had not crawled through a transom and unlocked the doors, according to County Counsel Bishop.

The dilemma was not caused by the principal's forgetfulness, neither did he lose his key. The situation, according to Mr. Bishop, was as follows:

For some time the new building has been used through an agreement between the Board of Education and W. E. Luther, contractor. Saturday Luther said the structure was finished and asked for final payment on the contract. Business Manager Record said the building was not completed and recommended that final payment be withheld.

"No money, no school," Luther said. He went to the school and locked all the doors except one. This door, for which Principal Killiam had a key, was nailed from the inside.

After Principal Killiam demonstrated his agility the school was opened in due form. To avoid further action on the part of the contractor a uniformed policeman was stationed at the school, it was reported.

School is in progress and the matter has been turned over to City Prosecutor Friedlander for an investigation and a ruling on the merits of the contentions of the Board of Education and the contractor.

In addition, Steen sold her rabbits and chickens and burned down the hutches and poultry houses, she asserted.

WHY THE PROPOSED NEW CITY CHARTER IS BETTER THAN THE PRESENT OLD CHARTER

BY GEORGE H. DUNLOP,
Secretary Board of Freeholders

I. As to Form.
II. As to Taxes.
III. As to Street Traffic.
IV. As to the Police Department.
V. As to the Harbor Department.
VI. As to the Outlying Sections of the City.
VII. As to Various Miscellaneous Provisions.

III.

AS TO STREET TRAFFIC

The street traffic problem of Los Angeles city is a big problem. Its solution must be approached from at least three different angles, (1) better street car transportation, (2) better street traffic regulations, (3) better streets. The new charter will be helpful on all three of these points.

(1.) Better Street Car Transportation. There can be no satisfactory improvement in our street car transportation conditions unless we have subways. Under the present old city charter, the city cannot grant subway franchises running lengthwise under any of our city streets. Under the new charter such franchises can be granted. The new charter requires the city government to prepare and approve a comprehensive plan for such subways or elevateds as may be necessary to give the city comprehensive service. After such plan shall have been approved, the city may grant franchises for all of the plan, or for parts of it, or for additional subways or elevateds not in conflict with the approved plan.

(2.) Better Street Traffic Regulations. The new charter requires the City Council to provide for a traffic commission which shall make a scientific study of the problems of street traffic regulations—parking hours and places, right and left-hand turns, crossing signals, one-way streets, boulevard stops, school stops, etc., and then make recommendations thereon to the City Council. These matters should come before the Council as the result of expert study, not in response to the schemes of special interests or hysterical demands.

(3.) The Department of Public Works and the Department of City Planning have both been strengthened in the new charter. Much of the red tape which now delays street-improvement work will be eliminated and it is believed that certain provisions of the new charter will reduce the expense of the street assessment work. Graft in the use of "patented pavements" has been guarded against.

The Los Angeles Traffic Commission, a body of several hundred public-spirited business men and prominent citizens, organized to improve our street traffic conditions, is actively supporting the proposed new charter because of the marked improvement it offers, when compared with the old charter, in the solution of our difficult street traffic problems.

SAYS POWER ISSUE IS NOT NEEDED NOW

Col Rockwell Urges City to Vote Important Bonds for Protection

By COL. GEORGE C. ROCKWELL
President Business District Development Company.

The Power Bureau's demand for $21,000,000 to carry out a three-year program of extensions is not an exorbitant sum, viewed in the light of a bond rating city assessment of almost $1,000,000,000—if it be considered as the most pressing and only present need of a great city such as Los Angeles, and as the only means to supply a requirement for electric energy.

But is it (a) the most pressing need; (b) the only present need, and (c) the only means to supply electric energy?

The May 6 ballot indicates that Los Angeles, as a world city, has many needs. The Superintendent of Schools recounts the fact that more than €0,000 children are playing in the streets during school hours and that 750 classes are taught only a half school day. These assertions are libels on this, or any city. If children are not properly housed and adequately taught, if some are kept a half-year behind in their classes and exposed to the temptations of idleness, the future of the city is menaced.

The Fire Chief and the Police Chief ask money for facilities urgently needed today. There is no substitute for the service rendered by these departments. When their men are needed they are needed badly; their failure to respond to a call means tragedy sometimes and distress at all times. Surely their wants should be met at once.

The Health Commissioner and the City Engineer give good reasons for disposing of menacing refuse and making viaducts safe. These conditions are matters of the moment and the remedy urgently required. Flood control and water bonds are added considerations.

All considered, the power bonds cannot be said to be the most pressing need.

Disposing of the second query, obviously they are not the only need.

A three-year program, based on possible demand, not present requirements, cannot be the most pressing need of this city, if any credence is to be placed on the trusted heads of seven other city departments. Their convincing arguments must be heeded and the credit of Los Angeles will not hold up under unlimited bond issues.

The third interrogation must be answered negatively. Today there is healthy competition, within the corporate limits of Los Angeles, in supplying electric energy. One great utility company supplies energy to operate all street cars. The connected load in this case exceeds the electric energy generated by the municipal power plants. Another company supplies twice as much power and light as the city can generate and sells to private users and industries. These two companies are strictly regulated by the State Railroad Commission and pay taxes while the municipal Power Bureau pays no taxes of any kind and charges other city departments for power and light furnished.

The power board, when tested, makes out a poor case:

The $21,000,000 bond issue is not the city's most pressing need nor is it entirely needed at this time; other needs are greater and will strain the city's credit and the city-owned, tax-exempt power plants are an insignificant factor in supplying the demand for electrical energy.

ARGUMENTS END IN PURVIANCE TRIAL

The case of W. E. Purviance, a chiropractor, did not get to the jury yesterday in Judge Hahn's court, as was expected, the entire day being taken up with arguments of attorneys. It is expected Judge Hahn will charge the jury when court opens today. Purviance is accused of attacking Mary Sands Schwalm, 17 years of age, a patient, and of the paternity of her child.

Woolwine Will Go to Italy in Health Search

Although reported to be considerably improved in health, Thomas Lee Woolwine, District Attorney, who was stricken with a serious illness some time ago while touring France with his family, has been ordered removed to the milder climate of Southern Italy to avoid the cold rainy season of Northern France, it was reported yesterday.

Letters reaching friends and relatives of the former District Attorney indicated that Mr. Woolwine is slowly regaining his health but is not yet entirely out of danger.

It was thought that when he underwent a series of operations at the time he was stricken in Paris he would be able to return to Los Angeles early this summer. Owing to his slow progress, however, it is said he is not in a condition to undertake a long trip at this time. It is thought the milder climate of Southern Italy will speed his return to health.

Pembroke Will Help St. Clair With Comedies

Percy Pembroke, director, has been chosen to alternate with Mal St. Clair in the filming of the H. C. Witmer "Telephone Girl" series for F.B.O., according to announcement by B. P. Fineman, general manager of the F.B.O. studios in Hollywood.

Pembroke has started work on "Love and Learn," number ten of the twelve episode series, featuring Alberta Vaughn as the "Telephone Girl."

Mr. Pembroke was formerly associated with the Hal Roach organization and has also served as a writer and continuity author.

"IDOL DANCER" BACK ON ALHAMBRA SCREEN

An unusual photoplay, filmed in remote South Sea Islands, is D. W. Griffith's "The Idol Dancer," which brought stardom to Richard Barthelmess. This production is showing at the Alhambra Theater this week, a special engagement having been arranged. It is a colorful and enthralling story of far-off Southern Seas; of a wonderful love affair and a wild adventure between a native dancing girl and a beachcomber, for the love of whom the girl went to her death.

Mr. Griffith has supplied scenes of unmatchable beauty. The South Seas have been photographed as the background against which the beautiful love story of the little dancing girl and the beachcomber takes place. One of the most htrilling climaxes ever devised for screen entertainment, is a feature of "The Idol Dancer."

"HUNCHBACK OF NOTRE DAME" IN FINAL WEEK

Universal's picturization of Victor Hugo's romance, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" has entered its final week at Tally's Theater.

Produced on a magnificent scale, the love story has enthralled picturegoers for weeks. The cast includes Lon Chaney, Ernest Torrence, Patsy Ruth Miller, Norman Kerry, Kate Lester, Winnifred Bryson, Nigel DeBrulier, Tully Marshall, Raymond Hatton, Eulalie Jensen, Gladys Brockwell, directed by Wallace Worsley. The story of the famous bellringer of the Cathedral of Notre Dame has been brought to the screen with pulsing realism.

MORGANS SIGNED FOR CAFE REVUE

Betty and Jimmy Morgan, two stars of syncopation, who were formerly with the Ziegfeld Follies and other Eastern productions, will be among the featured members of the revue to be staged at the Plantation in Culver City beginning May 7. These artists are the first engaged by Fanchon who is to be the producer. Several other artists will be signed in the next few days. The show, it is said, will be the most elaborate ever attempted by any cafe in the West.

MORE HELP FOR INDUSTRY PLAN

Realty Men Line Up Solidly Back of Project

Need of Plants to Continue Prosperity Seen

Southland Raw Products at Present Aid East

Giving to the Greater Los Angeles Association the heartiest indorsement in point of numbers and enthusiasm it has received since its inception one month ago, more than 1000 realty men met yesterday at a luncheon in the ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel. There they pledged their support to the plan of the association to organize a great financing corporation that will lend help to industries already here, and encourage eastern manufacturers to make this city their industrial home.

W. L. Brent, president of the Los Angeles Realty Board, presided as toastmaster, and in opening briefly outlined the object that brought this group together.

NECESSITY POINTED OUT

H. H. Merrick, president of the Greater Los Angeles Association, was the first speaker. He called attention to what the city had accomplished in the past and what it must expect to do in the future if its growth is to continue. A similar situation fourteen years ago resulted in the organization of Greater New York, which had financially stimulated and stabalized not only Manhattan but the whole district surrounding it.

"We have here the same problem," said Mr. Merrick, "and by solving it we will have benefited not only this city, but San Gabriel, Alhambra, Santa Monica, San Fernando, Long Beach, Whittier—in fact, every community within a radius of sixty miles will be stimulated and enabled to continue its healthy growth.

"This city has no other group of men who are as progressive and far-seeing as members of the real estate fraternity. Many of them have volunteered their services. One of your number has pledged the association a year of his time and $100,000 of his capital to help make this movement a success.

ALL WILL BENEFIT

"The financing corporation we propose is one that should interest every man and woman in this community. Its purpose is not for the individual benefit of any man or group of men, and we are endeavoring to put on our board of directors the strongest men in the business and financial world.

"We are working with the Chamber of Commerce and with every other financial and manufacturing organization in the city, and we have had their fullest indorsement."

S. H. Woodruff, real estate man, whose association with Windsor Square and Hollywoodland was well known to his listeners, was the second speaker.

"No community can stand still; it must either fall back or march on to greater achievements," said Mr. Woodruff. "But we have come to a place in our history where we must branch out into new and different lines of activity. It is our business to step out and do the one thing that will put a sound industrial foundation under this splendid structure that we have built. It is our business to see that the raw materials that are being shipped East are manufactured into commodities the people of Los Angeles need.

EAST BENEFITING NOW

"It is our business to see that it is manufactured here, rather than on the Atlantic Coast. We produce 85 per cent of the raw materials used with a radius of 600 miles. It is shipped East for manufacture, and then hauled back to be sold to the people who produced it.

"We have the finest manufacturing conditions in the country, and we have the best living conditions for workers in those industries. We have four transcontinental railroads and the whole Pacific Ocean at our front door. There is no reason why every freight car and every ship should not be carrying Los Angeles manufactured goods, backed by Los Angeles money. And this is what must be done if this city is to continue to prosper."

The facts and figures that were offered by Rex B. Goodcell, Collector of Internal Revenue, were received with applause.

REALTY TRADE BOOMS

"The sale of documentary stamps for January and February of this year," said Judge Goodcell, "proved that they were the greatest two months in the history of Los Angeles in the sale of real property."

Edwin Janss of the Janss Investment Company, B. Y. Taft of the Taft Realty Company of Hollywood, William Daum and J. H. Blair were other speakers, each driving home the thought of co-operation and united effort in making Greater Los Angeles Association proposal the most progressive movement the city has ever known.

At the close of the meeting a vote was taken and every man present pledged himself and his associates to a membership drive that would make one of the largest contributions to the funds necessary in establishing a financial corporation that will meet the needs of the city.

Cities Unite on Improvement of La Loma Road

Pasadena and Los Angeles joined hands yesterday in drawing up an ordinance of intention to improve La Loma Road between Annandale Boulevard and the east city limits of Los Angeles as a new traffic highway.

Pasadena, the Los Angeles Council was informed, will advertise for bids on the Pasadena length of the highway not later than August 1 and asked that Los Angeles have its section ready by that date.

According to a letter from City Engineer Griffin, the Los Angeles portion of the highway will be 790 feet long. A petition signed by 97 per cent of the frontage property owners asks for concrete curbs and sidewalks and six-inch concrete paving.

The street will cross the Arroyo Seco by a bridge near the Busch Gardens.

FACE CARDS ALL

GREAT ACTS ROMP THROUGH TRICKS AT ORPHEUM

By Grace Kingsley

It is with pleasure we broadcast in high the glad tidings that the Orpheum has a peach of a program this week. It will pay you to listen-in down there if you can lay your antennae on the price.

Henry Santrey tunes up away off in the rarified air of art. His art is painless, however, just as art always should be. If the old boy Orpheus wanted to do his wife-paging act all over again, he had better get Santrey and orchestra to double for him. Santrey is a charmer from the moment he walks on the stage smoking his professional cigar, all through his warbling and directing of his orchestra, right down to the walk-off and hand obbligato from the customers. If all jazz orchestra entertainments were like Santrey's, we wouldn't rehearse the hay act so often when they are on. Most orchestras buzz you to sleep. Santrey's burlesque descriptive song is probably the best thing of its kind on the stage.

A harpist in Santrey's act could give music lessons to the angels, but we hope that he won't very soon. His violinist, too, saws a sweet fiddle.

Anna Seymour, whom Santrey proudly announces as his wife, is not only piquant and pretty, but is also a face-card entertainer, with song, patter and dancing. She appears first with her brother, Harry Seymour, who trips a guilty gaiter, and afterward in another act with her husband. Her kidding is the best thing she does, the jokes she springs being so old that maybe she, being young, thinks they are new. Somebody should put her wise.

How they make us old ones suffer!

New faces among us are Ed and B. Conrad with Charlotte. B. Conrad is a singing girl with a nice voice, and Charlotte is a comic blimp, who coonshouts. The man is an original comic and very funny, and the whole trio is a great hit.

Jack Wilson comes along and knocks them cold with a new bunch of wise cracks in addition to a burlesque female impersonating act. His buddies are Charles Forsythe, tenor; Helen Byess, singer, who appears without make-up and really doesn't need it, and little Billie, the dwarf, who proves a knockout.

Alyn Mann, dancer, almost proves he is a girl by taking off his long hair wig and showing a tight shingle bob! His acrobatic dancing is a marvel.

If you are late you will miss the Five Petleys, king-pin aerialists, with a tall, thin Petley also long on comedy.

Sam Green and Mildred Myra in ice dances complete the day's doings.

Dancing Girls Head New Bill at Hillstreet

Regardless of how many other stars there may be in the act, it is to the eight English Rockets that George Choos and the Orpheum and Mr. Hillstreet owe their thanks for a fast-moving production in "The Land of Fantasy," this week's headliner at the Hillstreet Theater.

True, Stasia Ledova proves that she is a pretty, graceful, and talented dancer; W. Wania assists her adequately, and Jimmy Lyons, in his monologue, keeps the audience very much awake and laughing. But the eight young girls in the chorus are the whole show.

Seldom does the stage see a group of performers as highly trained as are these girls. In their ensemble numbers they move as one through the most intricate of steps. At all times they are well worth keeping an eye on.

Feature number two of the bill is one Ernest Hiatt, who has been seen around here so often that one should know his act by heart—but one doesn't. Springing practically the same line that has made him a favorite comedian in times past, he gets away with more laughs than any other act on the bill. But as this week's program isn't much on the comedy line that isn't the compliment it should be. But if you have seen Hiatt (and you probably have) you'll know what he can do. He's just as good as ever.

Mary Haynes has a list of songs that have not been heard here before. She sings them well, and could find plenty of excuse for giving an encore if she had a mind to.

Leon and Company close the bill with some hand-is-quicker-than-eye tricks that really mystify you, while the Clinton sisters open the program with a series of interesting dance numbers punctuated with motion-picture cartoons of themselves.

"The Lonely Road" is the screen feature of the week, with Katherine MacDonald in the featured role. Short subjects, of which an Aesop's Fable Cartoon heads the list, complete the bill.

FINE PERFORMANCE ACCORDED "ELIJAH"

A presentation of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," was given at the First Congregational Church Sunday evening under the direction of John Smallman, with Loren Robinson, baritone; Philip H. Richards, tenor; Edith Sage MacDonald, first soprano; Bessie Bradbeer, second soprano, and Esther Heeg Walker, contralto, as soloists.

Loren Robinson as Elijah created a good impression. His singing revealed a fine quality of tone and a clear enunciation. Miss Walker's singing was also pleasing, her contralto voice displaying a delightful richness. Of her solos, "O Rest in the Lord," was especially praiseworthy.

The beautiful "Hear Ye, Israel," sung by Mrs. MacDonald, was noteworthy. In this, Mrs. MacDonald attained some beautiful tonal effects, and gave the air a fine interpretation.

Mr. Richards's recitative, "Ye People, Rend Your Hearts," was expressive, as was also his rendition of "Man of God, Now Let My Words be Precious in Thy Sight."

The choir gave to the oratorio a creditable rendition.

The organ accompaniment was another notable feature of the production. This was by Dean Walter F. Skeele of the college of music, University of Southern California, and was an important factor in the success of the performance.

Prominent in Comedy Now Showing

Kathryn McGuire

Who plays opposite Buster Keaton in "Sherlock, Jr.," which is showing at Loew's this week.

Noodles Fagan Headlines New Pantages Bill

Even though it is the nth time we have seen Noodles Fagan in local appearances, we have to give him credit again for holding the headline honors at Pantages this week. He has to compete with several high-class acts, and in spite of the barriers he comes out in the lead. His veritable powers of entertaining coupled with ultra-personality and fun making. Noodles was more than royally received yesterday at the first performance.

Making a selection for second choice is a rather delicate situation inasmuch as two aggregations of men entertainers are next in line for coisderation. Gorge Kalaluhi and his hula-loha octet offer novel amusement in the form of stringed instrumentation, presenting selections from William Tell with the same ease as they do with present popular song numbers. Zest is added at the finale of the act by an interpretation of the famous hula-hula dance.

Week in and week out there is the usual acrobatic performance on the bill, sometimes interesting, skillful, or just average. The Six American Belfords, billed as the world's greatest athletic artists, this week are offering a complete act of tumbling, balancing and acrobatics given in an entirely new way. This act is one of the few seen here in many months that has received such vociferous applause.

Hickman Brothers in "Darkness and Dawn" have a burlesque skit about the difficulties of a property man who has to work the whistle for the wind scene, horn for the approaching automobile and the chimes for the cattle scene. If you like foolishness bottled and served in one act, this one will serve the purpose. The versatile steppers, as they are programmed, have assembled a number of clever dances and songs featuring contortionistic dances by Helene Martin, interpretative dances by the Dorty sisters and songs by Maurice Cole.

Baby Myrtle Kennedy, while not exactly a baby, has entertaining ability of a grown-up professional. In her song-and-dance presentations, she shows unusual talent far above the average. Louise and Mitchell are two Belgian acrobats with the usual performances, except that Louise does all the work.

"Half-a-Dollar Bill," featuring Anna Q. Nilsson, is the cinema attraction.

PROJECTIONISTS TO BE IN PLAIN VIEW

The men who handle the projection machines in theaters have come to be taken for granted—like railroad engineers, ferry-boat captains or assistant directors.

As a matter of fact, their trade has grown to be an important one, requiring technical skill and a quite definite motion-picture knowledge.

The projectionists at the new Forum Theater, at Pico and Norton, which will open in May, will be given an opportunity to exhibit themselves as well as their canned drama. The projection room is backed with a long plate glass panel. The men responsible for the unreeling of the celluloid entertainment will be in uniform and in plain view of the passers-by. An elevated promenade skirts their quarters.

D. W. Griffith's "America" is to be the opening attraction at this new theater.

FITZSIMMONS HIT AT BURBANK THIS WEEK

Bob Fitzsimmons runs away with comedy honors at the Burbank Theater this week. Not only that, he delivers a ballad in a style which brings him back for several encores.

Three comedians, Henry Sheer, Lee Bud Harrison and Bob Fitzsimmons; Ruby Darby delivering her blues number; Babs Arnold with her cute personality; Fern Emmett and William McKee, clever comedy singer, are all features of the show.

The scene where all the fun-making takes place is a union railroad depot. The production was staged under the direction of Walter Van. The Baby Dolls look particularly nice in their new summer gowns and costumes.

Singer Decries Art for Which She Is Famous

The world's greatest coloratura soprano does not like coloratura singing. Further, in her opinion, there is no excuse in the world for it. This all came out in an interview yesterday at the Ambassador Hotel, where Mme. Amelita Galli-Curci, who sings here tonight, is staying.

"No," she said. "I do not like coloratura, because the florid style which the word implies has little of the heart and soul behind it. One must have the broad and flowing cantilene style so perfectly mastered that when one does sing coloratura arias, it is with that same expression and artistic soul which the singer has whose ideal is the perfect legato. It is an embellishment, a brilliant adornment—like the frosting on a cake, but it is not the whole thing. One may work years to attain this, but it should be used only to beautify and add variety and brilliance to legato melody.

"The vocal student should practice legato singing till it is mastered before much is done with staccato. I have never practiced voice more than one-half hour a day. But that half-hour must be done with the keenest intelligence. I have practiced piano six and seven hours a day. Vocal students should become proficient piano players, so that they can sing with musical intelligence in matters regarding phrasing and the thousand other things which one can do with piano. I do not need some one to coach me on phrasing for every song which I learn, because I have studied these matters carefully.

"I regard Debussy's 'Palleas and Melesande' as the greatest modern opera, and this because Debussy wrote for the heart. Strauss I cannot tolerate. Wagner was a great instrumentalist, but his songs do not fit the voice. They are voice wreckers. The old Italian arias and Italian operas are a singer's glory, because they are written for voice.

"The writers of today are too much interested in writing thick accompaniments and melodies primarily unsingable. Of course these songs can be sung, but they do not satisfy. There is more music in 'Swanee River' or 'Home, Sweet Home' than in all Richard Strauss's 'Salome.' Clever orchestration, yes, and well-written in ways, but never does it portray the emotion which the singing voice was intended to portray. The voice is a God-given instrument and should be used to make people happier."

STUDENTS DISPLAY TALENT IN RECITAL

Ten advanced students of Dr. Alexus Kall, resident pedagogue of piano playing, were presented in recital Sunday afternoon at Philharmonic. The auditorium was well filled and the audience gave evidence of keen appreciation.

There were three or perhaps four, outstanding renditions during the afternoon. Miss Sallie Gardman opened the program with "Sinfonie," from "Partitia No. 2," by Bach, and arranged by Dr. Kall. Both the composition and the clean and clear manner in which it was performed were splendid.

The first movement of the Concerto in D Minor by Rubinstein, played by Violet Stallcup with Dr. Kall at the second piano, was outstanding.

Miss Dorothea Anderson in the allegro movement of the Grieg Concerto, displayed probably a wider gamut of expression and a more mature understanding of the music which she was playing than could be found elsewhere on the program.

Frances Mae Maddux was heard to advantage in two Chopin Etudes, the "Butterfly," Op. 25, No. 9, being especially light and even. Her "Fountain of Aqua Paolo" (Griffes) was the only modern offering of the afternoon.

Space does not permit mention of all who played; it should be stated that in every performance there was displayed in some way a type of excellent talent.

Might Be Worse

"So your daughter has become a soloist."

"Necessarily," answered the old man wearily. "Perhaps I ought to be thankful that she isn't a trio or a quartet."—[Boston Transcript.

ONE ROLE LEADS TO ANOTHER

Aileen Pringle's Work in "Three Weeks" Brings Her "His Hour" Part

As a result of her performance in "Three Weks," Aileen Pringle has been chosen, by Elinor Glyn for the leading role in "His Hour," which will be the novelist's initial offering under her recently-signed contract with Louis B. Mayer.

"His Hour" is one of the author's most widely read novels. It will be one of the first pictures to go into production under the banner of the newly amalgamated Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures Corporation and will be filmed under Mrs. Glyn's personal supervision at the concern's Culver City plant.

With a colorful European background for its action, "His Hour" will present Miss Pringle in a dramatic role ideally suited to her remarkable beauty and unusual artistic talents. As an opportunity for individual achievement, the part is considered by many as offering even greater opportunity than the internationally famous character she portrays in "Three Weeks."

In an effort to devote her personal attention to every detail in the preparations for "His Hour," Elinor Glyn is now dividing her time between the selection of the remainder of the cast and the adaptation of the book for screening purposes.

EDITING PICTURE DUAL JOB

William de Mille Crosses Continent to Get Aid of Scenarist

Editing a motion-picture production should be the united work of director and scenarist, according to the policy of William De Milje, who has taken his Paramount production of "The Bedroom Window" to New York, where it will be titled and edited by him in collaboration with Clara Beranger, author of the film play.

Mr. De Mille's home is in Hollywood where he makes most of his Paramount productions. Mrs. Beranger lives in New York. Every De Mille production means a trip across continent for either the producer-director or the writer. That the policy is successful has been proven by the results of the work of the director and writer during the last three years.

After Mr. De Mille and Mrs. Beranger have finished "The Bedroom Window," they will plan the production of Mrs. Beranger's adaptation of Frederick Lonsdale's New York stage success, "Spring Cleaning," which will be began about the first of June.

Mr. De Mille will return to Hollywood in about a month and Mrs. Beranger will travel across continent a month later.

Von Eltz in New Warner Production

Theodore Von Eltz has been engaged by Warner Brothers to play the role of Stephen O'Connell in the screen version of Grace Flandrau's novel "Being Respectable." Dorothy Farnum adapted this for the screen and Phil Rosen is directing with Monte Blue, Marie Prevost and Louise Fazenda in the leading roles.

This is Mr. Von Eltz's second picture for Warner Brothers, his other production being in support of Lenore Ulric in "Tiger Rose."

Mr. Von Eltz's first screen appearance was made under the direction of Phil Rosen, his present director, in 1921, when he played the leading male role opposite May Allison in "Extravagance."

HORSE AFTER RECORD

Rex, New Hal Roach Star, Rivals Strongheart in Popularity

A canine star of the photoplays holds the world's record for a long distance run on a continuous policy of a motion-picture theater.

Los Angeles was the scene of this achievement which was made by Strongheart, the dog star of "The Silent Call" about two years ago when he set a mark of 700 performances at the Miller Theater.

A rival in the four-footed ranks of screen luminaries has put in an appearance and bids fair to equal or eclipse that record in the opinion of the management of the above-mentioned theater.

His name is Rex and he is a magnificent specimen of horseflesh who is to be featured under the Hal Roach banner.

A year ago Hal Roach wrote a story that had a horse as its central figure, but he would not start production of it until he found the right animal to play the role. He had to be a beautiful, wild animal with almost human intelligence in order to properly play the difficult role the script called for.

After a search of many months Roach found Rex, a king of horses. This creature, up to a few weeks before he came to the notice of the film producer, had been a leader of a band of wild horses in the mountainous country of Colorado. He showed that he had the intelligence, the beauty, and the courage that Roach was looking for and soon became camera broke and in a short time seemed to realize what was demanded of him and played his part to perfection.

The photoplay is called "The King of Wild Horses" and is scheduled for an early showing at the Miller Theater.

You can't enjoy life if you are being poisoned

NOTHING counts unless you are well. To have good health you must throw off wastes and poisons. Everyone knows that.

That is why people universally dread the evil effects of constipation. This insidious condition is at the root of 75 per cent of all disease. You must have a poison-free system to have a clear head and vigorous body. Physics and cathartics often make matters worse. They force the colon into abnormal action by irritant drugs.

Why physicians prescribe mineral oil and Agar-Agar

FOR a number of years, physicians have prescribed two harmless and drugless substances, Mineral Oil and Agar-Agar (Japanese Sea Moss), to correct constipation and to aid nature. Neither mineral oil nor Agar-Agar contains drugs which are absorbed by the system. They are purely mechanical in their action.

A combination of Agar-Agar and Mineral Oil has recently been effected, under the name Agrilin, which contains the good properties of both of these substances. It is, therefore, the ideal mechanical corrective for faulty or sluggish intestinal action.

Agrilin combines the two methods which your doctor will tell you are harmless as well as most effective: Lubrication—the mineral oil softens and lubricates the waste matter, Exercise of the intestinal muscles—the Agar-Agar supplies needed bulk which encourages these muscles to act normally and force the food waste along. The Agar-Agar in Agrilin also corrects the tendency of mineral oil to leakage when used alone.

Secure a bottle today, and you will soon know for yourself the splendid results that Agrilin can produce without drugging the system.

LOWE SEES OUTLOOK ON COAST GOOD

Greatest Possibility Here in Opinion of Manager of Paraffine Companies

The business outlook on the Pacific Coast is good and there is a steady improvement, according to W. H. Lowe, general manager of the paint, roofing and floor covering division of the Paraffine Companies, Inc., who is making a business survey of the various branches of the organization and is now in this city.

The organization has a plant and general offices here at 903 North Main street. Five plants are maintained on the West Coast. Mr. Lowe said Los Angeles has the greatest business possibilities of any Coast city. His concern, he said, is spending nearly $1,000,000 annually for extension, of which Los Angeles receives it pro rata. Mr. Lowe is stopping at the Biltmore.

Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan

ANOTHER UNIVERSE REVEALED TO SCIENCE

STAR WHOSE LIGHT TOOK 1,000,000 YEARS TO REACH THE EARTH

Far out in space, practically beyond the reach of the unaided imagination, that is what appears in astronomical telescopes as a small patch of faint light. One million years ago that light, which the astronomer now sees or records on his photographic plate, was beginning a journey at the speed of 186,000 miles a second, bound for the earth. It was leaving what is now known to be a new universe, separate and distant from our own and farther out in space. This new universe, invisible to the naked eye, is the most distant object that man has ever seen and recognized. The late Dr. E. E. Barnard of Yerkes Observatory discovered it more than forty years ago with only a six-inch telescope. But he did not discover what it was, and now astronomers, using the highest-powered telescopes and the latest mathematical methods, have just determined the claim to fame possessed by the celestial object known to them only by its catalogue number, N.G.C. 6822.

Our earth is but a microscopic bit of matter in the great sea of space. It takes light, the speediest traveler in the universe, only eight minutes to go from the earth to the sun. Eight hours is the time required for light to cross the whole of our solar system. Compare this with the time that it takes light to cross the whole of our universe, 350,000 years. Then imagine the immense distance that lies between us and the new universe. The Milky Way that stretches across the sky is a part of our own universe of stars, of our "galactic system." Beyond this great universe of which we are a part astronomers now realize that there are other "island universes." N.G.C. 6822 is the most distant of such outside stellar systems. Photographs taken by Dr. Edward Hubble at the Mt. Wilson Observatory and others taken at the Cordoba Observatory in the Argentine made possible the identification of the most distant clouds of stars as a universe like our own.

Prof. Harlow Shapley of the Harvard Observatory determined the immense distance of N.G.C. 6822 from this earth by several methods, all of which justify the estimate of the distance from our earth of N.G.C. 6822 as of the order of 1,000,000 light years. And light travels 6,000,000,000,000,000,000 miles in 1,000,000 years!

The small patch of light which represents N.G.C. 6822 in telescopes of moderate power is located in the constellation of Sagittarius, the one next to the east of Scorpio, which contains the great red star, Antares. Although it is only through the most powerful of telescopes, such as the 100-inch telescope at Mt. Wilson, that astronomers can distinguish separate stars in the new universe, it doubtless contains many hundreds of thousands of stars, many of them giants far larger and more brilliant than our own sun. And it is possible that inhabited planets like our own encircle some of these brilliant suns. But even the meager information about the new universe that astronomers have obtained can hardly be called the last obtainable, although it is the latest that can be had. The light they see left N.G.C. 6822 1,000,000 years ago, at a time when the human race did not exist and dinosaurs roamed the earth.—[Watson Davis, in Current History Magazine.

RUM CRAFT MAY CHASE RUM CRAFT

Seized Speedboat Seen as Possible Police Carrier; New Charge in Raid

Charges of violating the Volstead Act were placed against George Garvin and John Ralph yesterday at Los Angeles Harbor in connection with the spectacular seizure of a speedboat and a $50,000 cargo of liquor Sunday night at Mormon Island.

These charges are in addition to the Wright Act charge and were filed in order that the craft, the speedboat 666, may be confiscated for possible use by the harbor police in fighting the rum runners. Harbor police are said to be badly handicapped on account of not having a fast boat to chase the liquor smugglers.

The pair were released on $1000 bail and will be arraigned today before United State Commissioner Long on the Federal charge.

Tribute to College Girl

Dr. Katherine Bement Davis, who has had long official connection with the penal institutions of New York City, says that in her twenty-five years' experience with penology she has never known a college girl graduate serving time for criminal offense in a penal institution.

FICTITIOUS MARVELS

There recently appeared in Vancouver, B. C., a man who was credited with performing marvelous cures. Thousands attended his meetings, and tremendous stories went about as to his powers. Finally twelve honest and capable men investigated him, and discovered that not a single marvelous thing could be credited to him; that the thousands who told wonderful tales were indulging in plain falsehood. This is also the history of every other marvelous thing. — [E. W. Howe's Monthly.

ONE'S LOSS—ANOTHER'S GAIN
I built a duplex consisting of 12 beautiful rooms, tile baths, separate tile showers. In fact, everything of the very latest type and construction. One side rented for $100 per mo. The other side occupied by myself.

My interest in Pittsburgh, Pa., suffered loss that "almost knocked me cold," and I must be there before June 1st.

The building with 2 garages cost me $10,800 to build, and the lot is worth $5000. Located in the North Wilshire dist., west of Western ave., 1½ blks. north of Beverly Blvd.

Give me $7800 cash, assume the mtgs. of $8000, and the place is yours. Remember that don't even include my own labor and time during the course of construction.

PLANTED
FIG GARDENS
NO PAYMENTS DOWN
J. C. Forkner, president of the J. C. Forkner Fig Gardens, Inc., hereby offers to 100 families a most remarkable proposition.
I have planted and sold 10,000 acres of fig gardens; I have spent $6,000,000 during the last ten years in development, there are 100 happy families living on these home acres now. I want 100 more families.
I have decided to sell 1000 acres of planted fig gardens, just coming into bearing, on the following conditions:
You may move upon 5 or 10 acres, adjoining the city of Fresno, and build a home and farm the land; will give you ten years in which to pay.
THE CROPS WILL PAY FOR THE LAND
Roads, ditches, highways, electric lines are built; townsites on land being developed; best water right in State; canning factory already built, church, schools and $5,000,000 lumber mill, employing 1000 men, on tract; only 15 minutes from center of Fresno.
I live on the land and have developed these fig gardens myself; any man who joins me cannot fail, for I will help him to success.
For details, see my personal representative, or, if you cannot personally call, write to address below, telling frankly what your circumstances are and what you plan to do.
A 5-minute interview with my personal representative will relieve you of any doubt as to the sincerity of this proposition.

MORTGAGES— Trust Deeds

7% SAFE BETTER
THAN 12% RISK.
We have assigned to the Union Bank & Trust Co. of Los Angeles first mortgages and trust deeds as security for the payment of notes we issue.
The mortgages and trust deeds assigned as security are first liens, not exceeding 50% of a conservative valuation, on homes occupied by owners or city income property. It is an absolute fact that safety for the note holder is the first consideration.
If your money is drawing 4% and you lose the interest by drawing before an interest period, is it not better to have it drawing 7% and in case it is wanted at any time get full amount of interest?
If you have money out on mortgage and desire cash, it is necessary to discount it. Our note will be cashed in any month of three years, with interest in full. The notes are issued in amounts of $100 or more.

SWEARS TO FIND POISON SENDER

Engineer Pledges Aid to Fowler Girl

Doped Candy Was Mailed from Oakland

Drug Clerk Freed After Grilling by Police

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

FRESNO, April 28.—Declaring that he would devote the rest of his life if necessary to finding the person who sent a poisoned box of candy to Othell Sloan, 19-year-old Fowler girl, James Whiteley, junior engineer on a steamship and friend of the girl, pledged his aid to her here today.

In the presence of newspaper men he told her that he would work incessantly in an attempt to find who sent the package and also urged the girl to marry him and go to Seattle.

Whiteley was to hold a conference this afternoon with Dist.-Atty. George R. Lovejoy and pledge his aid in the search. He told newspaper men that he formerly was a member of the Northwest Mounted Police and felt qualified to act as investigator in the case.

While predicting developments at any hour, Dist.-Atty. Lovejoy said that the investigators were temporarily baffled in their search to discover who sent the box.

The investigation was proceeding in Oakland and Fresno today after Lovejoy's return from the Bay City, where he questioned Gonzales (Ted) Blanco, drug store clerk, who was accused by the girl of being the person who sent her the candy because of a note signed "Ted," inclosed. Blanco was freed after questioning.

Handwriting on the mystery package that was believed to have been mailed in Oakland was the chief point in the inquiry today. According to County Detective G. B. Campbell the note signed "Ted" and saying, "do you remember me? If so, write," was on a piece of cardboard wrapped around the box of chocolates and apparently the handwriting was disguised. Part of the note was written and part printed, he said. The address on the outside of the package was also written by some one attempting to disguise his handwriting, Campbell said he believed.

An examination of the candy box showed, according to Lovejoy, that it had been prepared for shipment not in its original package, but in a home-made box. The silk covering had been clumsily glued to the inner surface, he said.

RADIO SEAL NEWS; PLANES HUNT HERDS

The annual Newfoundland sealing expedition, which has been modernized to the extent of using airplanes to locate the herds and the wireless to report results to the folks at home, is now sending news back to St. Johns, from which it started, and to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, which also furnished their quota. The wireless flashes from the ten vessels engaging in the hunt indicate that the catch this year will be the best for many seasons past.

Observing a custom that has prevailed for nearly 200 years, the expedition set out in March after an elaborate ceremonial. The sealers report that the ice floes are dotted with "white coats" as far as they can be seen, which substantiates accounts during the winter months that the seal herds off the Newfoundland and Labrador coast are on the increase.

The sealing industry is one of the most ancient of the economic activities of the Crown Colony of Newfoundland. The first expedition to the Banks took place in 1763. The industry was on such a small scale at the beginning that the annual catch did not exceed 4000 skins. As the demand for oil and skins increased the industry grew, and occupied the exclusive time of many more men and vessels. The yearly catch exceeded 60,000 skins at the beginning of the nineteenth century.

Because of the indiscriminate killing of the seals, the Newfoundland catch has fallen off somewhat in late years. The industry is now being built up intelligently, under the conservative supervision of the Newfoundland government. A single vessel has been known to bring into St. John's a catch of 42,000 skins, and in one season the entire Newfoundland fleet took in about 700,000. As recently as 1908 the catch numbered 213,863 seals, and the following year it was 269,320. Both in 1922 and 1923 the sealers captured only about 127,000. The reports this year indicate that the number will be larger.

In line with the modernization of the Newfoundland sealing industry, the vessels engaged in the chase have become larger year by year, until the sailing vessels of the past have been almost entirely superseded by fast steamers, which facilitate the hunt and render it less arduous and hazardous. In the past year or so the expedition has included a few sailing vessels, but steamships have been accounting for about five-sixth of the catch. The dangers attendant upon the annual trip to the ice floes have not been entirely eliminated, and the sealers still return to their home port with depleted crews.

The introduction of the airplane into sealing is the latest innovation. Seal herds were once located by men stationed in the rigging of the ships, who had a limited range of vision. The plane, with a range of fifty miles, now does the "spotting" for the fleet. It further proves its value when, at the end of the season, it locates the bundles of skins left on the ice breaks as the hunters proceeded northward.—[New York Times.

Salary Divided

The old lady had just paid her taxes and was in anything but a happy mood when she entered the car on her way home. When the conductor came for her fare she looked rather sourly at him.

"How much do you get a week, young man?" she asked him. The conductor told her.

"No wonder the taxes are so high," she snapped, "when they pay you all that money for just running up those steps."

"They don't, mum," retorted the conductor; "we get half of it for running down."—[Exchange.

ENEMIES OF THE BEE

Birds and Insects That Rob Hives and Kill Honey Makers

Bees, like all other living things, animal and vegetable, have formidable enemies. To most of their enemies the bees' storehouse is the attraction. A few only prey upon the bees themselves. Among birds the great tit and the blue tit will feed on bees in the winter when other food is scarce. This they manage by tapping on the alighting board of the hive with their beaks. A bee coming out to see what is happening is promptly pounced on by the tit as a tidbit or dainty morsel. On a summer evening toads will sometimes climb on a low alighting board and greedily gorge upon the fanning sentinels at the entrance. If the board is kept well off the ground the toad is forced to seek elsewhere when he would dine.

Mice find the quilts above the brood nest an ideal spot for wintering and rearing a little family. In the course of a week or two they will do such damage to the store combs by nibbling at the top that the combs fall and the clusters of bees with them, to be drowned or suffocated in the sticky mass. Wasps are at times very fierce foes. Their objective is the honey store. They will usually select a weak stock of bees or a stock housed in an ill-fitting hive where one or more "back doors" are left unguarded.

The wax moth often proves a most insidious enemy to a neglected stock of bees. She will obtain access through the smallest crevice and lay her eggs among the refuse of the hive. The larvae thrive upon such debris and, growing larger and stronger every hour, soon look around for pastures new. These they find in the combs, where they eat through a series of tunnels. The combs become undermined and the whole internal economy of the hive is thus upset, to the speedy ruin of the stock.

Apart from the bacilli of bee diseases, which will hardly come under the scope of this article, we may consider the parasites of bees as enemies. The Braula coeca, or blind louse, is sometimes found clinging to the bodies of bees and queen, especially when the bees have lately occupied a [illegible]. They appear to be bred only in dirty conditions and soon disappear if the floor board be cleaned. A few puffs of tobacco smoke will dislodge them from the bee. When the queen is troubled with these lice she is unable to move freely and her egg laying is impeded.

Spiders will readily feed on bees. They would not, in any case, be tolerated in the vicinity of hives by a careful apiarist. Earwigs, too, spell dirt whenever they are found among the hive coverings and quilts. Ants are often an annoyance by their petty pilferings from the bees' cupboards.

Other bees, turned robbers when the honey flow has ceased, usually prove the most deadly of all enemies if their tactics are not frustrated. Other foes may come and appear, but robber bees are never very far away from the best populated apiary.—[London Field.

A PAIR OF BIG BIRDS

It is a pretty well settled fact that there once lived in the Rocky Mountains a giant parrot, with massive beak and a raucous voice which might have resounded like a megaphone for miles through the ancient marshes of prehistoric America. The bird stood [illegible] feet tall, and its huge head was two and a half feet long. Of this bird there is no question, one nearly complete skeleton exists, and fragments of others, including [illegible] have been dug up. Perhaps [illegible] 000 years have elapsed since this mighty fowl trod the earth. Although so mighty, the giant parrot was neither so big nor so formidable as another great bird whose remains have recently been dug up in Patagonia. The latter was a cursorial (running) bird of prey. It was by far the biggest bird of prey that ever lived, and probably attacked with success large animals. This remarkable bird, says one authority, had a head bigger than that of a horse, with a huge beak as sharp as a pick. It stood eight feet high on its sharp-clawed feet. Its neck was as thick as a horse's neck, and its legs were massive. Like the giant parrot, it had wings too small to be of any use for flight.

RUBBER SHIPPED LIKE OIL

New methods in rubber manufacture and the employment of rubber for many unusual uses are predicted as a result of the recent introduction on the market of rubber latex, the milk-like sap of the rubber tree. The product is not new in the strict sense of the word, for it is the source of rubber as we have known it for many years. But never before has the latex been shipped. Whether gathered in a Ceylon plantation or in the jungles of South America, it has always been changed into crude rubber before shipment by smoking over a fire of palm leaves or by means of chemicals.

Now though, the latex can be carried into the United States or elsewhere in tank steamships, as oil is, and transported to manufacturers in tank cars or drums. Thus, if they wish, manufacturers can utilize the latex in its original state in the manufacture of standard rubber articles without changing it into crude rubber. More important is the fact that rubber now can be employed in the manufacture of articles for which it has never been used.—[Popular Science.
